(c)—Rule for regulating the gratuitous vaccination of such females as are, by the custom of the country, unable to attend at the public vaccine stations and are too poor to pay fees for house vaccination.

If the head vaccinator, or where there is no head vaccinator the vaccinator, considers that any female who, from the custom of the country, is unable to attend at the public vaccine depôt, is too poor to pay the fee for house vaccination, he shall report the matter to the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil or Military Medical Officer, or in Municipalities elsewhere than at the head-quarters of the district to the Chairman or Vice-Chairman or Ward Commissioners, and the latter may, if he considers necessary, remit the whole or any portion of the fee.

(f)—Rules for the guidance of public vaccinators and others in all matters connected with the working of the Act.

A.—Instructions for the guidance of public vaccinators under the provisions of Act V. (B.C.) of 1880 :—

Periods within which vaccination of unprotected children should be procured.

1. According to the provisions of this Act, the parent or guardian of every child born in any place in which the Act is in force shall, within one year after the birth of such child; and the parent or guardian of every unprotected child under the age of 14 years brought to reside, whether temporarily or permanently, in any such place, within six months after such child's arrival at such place, or if the child be at the time of its arrival less than one year old, within one year and three months after its birth, and the parent or guardian of every unprotected child living in any such place at the date of this Act coming into force, and whose age at such date exceeds one year, but does not exceed fourteen years, shall, within six months from the said date, take it, or cause it to be taken, to a public vaccine station to be vaccinated, or shall, within such time as foresaid, cause it to be vaccinated by some public vaccinator. Provided that the Superintendent of Vaccination for the time being may, whenever he thinks expedient, serve the parent or guardian of such unprotected child with a notice in the form prescribed in the first schedule of Act II (B C.) of 1887, requiring the parent or guardian, within fifteen days after the service of the same, to take such child or cause such child to be taken to a public vaccine station to be vaccinated, or within such period as aforesaid to cause it to be vaccinated by some medical practitioner or public vaccinator, and every such parent or guardian shall, within the said period, comply with the requisition.

Action to be taken by public vaccinators when they find unprotected children who ought to have been vaccinated according to the provisions of the Vaccination Act.

2. Whenever a public vaccinator finds that a child, who ought to have been vaccinated according to the above provisions, remains unprotected, he shall ask the parent or guardian of such child to have it forthwith vaccinated, and explain to him the liabilities he will incur if he declines to do so; and if the parent or guardian of such unprotected child does not comply with the vaccinator's requisition, the latter shall at once bring the matter to the notice of the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil or Military Medical Officer of the district or cantonment, or other officers in charge of vaccination, or any other person whom the Superintendent of Vaccination may authorize for the purpose, in order that legal proceedings may be taken against the parent or guardian of such unprotected child.

Vaccinators must be very careful to supply Civil Surgeon, &c., with correct information.

3. Public vaccinators must be very careful to supply correct information; for if they fail to prove their statements before the Court, they will be liable to pay any damages which the Magistrate may order for the unnecessary trouble of the person whom they have caused to be prosecuted.

4. Whenever a public vaccinator finds that a person whose age exceeds 14 years is still unprotected, he shall ask such unprotected person to get himself forthwith vaccinated; and in the event of the latter declining to do so, the public vaccinator shall bring the circumstance to notice in order that the said unprotected person may be served with a notice in form of Schedule (D) annexed to the Act, requiring him, within fifteen days after the service of the same, to submit himself to a public vaccinator to be vaccinated.

Action to be taken by vaccinators with reference to unprotected persons.

5. Vaccinators should endeavour to ascertain—

(a) Whether children born in any place in which the Act is in force have had their births registered at the police station of the section, and been served with notices. Information ought at once to be given to the Registrar in cases in which this duty has been neglected.

(b) Whether any child under 14 years of age, not protected by vaccination, inoculation, or small-pox, has been brought to reside in any place in which the Act is in force. In such case also information ought to be given at the police station in order that a notice may be served.

6. When, in order to facilitate the vaccination of unprotected persons, public vaccine stations have been opened in the different parts of any municipality or other place in which the Act is in force, and the days and hours of public vaccinators' attendance at these public vaccine stations have been fixed and published as required by section 14, the public vaccinators attached to each of the vaccine stations must attend at them on the specified days and within the specified hours, and vaccinate all unprotected persons free of all charges.

Public vaccine stations opened at different places to facilitate vaccination of all unprotected persons.

Vaccinators are bound to vaccinate all unprotected persons that resort to public vaccine stations free of all charges.

7. The name, age, caste, &c., of all persons vaccinated at public vaccine stations shall be carefully entered in the vaccine register provided for the purpose.

Vaccinators to enter name in the vaccine register.

8. Vaccinator shall instruct the parent or guardian of every vaccinated child to bring it back to the station at an appointed hour on the same day in the following week after the operation or earlier, if necessary, that they or any other person deputed for that purpose by the Superintendent of Vaccination may see whether all the points of the vaccination have taken. If there be a failure of one or more points vaccination should be repeated at those points, and this fact of re-vaccination should be entered in the remark column of the vaccine registers. The vaccinators shall again direct the parent or guardian to bring the child once more on the seventh or eighth day, that they may ascertain and enter in the register the final result of the operation. It shall also be the duty of any public vaccinator, who has vaccinated a child elsewhere than at a public vaccine station, to visit the child at the time and for the purpose above mentioned, whether he is requested to do so or not, unless the Superintendent of Vaccination has deputed some other person to act for such public vaccinator in this behalf.

Inspection of vaccinated children.

9. If the operation proves successful, the vaccinators must deliver to the parent or guardian a certificate to that effect in the form of schedule (C), with the serial number of the case in the vaccine register, inserted for easy reference and comparison at the time of subsequent inspection by Superintendent or his Deputy. If it proves unsuccessful, the vaccinators must forthwith again vaccinate the child, and issue instructions for its inspection as before.

Vaccinators to grant certificate of successful vaccination.

When unsuccessful, vaccination to be repeated.

10. If a vaccinator finds that a child whom he has three times unsuccessfully vaccinated is insusceptible of successful vaccination, he should deliver to the parent or guardian of such child a certificate in the form of Schedule (B).

Vaccinators to grant certificate of insusceptible vaccination.

11. If a vaccinator shall be of opinion that a child is not in a fit state to be vaccinated, he shall forthwith deliver to the parent or guardian of such child a certificate in the form of Schedule (A.)

Certificate of postponed vaccination to be given by vaccinators.

12. This certificate shall remain in force for three months, but shall be renewable for successive periods of three months until the vaccinator shall deem the child to be in a fit state for vaccination, when the child shall, with all reasonable despatch, be vaccinated, and a certificate of successful vaccination given in the form of Schedule (C), if warranted by the result.

13. A public vaccinator shall on no account charge any person for granting certificates of successful vaccination, of postponed vaccination, or of insusceptibility to vaccination, whether the same be granted at a public vaccine station or elsewhere.

No fee to be charged for granting certificate.

14. Every public vaccinator, who gives to any parent or guardian a certificate in any of the forms of Schedules (A), (B), and (C) shall, within 21 days after giving the same, transmit a duplicate thereof to the Registrar of Births of the police section of the municipality where the birth of the child on whose account such certificate was given has been registered, or in which the child, if its birth has not been registered, resides.

Duplicates of certificates to be sent to to Registrar within 21 days.

15. When a public vaccinator attends at the request of the parent or guardian elsewhere than at a public vaccine station for the purpose of vaccinating a child, he shall charge a fee of four annas for every such vaccination. He is to inspect the child on the fifth and seventh or eighth day, and grant certificates as in cases of vaccination in the stations. No fee is to be charged for inspection and for granting certificates.

Vaccination at private houses.

Fee to be charged.

16. Public vaccinators are to grant printed receipts for amounts paid to them as fees. These amounts are to be deposited at the office of the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil or Military Medical Officer, or other officer in charge of vaccination, or any other person authorized for the purpose by the Superintendent of Vaccination every Saturday, or oftener if that officer so orders. The vaccinators are warned not to misappropriate any portion of the fees to themselves, for if they do so they are liable not only to be dismissed from the department, but also to be criminally prosecuted.

Receipts for fees to be given to the parent or guardian, and the amount collected should be deposited at the office of the Civil Surgeon, &c., every week.

Punishment for misappropriation of fees.

17. To ensure successful vaccination, the following cardinal points are to be remembered by every vaccinator—viz. good virus, a clean lancet, and the healthy constitution of the person to be vaccinated. Vaccinators should use none but the best virus; they should remember that vaccination with bad virus is worse than no vaccination; for it not only does not protect the person from attack of small-pox, but brings discredit on both the vaccinator and vaccination. The vaccinators should not only use good virus, but take it from those persons only who are free from constitutional diseases, especially syphilis. Lymph should never be taken from a child who has an eruption on his skin, lumps about the anus or genital organs, bad teeth, or a sore throat or cold. In fact, none but perfectly healthy children should be used as subjects for conveyance of lymph. A clean lancet should invariably be used; when a foul lancet is used, it produces an amount of irritation in the vesicles which renders success doubtful. The lancet should be wiped with a wet rag after each operation. In ordinary times persons in good health are only to be vaccinated, but in times of epidemic every unprotected person, whether in sound health or otherwise, should be vaccinated. There is no fear in vaccinating pregnant women.

Selection of lymph.

Good virus should always be used.

Healthy persons are only to be vaccinated in ordinary times.

Exception in times of epidemic.

18. In cases of good and successful vaccination, the following phenomena are observed in the places where the virus is inserted:—No change takes place until the third day, when the points of insertion of the virus appear like red spots or mosquito bites. On the fourth day these spots look like little pimples. On the fifth and sixth days the pimples enlarge into vesicles and contain clear lymph. On the seventh day the vesicles are fully developed. On the eighth day areolæ form around the vesicles. There is sympathetic fever from this day. On the ninth day the contents of the vesicles become perfectly yellow, and the surrounding inflammation becomes more intense. After the tenth day a crust gradually forms, brownish-black in colour and of considerable thickness, and should fall off from the 18th to the 20th day, or two days earlier in the hot season. It should leave a well-depressed cicatrix, with marked edges and floor lined and pitted.

19. Lymph should be taken on the sixth and seventh days in the winter season, and on the fifth and sixth days in the hot and rainy seasons.

The period at which the lymph is to be taken.

20. In taking lymph the vesicles are to be punctured from the top, and not from the side. If the vesicles be punctured at the side, the inner septa of the vesicles would prevent the flowing of the lymph into the seat of puncture. The upper surface should not be scraped off. It should only be punctured, and if the lancet be placed flatly an abundance of lymph will flow on it.

Manner of taking the lymph.

The lymph thus taken on the point of the lancet is to be inserted in at least four different places, two on each arm, one above and the other below the insertion of the deltoied muscles, from an inch to an inch and a half apart from each other. The virus is to be inserted below the scurf or upper skin, but not deep enough to draw blood. Three such punctures are to be made in each place thus.

Manner of inserting the lymph.

21. The vaccinators must be kind and courteous towards the people that come to the public vaccine stations to have their children vaccinated. The people from their ignorance of the vaccine disease will ask many useless and tedious questions of the vaccinators, but the latter should not get annoyed at this. They should particularly explain everything which the parent or guardian of vaccinated children may want to know. While vaccinating at private houses, they should be equally kind and courteous in their manners, and although the law does not prohibit their taking any reward or present from persons able and willing to pay, they should make no demands.

B.—Instructions to Registrar—

1. The Bengal Vaccination Act, 1880 (Act V of 1880), requires of Registrars of Births the following duties connected with compulsory vaccination, in addition to those duties relating to the registration of births and deaths which the law imposes upon them:—

2. On the registration of the birth of a child, the Registrar shall deliver to the person giving information of such birth a printed notice in the form of Schedule E appended to the Act.

Section 18.

3. The Act further requires the parents and guardians of children under 14 years of age not born, but brought to reside, whether temporarily or permanently, in any place in which the Act is in force, to have them vaccinated within six months of arrival, or if at the time of arrival they are below one year of age, within 15 months of birth. On such cases coming to the knowledge of Registrars, a notice should be served in Schedule E, altered according to circumstances. Such cases should be included in the register of vaccination, column 4 being left blank.

4. These notices will be issued to Registrars in the form of a book, each notice having a counterfoil which will, when filled in, constitute the minutes of the notices required by section 20 of the Act.

5. Vaccinators are directed by the Act, when a person or child is successfully vaccinated, to transmit to the Registrar a duplicate copy of the certificate (Schedule C), the original of which has been handed to the parent, or guardian, or person. Similarly, when the vaccinator considers it advisable to postpone vaccination on account of ill-health or unfitness from any other cause, a certificate to that effect (Schedule A) is given to the parent, or guardian, or person, and a duplicate thereof sent to the Registrar; and when a person or child is found insusceptible of vaccination, a certificate (Schedule B) is given, and a duplicate sent to the Registrar. These duplicate certificates (Schedules A, B, and C) of postponed, unsuccessful, and successful vaccination should be filed in separate bundles, and the information conveyed by them entered in the proper columns of the registers.

6. A register of vaccination shall be kept in the following form, of which columns 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 will be filled up on issue of the notice (Schedule E), and the remaining columns on receipt of the duplicate certificate mentioned in the last paragraph :— Section 21.

Register of vaccination for

Serial No.	Name of child.	Date of birth.	No. of entry in register of birth.	Date of notice—Schedule E.	Date of certificate of successful vaccination—Schedule C.	Date of certificate of insusceptibility—Schedule B.	Signature of Registrar.

7. An additional column will be in future added to the ordinary "Register of Births" in which an entry will be made referring to the "Number in the Vaccination Register." Thus these two registers—the "Register of Births" and the "Vaccination Register"—will contain references to each other, and no difficulty can be experienced in ascertaining whether a certificate has been received regarding the vaccination of any child whose birth has been registered.

8. When a certificate has been received of the postponement of vaccination (Schedule A), an entry should be made in the special "Register of postponed vaccination" (Schedule F) prescribed by the Act. Care should be taken that a child, regarding whom a certificate of this kind is received, is eventually vaccinated, and unless a renewed certificate of postponement has been received, an entry should be made of the name in the return mentioned in the next paragraph. Section 22.

9. As soon after the first of every month as possible, a return will be forwarded to the Civil Surgeon or other principal Civil or Military Medical Officer, or other officer in charge of vaccination in the following form, showing the cases in which notice has been given or certificate of postponement has been received, and the period mentioned in the notice or certificate of postponement has expired without receipt of a certificate of successful vaccination or insusceptibility (Schedule B or C). A case once returned in this form need not be entered again, except in the instance of a fresh postponement :—

Return of cases in which notice of vaccination has been served, but certificate has not been received for the month of

Name of child.	Name of parent or guardian.	Residence.	Date of issue of notice.

10. It is obviously desirable, for the purpose of ensuring that every child born in any place in which the Act is in force shall be vaccinated, that every endeavour should be made to render the registration of births as perfect as possible. Every endeavour should therefore be made to ascertain and cause the registration of every birth occurring in any place in which the Act is in force.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

FINANCE.

Darjeeling, the 28th September 1889.

RESOLUTION.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has already in separate Resolutions passed orders upon the estimates under the various heads of Provincial services for the year 1889-90. The civil estimate of the Government of India and the Accountant-General's memorandum on the accounts of 1887-88 have been received; and though the final report of the Accountant-General on the accounts for 1888-89 has not yet been submitted, there are sufficient materials for framing an approximate estimate of the actual receipts and expenditure of that year, and the general review of the financial position of the province need not be postponed.

PART I.—ACCOUNTS OF 1887-88.

2. The year 1887-88 was the first year of the quinquennial period for which a new contract has been made with the Government of India. As the shares of the Provincial and Imperial Governments in the principal heads of Land Revenue, Stamps and Excise have been redistributed in this contract, and additional services transferred to Provincial management, it will be of no advantage to compare the actuals of 1887-88 with those of the year preceding it, but it will be convenient to give here a brief summary of the financial results of the year as compared with the assignments made in the contract.

3. The following table shows the actual Provincial Receipts and Expenditure as compared with the contract assignment :—

RECEIPTS.

4. The total land revenue collections of the year 1887-88 amounted to Rs. 3,80,01,091, against Rs. 3,82,50,000, the estimate on which the assignment in the contract was based. Of these collections, Rs. 3,83,896 represent the 10 per cent. on collections from Government estates, which is wholly Provincial, and the balance, Rs. 3,76,17,195, is the divisible revenue, of which one-fourth, or Rs. 94,04,299, was allotted to the Provincial Government. The Government of India made a further assignment of Rs. 3,10,000 for expenditure on the Orissa Coast Canal, and of Rs. 41,000 for the police charges of the Eastern Bengal State Railway. A further sum of Rs. 6,549 was added on account of two additional Appraisers for the Custom House, and a grant of Rs. 1,000 was made for the conservation of ancient monuments. A net credit for Rs. 85,430 was afforded for inter-provincial adjustment, and a sum of Rs. 5,836 was refunded to Provincial on account of unauthorized credit to Imperial in 1885-86 for copying fees realized in court-fee stamps. The total Provincial share thus amounted to Rs. 1,02,38,010, from which was deducted Rs. 6,90,000 as the surplus of normal revenue over normal expenditure under the terms of. the contract.

5. The Provincial receipts under Salt amounted to Rs. 78,208, against the assignment of Rs. 1,00,000. The decrease was due to the diminished importation of Kurkutch salt. There was an increase of Rs. 2,75,028 in the Provincial share of Stamps, and of Rs. 2,34,436 in Excise. The increase of Rs. 3,16,538 under Provincial rates is nominal and due to a change of system in the accounts. The increase in the Provincial share of Assessed taxes was Rs. 85,971. The decrease under Forests was chiefly due to the falling off in the supply of sleepers to railways. There was a decrease of Rs. 1,35,721 under receipts from Jail manufactures, accompanied by a decrease of Rs. 1,96,910 in expenditure. The decrease of Rs. 3,91,651 under Police was due to the transfer of pound receipts to the District Boards constituted under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act. The increase under Marine was due to the adjustment of the Chittagong pilotage receipts under this head and to greater activity in trade. There was an increase of Rs. 1,69,653 under Education, of which about Rs. 1,30,000 represent refunds of charges paid by Government on behalf of District Boards in 1886-87. The increase under Scientific and other minor departments was due to the adoption of an improved method of extracting the alkaloids from cinchona bark. There was an increase of Rs. 12,54,485 under Railways, due mainly to the traffic in jute. There was a decrease of Rs. 2,26,771 under 'Irrigation Major works,' almost entirely in the Sone Canals. The decrease under Civil works was due to the transfer of ferry receipts to the District Boards.

EXPENDITURE.

6. There was a small increase of Rs. 20,565 under Assignments and Compensations, due to the payment of arrears of Malikana. The increase under Excise was owing to the revision of excise establishments, and the adjustment under this head of the salaries and travelling allowances of the Assessor-Inspectors of Excise and Income-tax. From this cause there is a corresponding decrease under Assessed Taxes. The new charge shown under Provincial rates represents the cost of collecting the cesses in the districts to which the Local Self-Government Act has been extended. The decrease under Forest is due to the curtailment of timber operations in the Buxa sub-division and to the absence of many gazetted officers on leave. The decrease under Jails is chiefly under supplies of jail manufactures. The increase under Marine is chiefly due to the adjustment of the pilotage charges of the Port of Chittagong. The large decrease under Education is due to the transfer of a considerable portion of the charges to the District Boards, and is only nominal as the expenditure was made up to the Boards by corresponding grants from Government. The decrease under Working expenses of State railways is due to the grouping of all Eastern railways under one system of management. The charges under Miscellaneous railway expenditure represent the administrative charges of the railways, the assignment for which was included in the grant for Civil works. The increase under Irrigation was Rs. 7,68,480, against which an additional assignment of Rs. 3,10,000 was received from Imperial revenues for expenditure on the Orissa Coast Canal. On the other hand, the expenditure under Civil works amounted to Rs. 29,26,811, against an assignment of Rs. 31,14,000. The grants under Contributions represent the grants-in-aid to districts where the cess was not levied, and also allotments to District Boards to equalize the excess of expenditure over receipts in the branches of administration transferred to their management.

7. The general financial result of the year may be summarized thus: The total revenue, which was estimated at Rs. 4,64,47,000 in the contract, rose to Rs. 4,81,47,256, showing an increase of Rs. 17,00,256, while the total expenditure of the year exceeded the assignment by Rs. 3,90,189. The Provincial credit balance increased from Rs. 19,98,925 at the beginning, to Rs. 33,08,992 at the close of the year. The receipts of the year thus exceeded the expenditure by Rs. 13,10,067. The chief branches of revenue which contributed to the increase were Railways, Stamps, Excise, and Income-tax, while the total expenditure would not have much exceeded the assignment in the Contract but for the new mode of adjusting the collection charges of Road and Public Works cesses.

PART II.—REVISED ESTIMATE, 1888-89.

8. A revised estimate of receipts and expenditure of Provincial Services for 1888-89 was submitted to the Government of India on the 31st January 1889. An amended statement was submitted on the 19th March 1889, but it was too late for adoption by the Government of India, as the combined estimates had already been completed and finally made up. The year has now expired, and although the account has not yet been closed, and is still open to adjustment, there are sufficient materials to frame an approximate estimate of the actual financial position of the province at the close of the year.

9. The following statement shows the revised estimate submitted to the Government of India in March 1889, the estimate passed by that Government, and the estimates now adopted with reference to the approximate actuals of the year:—

Receipts.

10. I.—Land Revenue.—The estimate of total Land Revenue receipts for the year 1888-89 was placed at Rs. 3,80,50,000, against which the total collections are Rs. 3,73,99,000. The 10 per cent. on collection from Government estates amounts to Rs. 3,26,000 and the total Provincial share of Land Revenue is Rs. 95,94,000. This amount has been taken as the revised estimate of Provincial Land Revenue (proper) for 1888-89. The decrease is due to bad harvests and the failure of the Burdwan Raj Estate to pay its March instalment of Land Revenue before the close of the year. The adjustments between Imperial and Provincial, will probably result in a net deduction of Rs. 4,07,000, as shown below:—

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs

Total ...	(—)7,63,000	+ 3,56,000	= —4,07,000

11. IV.—Stamps.—The Provincial receipts from Stamps amounted to Rs. 1,03,79,000, against Rs. 1,04,25,000, the estimate of the Government of India. The decrease was mostly under Court-fees. The total deficiency would have been greater were it not for some increase under General Stamps, the bad harvests and prevailing scarcity of the year giving an impetus to money-lending transactions.

12. V.—Excise.—The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 1,08,93,000, against Rs. 1,10,50,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The decrease was chiefly under country spirits.

13. VI.—Provincial rates.—The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 41,56,000, against Rs. 42,03,000, the revised estimate. The decrease is due to the same causes as affected the Land Revenue collections.

14. XII.—Interest.—The unadjusted accounts show that a credit for Rs. 97,000 has been given to Provincial under this head, as follows:—

	Estimate.	Actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.
Interest on Government securities ...	14,000	13,000
„ on miscellaneous accounts ...	57,000	60,000
„ on loans to municipalities ...	1,000	24,000
„ on advances to cultivators ...	42,000
„ on advances under Drainage and Embankment Acts	5,000
Total ...	1,19,000	97,000

A further credit for Rs. 23,000 agreeably to the estimate made in Finance and Commerce Department Resolution No. 1521, dated the 21st March 1889, will probably be afforded before the accounts are finally closed, and the figures may be placed at Rs. 1,20,000.

The increase in net receipts from the Eastern Section is due to a favourable jute season and the opening of the Dinagepore-Raigunge portion of the Assam-Behar State Railway.

The total gross receipts amount to Rs. 1,17,34,000, thus:—

	Rs.
From Eastern Bengal Railway	69,50,000

16. XXX.—Minor Works and Navigation.—The receipts by the Public Works Department under this head amount to Rs. 8,68,000, against Rs. 9,00,000, the estimate passed by the Government of India. There was a falling off in the income from the Calcutta and Eastern Canals and Nuddea rivers while the Orissa Coast Canal gave an increase.

17. XXXII.—Civil Works.—The receipts for the year in the Civil Department amount to Rs. 2,75,000, against Rs. 2,13,000, the estimate passed by the Government of India. There is reason to suppose that certain ferry tolls have been mistakenly credited to District Boards in 1887-88 and 1888-89, and as orders have been issued for their readjustment in favour of the Provincial revenues, the estimate may be susceptible of some increase, but in the absence of fuller information the Lieutenant-Governor would not raise it at present.

EXPENDITURE.

18. 3.—Land Revenue.—The preliminary account shows that the total expenditure under this head amounts to Rs. 33,38,000, against the revised estimate of Rs. 35,07,000, the charges on Survey and Settlements amounting to Rs. 89,000 only against Rs. 2,67,000, the estimate passed by the Government of India. As the adjustment between the Imperial and Provincial accounts has not yet been completed, it will not be safe to place the expenditure at a lower figure than Rs. 35,12,000.

19. 11.—Forests.—The preliminary account showing an expenditure of Rs. 1,84,000 under Forest excludes forest survey charges of Rs. 7,000, one-half of which will be debited to Provincial. The figures will be placed at Rs. 1,87,000 against Rs. 1,95,000 passed by the Government of India.

20. 13 & 14.—Interest.—This is a new charge imposed on the Provincial Government by an agreement, under which the Provincial Government will make over to the Imperial Government the interest on Provincial advances and Loan accounts, recovering it from those to whom the loans or advances are made. The payments will probably amount to Rs. 52,000 against Rs. 54,000 estimated by the Government of India.

21. 21.—Marine.—The total expenditure under this head will not exceed Rs. 9,88,000, against Rs. 12,60,000, the revised estimate submitted to the Government of India. This estimate included a provision of Rs. 3,00,000 for payment of the cost of the steamer to replace the Undaunted. As only £5,402 was actually paid in 1888-89 out of the estimated cost of £28,100, there was a large saving under this head. The reduced expenditure will not, however, improve the closing balance of the Province for the current year, as the remainder of the purchase-money has still to be paid.

22. According to the approximate actuals now accepted, the closing balance of the past year will stand at Rs. 28,29,000 against Rs. 24,80,000 estimated by this Government, and Rs. 24,65,000 anticipated by the Government of India when passing the estimate for the current year. The total receipts of the year have exceeded the contract assignment by Rs. 24,54,000, while the total expenditure shows an excess of Rs. 29,34,000. The net financial result of the past year is therefore that the expenditure exceeded the receipts by Rs. 4,80,000.

RECEIPTS.

24. The total land revenue of the year 1889-90 was estimated by the Government of India at Rs. 3,81,00,000. The collections of 1888-89 amount to only Rs. 3,73,99,000, and as scarcity still prevails in parts of Behar and Orissa, the Board of Revenue anticipate that there will probably be a deficiency of two lakhs in collections compared with the sanctioned estimate as shown below :—

	Rs.
Pooree	1,50,000
Cuttack	6,000
Balasore	2,000
Durbhunga	10,000
Gya	3,000
Other districts	29,000
Total ...	2,00,000

Although the collections as shown in the latest returns from the Comptroller-General do not justify any reduction of the estimate passed by the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor does not consider it prudent to assume that the revenue will amount to more than Rs. 3,80,00,000. The figures for the first quarter of the present year are swollen by the realisation of outstanding balances from 1888-89. The ten per cent. on collection from Government estates amounted to Rs. 3,26,000 in 1888-89, and for the current year is not likely to exceed Rs. 3,50,000. The estimate will accordingly be reduced from Rs. 3,83,000 to Rs. 3,50,000. The Provincial share of the total revenue will be ¼ of (3,80,00,000 —3,50,000) + 3,50,000 or Rs. 97,62,000.

25. Stamps.—The total revenue from stamps has been estimated at Rs. 1,42,00,000, showing an increase of Rs. 3,62,000 over the revised estimate as it at present stands. The latest returns from the district officers show that the receipts during the first five months of the current year exceed those of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 2,26,000. Calculated at this rate, the total increase during the year may amount to Rs. 4,42,000. It will not be prudent, however, to calculate on a larger increase than four lakhs, and the estimate will be placed at Rs. 1,42,38,000. The Provincial share will be Rs. 1,06,79,000.

26. Excise.—The estimate of total revenue under this head as passed by the Government of India amounts to Rs. 1,05,00,000. The returns show that the actual receipts in 1888-89 amounted to Rs. 1,08,93,000, and the figures for the first five months of the current year show a falling off of Rs. 55,000, Rs. 76,000, Rs. 1,03,000, Rs. 3,000, and Rs. 35,000 respectively. This decrease is due partly to the scarcity in Behar and partly to the reforms which are now being introduced by the Commissioner of Excise. The results of the recent settlements of shops for the sale of country spirits show a falling off of nearly 8 lakhs in license fees as compared with the actuals of 1888-89. Against this is to be set the probable increase in still-head duty owing to the substitution of the Sudder distillery system for outstills. This increase is estimated at Rs. 60,000 in the 24-Pergunnahs, and as some improvement is expected in Howrah, Hooghly, and Mozufferpore, the total increase may amount to Rs. 1,00,000 over the actuals of last year. With reference to all the considerations involved, the Lieutenant-Governor does not consider that it will be safe to place the estimate at a higher figure than Rs. 1,02,00,000. The Provincial share will amount to Rs. 25,50,000.

27. Provincial Rates.—The revised estimate under this head for 1888-89 now stands at Rs. 41,56,000. The district returns show that the receipts from the Public Works cess during the first five months of the current year exceed those of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 77,000. The estimate of Rs. 42,27,000 as passed by the Government of India will stand.

28. Assessed Taxes.—The revised estimate of the Local Government for 1888-89 was reduced by the Government of India from Rs. 39,00,000 to Rs. 38,50,000, and the estimate for the current year was placed at Rs. 39,00,000. The total receipts in 1888-89 have, however, amounted to Rs. 39,12,000. The Provincial estimate for 1889-90 will therefore be retained.

29. Registration.—The Provincial share of the registration receipts has been estimated at Rs. 5,50,000, against Rs. 5,47,000, the revised estimate as it now stands. The Provincial receipts during the first three months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 19,000 over those of the same period of last year. The growth of revenue from this source, which received a check in 1886-87 and 1887-88, seems to have revived and as the Inspector-General anticipates a large increase in the number of documents presented for registration, the estimate of the Provincial share will be raised to Rs. 5,75,000.

30. Interest.—As explained in paragraph 14 above, the Government of India have raised the local estimate under this head from Rs. 68,000 to Rs. 1,62,000 to include the interest on loans and advances to local bodies. The estimate of the Government of India will be retained.

31. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The Government of India placed both the revised estimate for 1888-89 and the estimate for 1889-90 at Rs. 7,75,000. The actuals for 1888-89 amounted to Rs. 7,90,000, and the estimate for the current year will therefore be raised to that amount, against Rs. 7,83,000 originally passed by the Local Government.

32. Jails.—The estimate of receipts under this head amounts to Rs. 7,45,000, against Rs. 7,75,000, the revised estimate as it now stands. The receipts in the first three months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 19,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year. There is no reason to suppose that the total receipts of the current year will be less than those of the preceding year, and the estimate will accordingly be raised to Rs. 7,75,000.

33. Police.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 4,06,000, against the latest estimate of Rs. 3,38,000 for 1888-89. The larger provision is chiefly due to the receipts of the Presidency and Suburban Police having been included for the first time.

34. Marine.—The actuals of 1888-89, including the sale proceeds of the steamer Undaunted, amount to Rs. 9,05,000, against Rs. 8,85,000, the estimate passed by the Government of India. It is anticipated that the receipts from registration and other fees will increase from the system of continuous discharge certificate introduced at the Shipping Office, and an increase is also expected under Pilotage receipts. The estimate will be raised from Rs. 8,90,000 to Rs. 9,00,000.

35. Education.—The Government of India placed the revised estimate under this head at Rs. 5,70,000 and the estimate for the current year at Rs. 5,47,000. The actuals of 1888-89 amount to Rs. 6,11,000, and in the first three months of the current year to Rs. 1,15,000, against Rs. 1,10,000 obtained in the corresponding period of last year. The estimate will be raised to Rs. 5,70,000.

36. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 1,76,000, against Rs. 1,65,000, the revised estimate for 1888-89. The reduction of the price of quinine has necessitated a reduction in the price of febrifuge. The receipts in the first three months of the current year amounted to Rs. 16,000 against Rs. 23,000 in the same period of last year. The estimate will be reduced to Rs. 1,60,000.

37. Miscellaneous.—The Government of India placed the revised estimate of total miscellaneous receipts for 1888-89 at Rs. 9,44,000, and reduced the estimate of the Government of Bengal for 1889-90 from Rs. 9,94,000 to Rs. 9,72,000. The total receipts in 1888-89 amount to Rs. 10,66,000; and as an increase is anticipated on account of audit fees from mofussil municipalities and wards' estates, it will not be unsafe to place the estimate for the current year at Rs. 10,10,000.

38. State Railway gross earnings.—The estimates of the Government of India provide for an increase of Rs. 82,000 over the approximate actuals of 1888-89. The increase obtained during the first five months of the current year approximately amounts to Rs. 4,37,000, thus:—

	From 1st April to last week of August.
	1888.	1889.
	Rs.	Rs.
Dacca State Railway	1,00,372	1,17,687
Eastern Bengal Railway, including Northern Bengal, Assam-Behar State Railway and Kaunia-Dharla Railways	32,32,190	35,32,054
Tirhoot State Railway	7,05,766	8,26,936
Nalhati State Railway	42,395	41,101
Total ...	40,80,723	45,17,778

In view of these favourable results, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the estimate of total receipts by the Government of India may be increased by Rs. 6,25,000 thus—

	Actuals, 1888-89	Estimate passed by the Government of India, for 1889-90.	Estimate now adopted.	Increase.
	Rs	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Eastern Bengal Railway ...	69,50,000	68,64,000	72,00,000	3,36,000
Northern Bengal Railway Dacca State Railway ... Kaunia-Dharla Railway... Assam-Behar State Railway	37,56,000	38,36,000	40,25,000	1,89,000
Total Eastern Bengal Section	1,07,06,000	1,07,00,000	1,12,25,000	5,25,000
Tirhoot State Railway ...	17,08,000	18,00,000	19,00,000	1,00,000
Nalhati State Railway ...	1,05,000	1,01,000	1,01,000	.....
Total ...	1,25,19,000	1,26,01,000	1,32,26,000	6,25,000

The increase from Eastern Bengal Railway will entirely go to Imperial. The Provincial increase from other sources will be Rs. 2,89,000.

39. Irrigation Major Works.—The estimate for 1889-90 has been fixed at the same amount (Rs. 13,58,000) as the original estimate for 1888-89. The total receipts in 1888-89 amounted to Rs. 13,94,000. The returns from the Public Works Department show that the receipts in the first three months of the current year aggregated Rs. 2,92,000 against Rs. 2,86,000 obtained in the corresponding period of last year. In view of these figures the estimate may be raised to Rs. 14,00,000.

40. Minor Works and Navigation by Public Works Department.—The returns show that the receipts in the first three months of the current year were Rs. 1,33,000 against Rs. 1,47,000 realised in the same period of 1888-89. The total receipts last year amounted to Rs. 8,68,000. The estimate will be reduced to Rs. 8,50,000.

41. Civil Works.—The estimate of receipts under this head as passed by this Government has been accepted by the Government of India, and will stand.

EXPENDITURE.

42. Refunds.—The Provincial refunds for 1888-89 were estimated by the Government of India at Rs. 1,65,000, and the estimate of the Local Government for the current year was raised from Rs. 1,58,000 to Rs. 1,62,000. The total refunds 1888-89 were only Rs. 1,42,000 The original estimate of this Government will be retained.

43. Land Revenue.—The estimate for the current year is thus compared with the revised estimate for 1888-89:—

		Revised estimate, 1888-89.	Estimate, 1889-90.
		Rs.	Rs.
1. Charges of District Administration	...	28,37,000	28,87,800
2. Management of Government Estates	...	3,44,000	2,91,000
3. Survey and settlement charges	...	2,64,000	3,41,000
4. Land Records and Agriculture	...	67,000	74,200
Total	...	35,12,000	35,94,000

The increase under the first head is due to the general increase of administrative charges, and under the third head to larger provision for professional surveys. The estimate as originally passed by this Government included a provision of Rs. 9,000 for forest survey charges, which by a separate order of the Government of India has been transferred to Forests.

44. Salt.—The average charges of the Salt Department amount to Rs. 22,000, and this amount was provided in the budget. But sanction has now been accorded to the use of Mr. Kilby's patent scales in place of the scales and weights now in use for weighing salt in Calcutta. The cost of these scales with appliances is estimated at Rs. 67,000. The estimate will accordingly be raised by this amount; but as the Government of India have agreed to bear half of this additional charge, a credit for Rs. 33,000 in round numbers has been taken under Land Revenue on this account.

45. Stamps.—The Government of India have adopted the estimate under this head as originally passed by this Government, but the estimate of the value of stamp paper supplied from the Central Stores was subsequently reduced by Rs. 20,000 with reference to the actuals of previous years, and the Provincial share of total expenditure was placed at Rs. 3,56,000. As however the total Provincial expenditure in 1888-89 amounted to Rs. 3,70,000, it does not appear safe to modify the original estimate.

46. Excise.—The Government of India have raised the estimate of Provincial expenditure under this head by Rs. 6,000, being one-fourth of the additional grant sanctioned by this Government for Preventive establishments after the original estimate had been passed. As Additional Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Collectors have since been sanctioned for the Excise Department, the estimate of total expenditure will be further increased by Rs. 25,000 and the Provincial share by Rs. 6,000. The Provincial estimate will be Rs. 1,31,000.

47. Customs.—The estimate under this head will be increased by Rs. 2,000 to provide for the cost of an establishment to test the strength of imported spirits.

48. Forests.—The difference between the estimates under this head is due to the inclusion by the Government of India of the Forest survey charges transferred from Land Revenue.

49. Interest on ordinary Debt.—The amount at the disposal of the Local Government at the close of 1887-88 for loans to private bodies and advances was Rs. 8,72,000, and it was estimated that Rs. 7,44,000 and Rs. 8,09,000 would be required on these accounts in 1888-89 and 1889-90 respectively. The interest at 4 per cent., which is payable to the Government of India, amounts to Rs. 81,000. The estimate will stand.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 17 years. The stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 27th of September 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 1*st October* 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 27TH OF SEPTEMBER 1889.

At the end of the preceding week a cyclonic storm of considerable intensity had passed inland between Gopalpur and Vizagapatam, and on Friday, the last day of the week, was west of Gopalpur, moving very slowly, and decreasing slightly in intensity. From the commencement of the present week it moved in a nearly northerly direction, keeping near the western boundary of Chutia Nagpur, giving southerly and easterly winds over the whole of Bengal and general though usually not heavy rain. On Saturday, the first day of the present week, it had very little influence on the pressure distribution in Bengal, where a rapid rise of pressure had been general during the previous twenty-four hours, the only stations showing any considerable defect being those in the extreme west in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur. Rain was general and light, and the heaviest falls were in North Bengal, but these were not numerous. During the following day the depression, without filling up, moved rapidly over the North-Western Provinces towards the Himalayas, causing a rapid fall of pressure at nearly all the Behar stations, and south-easterly winds in all districts except Orissa. The rapid rise of pressure which had commenced on Saturday continued over the whole of Lower Bengal. Rain was again general, but was falling off in Orissa, and was lighter in South-West Bengal; but during this day and the following one very heavy falls were reported in the northern districts. On Monday, the 23rd, the depression had broken up, leaving unsettled weather in north-western districts. Wind directions continued south or east, but a strong westerly wind was blowing at Hazaribagh. During these first three days of the week very strong south-westerly winds were blowing on the Orissa coast, and the sea was generally rough, but they were moderating.

At the time the depression was filling up in the north-west, conditions began to be some what unsettled in Burmah. A rapid fall of pressure set in on the 23rd, and continued on the 24th, extending northwards over the greater part of Bengal. Pressure in Burmah was unusually low, and indraught was going on into this low-pressure area. The monsoon blowing over Bengal immediately began to shew signs of weakening, and on the 24th light northerly winds were blowing in South-West Bengal, while in North Bengal and Behar very calm weather prevailed. The low-pressure area did not further intensify, but began to move in a north-westerly direction. On Wednesday, the 25th, pressure rose in Burmah, and the depression covered the northern half of the Bay, while a trough of low pressure extended from the head of the Bay in a northerly direction. The depression moved along this, contracting slowly. On Thursday the lowest pressure was at Chittagong and Burrisal, and on Friday a diffused low-pressure area covered East and North Bengal and Assam, within which pressure was largely in defect, but not very low compared with the pressure in the neighbouring parts. The influence of this depression on the rainfall in Bengal is easily traced. When it commenced rain was general and very heavy in the northern districts. On Tuesday, the following day, rain was fairly general in Lower Bengal but lighter, while in Behar only a few local showers fell. The only rain that fell on Wednesday was in East Bengal at one or two places, while on Thursday and Friday practically no rain fell. Otherwise the weather conditions were not affected, winds continued light, giving slow indraught towards the seat of lowest pressure. Rain fell on Friday at some of the extreme eastern stations, and was extending northwards along the boundary of the province.

Pressure changes, as detailed above, have been fairly large. The rapid rise following the depression of the previous week continued on the first two days of the present week in Orissa and Lower Bengal, while the fall in Chutia Nagpur and Behar was brisk to rapid on the approach of the depression to these districts. On Sunday defect at Buxar was nearly a fifth of an inch, and at several other stations it exceeded a tenth. The rise in Behar on Monday was very rapid, at Buxar being 0·183 inch. Pressure was then very nearly normal in all districts, but a rapid fall being general on Tuesday, pressure was below the normal everywhere till the end of the week, defects increasing on Friday, and exceeding 0·15 inch in East Bengal and Assam. The mean pressure for the week is everywhere low, defects ranging from two to seven hundredths of an inch. Means are least in Behar and North Bengal.

Temperature has been high in Lower Bengal, and very low in the northern districts and Assam. The mean defect in these latter districts is frequently over 2°, while in the former the excess is above 1° at a few stations only. The means for the large subdivisions are below the normal in all except Orissa and South-West Bengal, for both of which excess is over one degree. In the others the mean does not differ very much from the normal except in Behar and Assam. In North Behar the defect is 2°, South Behar 1·6°, and in Assam 1·2°.

Rainfall has been above the normal in North Bengal and Behar in consequence of the heavy falls received during the first three days till the depression broke up in the north-west. During these days rain was general over the whole of Bengal, but was much lighter than in the above-named districts, while it was everywhere practically absent during the last four. The largest defect is 1·3 inches in Orissa, and in Chutia Nagpur. South-West and East Bengal defect lies between seven and nine-tenths of an inch. No heavy falls are reported except in North Bengal and Behar, and the heaviest were in North Behar on Monday, when falls were excessive at some stations, six to ten inches at several, and heaviest at Bahera, where over 15 inches fell. The heavy mean fall for the week in North Behar is almost entirely due to what fell on that day.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 27th of September 1889 :—

IN pursuance of the decision contained in this Government's Resolution, dated the 14th July, 1884, it is hereby declared that a competitive examination for four appointments in the Opium Department will be held in January, 1890. At this examination only such European and Eurasian candidates as have been nominated by the Lieutenant-Governors of Bengal and the North-Western Provinces will be permitted to present themselves, and it must be clearly understood by intending competitors that those who may be declared successful will not, as far as can be at present foreseen, obtain permanent appointments for some time to come, and can only expect in the interval to act in such temporary and officiating vacancies as may from time to time occur in the service. One-fourth of the appointments in the Opium Department is reserved exclusively for "Natives of India" of unmixed descent; but as it has been decided to make these by selection, they are not affected by the rules now issued.

6. A candidate must obtain one-half of the full number of marks allowed for each subject to be entitled to be considered as having passed in it, and the four candidates who obtain the highest aggregate are, in the order in which they are declared to have passed, to obtain such appointments, temporary or otherwise, as may subsequently fall vacant, subject always to the reservation in favour of "Natives of India" referred to above.

7. The Native of India next to be selected for the Opium Department will be appointed between the third and fourth of the successful candidates at this examination.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—EXCISE.

Darjeeling, the 29th September 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Board's Report on the administration of the Excise Department for 1888-89.

An account of the various systems of excise in force in Bengal has again been prefixed to this report in accordance with the standing orders of the Government of India, which direct that the description should be repeated from year to year.

The population being taken at 66 millions, the total excise revenue, exclusive of the customs duty on imported liquors, was at the rate of 2 annas and 7 pies per head.

4. The small increase of Rs. 8,407 in the charges during the year under review was under the heads of travelling allowance and establishment.

Current settlements.

5. The settlements for the current year show a decrease of Rs. 9,83,209 as compared with the previous year. There is a falling off of nearly eight lakhs under the head of country spirits only. On the other hand it is estimated that there will be an increase of about a lakh of rupees in still-head duty, owing principally to the substitution of the sudder distillery system for outstills. The general decrease is attributed to the straitened circumstances of the people, and to combination among the abkars in consequence of the reforms introduced by Mr. Westmacott, the Excise Commissioner, for raising the outstill duty and restricting the capacity of stills and fermenting jars.

Country spirits.

6. The total number of shops licensed for the sale of country spirits was 4,048, against 4,104 in the preceding year: 575 were licensed under the sudder distillery system against 570, and 3,473 under the outstill system against 3,534. The total revenue derived under both the systems fell from Rs. 52,05,042 to Rs. 50,90,315. The most marked decrease occurred in the districts of Gya, Lohardugga, Calcutta, Hazaribagh, Monghyr, Mozufferpore, Bhagulpore and Patna, and is attributed by the Board to "the rise in the price of mohwa and food-grains; to the importation of rum by many of the tea-planters for the use of their coolies; and to the decrease in the advance fees realized in consequence of the non-settlement of a large number of shops for 1889-90."

7. The Board submit a summary of the further measures adopted by them to carry out the recommendations of the Excise Commission. Among the principal of these is the abolition of outstills and the substitution of the distillery system in the districts of 24-Pergunnahs and Howrah and the Serampore subdivision of the Hooghly district. A further extension of the sudder distillery system has been sanctioned during the current year. The policy of the Government in this respect is clearly indicated in the orders which have been issued from time to time, and the principle is now definitely established that outstills are to be gradually abolished in one populous district after another until central distilleries are replaced in all localities suitable for their introduction. At the same time no pains are spared to improve the outstill system where outstills are retained, and Mr. Westmacott is now doing his best to raise the duty paid on outstill liquor in the form of license fees to the rate per gallon London-proof paid on distillery liquor in each district. These reforms must be persisted in, although, as was anticipated, their immediate result is a considerable reduction in the excise revenue. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the number and capacity of outstills has been diminished. Excluding the districts where there are no outstills, and the Chittagong Division, where, in deference to local peculiarities, an exception has been made to the general rule for limiting the capacity of stills, the following figures show the number and aggregate liquid capacity of outstills sanctioned for the current year and the two years preceding it:—

	Number of outstills.	Liquid capacity of outstills in gallons.
1887-88	3,420	73,216
1888-89	3,247	60,661
1889-90	3,049	51,214

8. The selection of sites and the extent to which the wishes of the public are considered in connection with excise arrangements has formed the subject of a special correspondence between the Local and Supreme Governments. Distinct instructions have been given to the licensing officers to ascertain and consider local opinion, and directions have been issued that, where municipalities exist, the Municipal Commissioners should be consulted in determining the location of shops. On no account are any shops to be opened near market-places, schools, factories or other public places. The instructions issued by the Government of Bengal in this direction have been recommended by the Supreme Government to other Local Governments and Administrations for adoption in their provinces. Another important matter which has formed the subject of a correspondence with the Government of India is the alleged prevalence of drunkenness in the tea districts of Bengal. Investigations are now in progress, which, it is hoped, will soon be completed.

9. Among minor improvements which have been carried out during the year may be noticed the appointment of a superior class of officers to the immediate charge of distilleries. Of the 25 distilleries in the province, 13 are now in charge of Kanoongoes and 12 under Sub-Deputy Collectors. The system of fixing minimum prices for the sale of country liquor has been extended to all districts, except those of the Chittagong Division.

10. The system known as the Patna system was in force throughout the year in 18 districts. The figures given by the Board show that in these districts there has been a decrease in the total consumption of country spirits of 238,492 gallons as compared with 1887-88, while the revenue from this source has increased by Rs. 1,09,772 So far as can be judged from the results of a single year, the claim set up by the Board, that the system has been a success, would appear to be well founded.

Rum.

11. The number of licenses issued for the wholesale vend of rum was 17 against 21 in 1887-88, and for the retail sale 53 against 65. The revenue from rum fell from Rs. 88,885 to Rs. 72,851. The decrease is partly attributable to the reduction of duty from Rs. 5 to Rs. 4 per gallon. The revenue from the sale of licenses for imported spirits and wines also fell from Rs. 2,33,083 to Rs. 2,21,453. Under tari the revenue rose from Rs. 7,27,787 to Rs. 7,88,901, although the number of licenses fell from 19,056 to 18,467. The revenue derived from license fees for the sale of pachwai was Rs. 2,15,191 against Rs. 2,01,216.

Imported spirits and wines.

Pachwai.

Ganja.

12. The quantity of ganja estimated to have been produced was 8,266 maunds, against 7,821 in the previous year It is satisfactory to observe that the number of shops licensed to sell ganja fell from 2,949 to 2,926, and that the quantity consumed was also less than in the previous year, while there was an increase of Rs. 73,333 in the revenue. The reduction in the consumption of ganja, accompanied by a corresponding increase of revenue, year by year, is one of the most satisfactory features in the Excise Administration of this Province. The subject of the importation of the drug known as Gurjat ganja from the Tributary States into the regulation districts of Orissa has recently been again brought by the Board to the notice of Government. The impression has hitherto prevailed that this drug competed injuriously with Rajshahye ganja. On this ground its importation was first, in 1878, heavily taxed, and subsequently in 1884 prohibited altogether. Since this prohibition, however, the article has been steadily smuggled into regulation territory. In the light of the fuller information now in the possession of Government, it appears that the so-called Gurjat ganja is a drug entirely different from, and much less harmful in its effects than, the Rajshahye article. It seems therefore undesirable that the importation should be checked in order to encourage the consumption of Rajshahye ganja, and the question is under consideration whether the importation should not be again legalised with a small duty of only 8 annas a seer, as on bhang and sidhi.

Charas, bhang, and majum.

13. The number of licenses for the sale of charas fell from 19 to 18, and for the sale of majum from 51 to 48. There was an increase of 12 in the number of licenses for bhang, the number granted being 272, against 260 in 1887-88. There was an increase of 57 in the number of licenses for the sale of opium, and though the consumption decreased by 14 maunds, there was an increase of Rs. 23,138 in the revenue realized. The Board enumerate several important cases of opium smuggling during the year. The Lieutenant-Governor has lately issued a circular to all Magistrates, in which their attention is drawn to the inadequacy of the sentences passed by some judicial officers in cases of opium smuggling, and generally in regard to offences under the excise laws.

Miscellaneous.

14. The number of arrests for offences against the excise laws was 3,879, against 4,739 in the previous year, and the number of persons convicted was 3,324 against 4,144.

15. An important change in the general administration of excise has been effected by the experimental appointment of Mr. E. V. Westmacott as Excise Commissioner with effect from the 4th April last. A considerable portion of his time has been occupied in visiting districts and conducting excise settlements for the current year. Besides this appointment several large increases in establishment have been sanctioned, and the permission of the Secretary of State has recently been accorded to the appointment of seven additional Excise Deputy Collectors. A considerable further increase of expenditure in the Excise Department must shortly be incurred, and has only been postponed on financial grounds. The Lieutenant-Governor's views on the valuable report submitted by Mr C. E. Buckland on the results of his enquiry into the systems of excise in Bombay and Madras have already been separately recorded in the Resolution of the 10th August 1889.

16. The names of the officers selected by the Board for special mention will be communicated to the Appointment Department. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to the Board for their careful administration of the Excise Department during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S REPORT ON WARDS' AND ATTACHED ESTATES IN THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 3rd October 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on Wards' and Attached Estates in the Lower Provinces for the year 1888-89.

The Lieutenant-Governor is constrained at the outset to notice the fact that in not a single instance were the Commissioners' reports, on which the Board's review is of necessity based, received in the office of the latter with punctuality, although repeated orders have been issued on the subject. In the cases of the Bhagulpore, the Chota Nagpore, the Dacca, and the Chittagong Divisions, the delay did not extend beyond eight days, and might therefore be regarded as unimportant ; but in the remaining instances His Honour considers that an expression of displeasure on the part of Government is called for. Mr. Clay at Burdwan, and Mr. Hopkins in Orissa, were a month, more or less, behindhand, and to their shortcoming in this respect these remarks are intended to have special reference. The high standard of excellence reached in 1888 is fully maintained in the present report, which, indeed, in point of brevity, compares favourably even with its succinct predecessor. The Board adhering to the plan which was adopted for the first time last year have given an interesting and instructive review of a general character of the management of estates under the Court of Wards, following it by separate and sufficiently detailed accounts of the largest and more important estates, viz., those with a rent-roll of Rs. 50,000 and upwards, and afterwards by special notices of properties taken in charge or released in the course of the year.

Collections

2. The number of private estates under the management of the Revenue authorities was 148 as against 157 in 1887-88; of these 73 were Wards' estates, and 75 Attached, including Encumbered and Trust estates. The total demand on account of revenue and cesses due to Government, arrear as well as current, amounted to Rs. 56,20,302, and of this sum Rs. 53,34,696 were collected. There were remissions to the extent of Rs 4,163 as against Rs. 592 in the preceding year, and the balances show a very large increase, being more than double those of 1887-88. The Burdwan Raj estate defaulted on the 28th March last by more than four lakhs of rupees, of which Rs. 2,67,259 were paid not later than the 12th of the following month, the close of the Bengali year, and the remainder, shown as a balance in the returns, has since been made good. The occurrence of this large item of default was, however, caused by a purely legal difficulty, which, it is explained, prevented the Managers from obtaining as usual a temporary loan on the security of the Government promissory notes deposited in the Bank of Bengal. The comparative statement annexed indicates the result of the realizations of rent and cesses due to the estates themselves for the past five years:—

Year	Arrear demand.	Current demand.	Collections	Percentage of collections on current demand.	Remissions	Balance.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1884-85	50 68,046	52,56,826	48,93,923	93 0	14,14,567	40,21,688
1885-86	80 52,394	99,03,651	93,60,837	93 9	3 89 492	82 88,987
1886-87	81,67,509	1,02,96,559	96 80,751	94 0	3,00 426	84,84,423
1887-88	1.16,36 922	1,02,40,459	99,81,714	97 4	2,16,827	1,16,98,615
1888-89	1,12,89,022	1,03,44,555	97,18,391	93 9	10,70,426	1,08,42,802

The collections were bad in Patna (82·9) and in Bhagulpore (88·3), exceedingly low in Orissa (48·9), and in the aggregate somewhat short of those of the preceding year, but the Lieutenant-Governor is not unwilling to accept the result as on the whole satisfactory, due allowance being made for the failure of the crops and the consequent depressed condition of the ryots in several parts of these provinces during the period under review. The Board give a number of details sufficient to confirm the evidence that already exists of the fictitious character of the balances which were for the most part due when the estates were taken in charge. Thus, in the case of the Bhowanipore estate, more than 25 lakhs are purely nominal, and consist of items, which, although borne on the late proprietor's books, are known to be wholly irrecoverable, having long since been barred by limitation. In such instances orders have very properly been issued directing the managers concerned to devote their attention to the collection and elimination of outstandings by making efforts to realize expeditiously such portions as are actually recoverable, and applying without delay for the remission of the remainder. In the Srinagar estate in Bhagulpore, now under settlement and survey, enormous balances appear to have accrued since the estate was taken in charge. Of these, Rs. 2,50,319 are reported as good and in process of recovery, and Rs. 3,83,929 as bad and irrecoverable. These figures indicate extreme laxity of management, and it is understood that the Board found it necessary during the year to call upon the late manager to resign on account of his inefficiency and neglect of his duties. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to receive a special report on the accrual of these balances.

Management.

3. The total cost of management proper, i.e., of charges on account of the remuneration of managers and their establishments, and the contingencies incident thereto, was Rs. 7,65,109, and the percentage, 7·3 calculated on the current rent and cess demand of Rs. 1,03,44,555, was almost identical with that of the previous year.

The total expenditure, if charges for settlement and survey and for the construction and maintenance of office buildings be included, amounted to Rs. 9,35,857, as against Rs. 8,83,461 in 1887-88. The increase in the item for cutcherry buildings appears chiefly in the Presidency and Orissa Divisions; the estates in connection with which charges for settlement and survey were incurred will be noticed later on. The surplus to the credit of the general management rate was increased to Rs. 74,271, and the treasury rate amounted to Rs. 23,266. It has recently been decided by the Government of India that wards' and other private estates under management shall be required to pay an additional contribution to cover the value of the time devoted by Government officers to business connected with them, and the question of the manner in which these orders should be given effect to is at present under consideration.

4. Satisfactory progress was made during the year in surveys and the preparation of records of rights on the Srinagar, Sunkerpore, Maldwar, Chooramun, Koojung, and Kanika Wards' estates, as also in the Burdwan Raj khas mehals. The survey work done has all been under professional agency, and the results of the year have been reported by the Director of Land Records in a statement, from which the following is an extract:—

In Srinagar the settlement work has been under Mr. Collin, C.S., and the survey under a professional party. Considerable progress has been made during the year. With the consent of both landlords and tenants the settlement is being made on the principle of allowing 3 kottahs per bigah of the excess land held by the ryots to go unassessed, on account of difference in the areas resulting from the scientific system of measurement as compared with the areas shown in the landlord's papers, and assessing the remainder at existing rates. The increase in the rental is said to give more than 12 per cent. on the total cost of the operation. In Sunkerpore a rise in the rental of approximately 10 per cent. of the previous jumma was obtained by amicable arrangement with the ryots, the increase being chiefly due to increments to the areas of holdings. The principle of the compromise has been to make an allowance of 25 per cent. for the difference in the areas resulting from the old native and new professional system of survey, that is to say, when the area of holdings resulting from survey is not more than 25 per cent. over and above the old area shown in the landlord's papers, no enhancement is claimed by the landlord, and where the difference is greater, the surplus over the 25 per cent. is assessed at the current rates of the village. These arrangements were, the Collector reports, readily accepted, and the expenditure incurred on account of the settlement was Rs. 18,376, or nearly 1 anna and 6 pies per acre. In Maldwar, also, an enhancement on the previous jumma to the same extent was settled without dispute, and the cost of the settlement operations was Rs. 8,384, or 1 anna and 4 pies per acre. The cadastral survey undertaken under chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, in the case of the Chooramun property, was completed over the 23,002 acres which remained unsurveyed at the close of the preceding year, and an area of 54,128 acres has now been surveyed at a total cost of Rs. 27,867, or 8 annas and 2 pies per acre. The traverse and cadastral survey of 100 and 36 square miles, respectively, of the Burdwan Raj khas mehals were effected at a cost of Rs. 12,350, and in Koojung a survey party took the field in December, and measured 69,120 acres at a cost of 4 annas and 7 pies per acre. The Kanika estate is situated in Cuttack, where the Tenancy Act is not in force, and it was brought under survey by a notification published on the 6th February 1889, in accordance with the provisions of the Bengal Survey Act, V of 1875 Two hundred and sixty-one square miles of this property were surveyed before the close of the season at a cost of Rs. 7,093. A certain number of Wards' estates have been included in the programme of survey and settlement operations for the next five years, lately submitted to the Government of India.

Certificate procedure.

5. The number of certificates filed during the year, and the demands covered thereby, have risen considerably in five of the nine divisions, and the aggregate increase over the whole of the Lower Provinces is very large. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that the advance has been continuous since 1884-85, when only 8,000 certificates were taken out, till last year, when the number stood at 12,418. This figure has, however, now been more than doubled, as many as 24,922 certificates having been filed for demands amounting to Rs. 8,63,017 in the course of the period at present under review. The circumstance is to be regretted, but the details furnished by the Board afford, so far as they go, satisfactory explanations, and certainly tend to show that the action so largely taken was virtually forced upon the management of the estates concerned. Thus, for the Srinagar Estate 2,193 certificates were filed in order to prevent an outstanding demand shown at Rs. 90,880 from being barred by limitation, but the remarks recorded above on the balances in this estate show that these efforts were not attended with much success. For the Soojamoota estate alone there were as many as 11,368 certificates filed for the recovery of Rs. 3,03,012 from ryots, who, in the hope of altogether evading payment through the confusion in the accounts occasioned by the dispute between the Dowager Maharani and the Court of Wards, would not voluntarily discharge their dues. The completion of surveys and records of rights will tend to remove such confusion by enabling unrealizable arrears to be cleared off and the rent demand reduced to order, and as an indirect result of this it is to be hoped that resort to the certificate procedure will eventually be found less imperative and wholesale than it is under existing conditions. It has been laid down by Government, and now finds a place in the Board's own rules, that certificates are not to be filed indiscriminately in Wards' estates. The object of the certificate procedure is to facilitate collections, but managers are required to do their best to realize the dues of their estates by ordinary means before having recourse to this direct and summary process. The filing of an enormous number of certificates is primâ facie evidence of something seriously wrong in an estate, which should be fully explained.

Condition of tenantry.

6. The condition of the tenantry during the year, which has been one of comparative scarcity and pressure, is a matter of more than usual interest, and the Board's comprehensive remarks on the subject are worth reproducing in extenso. They record the following observations :—

"The unfavourable harvests of the year over a great part of the Province affected the condition of the tenants in several districts. The rainy season began late and ended somewhat earlier than usual, and in August very heavy rain produced floods in some districts which caused serious destruction of the rice crops. In the Burdwan Division much damage was done in parts of the Midnapore district. The tenants of the Soojamoota estate of the Burdwan Raj are, however, reported to be generally well off, and their obstinate and litigious character has given much trouble to the management. In the Presidency Division the tenantry suffered much from floods in the 24-Pergunnahs and Nuddea, but they have been able to tide over their difficulties, and consideration has been shown to them in not unduly pressing for the rents. In Dinagepore the rice harvest was below the average, but the tenants had some compensation in good jute and mustard crops. The condition of the tenantry in the Dacca Division generally is prosperous. In the Dakhin Shabazpore estate, in Backergunge, it is stated that the cyclone of 1876, in which so many perished, benefited the survivors, and that practically there is not a poor man in the estate. Inundation caused by high tides did some damage in Noakhally, and the year was undoubtedly a bad one for the ryots in that district, who are generally a prosperous body. The partial failure of the crops in several districts of the Patna Division caused scarcity, necessitating measures of relief. The tenants of the Tikari and Deo estates in Gya suffered in common with the rest of the people. In Shahabad the tenants of certain villages in pergunnah Bhojpur are said to waste money in litigation either with the proprietor or among themselves, and this necessarily affects their pecuniary prosperity. The majority of the Narhan ryots are well-to-do. On the Srinagar estate short crops in North Bhagulpore caused some pressure among the tenantry, and there were also many deaths from cholera in Purneah. The Badour estate in the latter district also had bad harvests; but the Collector remarks that, as the style of living in the district is simple and inexpensive, the partial failure of the crops did not affect to any great extent the material condition of the ryots. The Chanchal estate in Maldah had a fairly good year, and the tenants appear contented. In Cuttack the Kanika peasantry have had much to contend with in recent years, but they are not altogether in bad circumstances, the rents being low and labour being available at Chandbally on the steamers, while many also seek work in Calcutta and are able to bring or send home some savings. The condition of the tenantry in Koojung was good except in one part, where the crops were injured by salt water. In the Chota Nagpore Division the outturn of the crops was below the average in most of the wards' and encumbered estates, except in the district of Manbhoom, and the year was an unfavourable one generally. The construction of the Bengal-Nagpore Railway, however, provided a good deal of labour for the people, and in Singbhoom an abundant mohwa crop was of great help."

Miscellaneous.

7. With regard to the education of wards, the report is on the whole satisfactory, and the individual accounts furnished are, with a few exceptions, fairly favourable. The grants-in-aid of schools and dispensaries are shown to have respectively decreased and increased, and the expenditure incurred for the maintenance of buildings and other immoveable property has also diminished. The experiments made in the cultivation of Buxar wheat were more or less unsuccessful everywhere, except on the Deo estate in Gya, and as little success appears to have been met with in the case of potato culture. Some good practical work, however, seems to be done on the Burdwan model farm under the supervision of the manager, Mr. Reilly, and the experiments there made with the object of testing the effect of different manures on crops of sugarcane, wheat, and potatoes are said to have proved successful. The net expenditure on these experiments hardly exceeded Rs. 1,000 in the year, which shows that much may be done in this direction by careful supervision, with comparatively small sums. Patent ploughs from the Burrakur Iron Works and the Seebpore Workshops were tried on the Cossimbazar estate, but found to be too heavy, and some ploughs sent by the Director of the Department of Agriculture to the Manager of the Deo property were reported upon as unsuitable, both for the cattle and for the soil of the estate.

Burdwan Raj.

8. It was observed in last year's Resolution that the arbitration conducted by Mr. Pugh, Barrister-at-Law, regarding the Burdwan Raj jewellery had been held, but that the award had not up to that time been given, nor the terms of the deed of compromise finally settled. From the present report it appears that the award was delivered last February, but that the Board, acting on the advice of the Advocate-General, declined to accept it, on the ground that the arbitrator had allotted to the Maharani a number of items of jewellery which found no place in the schedule on which he had been appointed to arbitrate. The Maharani, on the other hand, applied to the High Court to have the award filed in Court under section 521 of the Code of Civil Procedure. It has eventually been decided to make no attempt to resist any motion for making over the items included in the schedule referred to; but with respect to the identification of a small number of these jewels which is in dispute, it has been arranged that the Commissioner of Burdwan should further arbitrate, on the understanding that the Maharani will abide absolutely by his decision. To this proposal the Maharani has agreed, a formal agreement has been executed, and the Commissioner's decision will at length, it is hoped, bring to a close the protracted dispute regarding the Raj jewellery. In the Dowager Maharani's suit to set aside the adoption of Maharaj Kumar Bejoy Chand Mahtab Bahadoor, and to obtain possession of the estate, the Collector of the district has been appointed by name guardian to the minor ward ad litem, and the necessary preliminary proceedings are being taken, as occasion arises, with a view to the eventual hearing of the suit in the High Court. The annual rental of this, the most important estate under the management of the Revenue authorities, was Rs. 41,74,614. The year opened with an arrear demand of rent and cesses due amounting to Rs. 35,19,075, and the current demand, inclusive of interest, equivalent to Rs. 97,278, was Rs. 45,26,135. The collections amounted to

Rs. 44,64,013, being 98·6 per cent. on the current demand, against 99·2, 98·2, and 97·9 in the three preceding years respectively. The cost of management was 3·5 per cent. on the current rent and cess demand. The officer of the Accounts Department who was deputed in 1887-88 to Burdwan to lay down, in consultation with the Managers, a system of audit of the accounts of the estate, submitted his report last November, and it is still under the consideration of the local officers. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that no further time be lost in introducing the new system, which is intended to facilitate work without the removal of any material checks.

Estates released or taken in charge.

9. The charge of seven new estates was assumed during the year, while five were released from management. The facts given regarding the circumstances under which estates were released, as compared with those existing at the time of their being brought under the Court of Wards, speak for themselves in proof of the invariable and continued success of the Board's management, and amply justify the confidence reposed in them by the public as well as by Government.

10. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Board for their careful and successful supervision of Wards' and Attached estates. The names of the officers specially mentioned for the excellence of their work in this branch of the administration will, as usual, be communicated to the Appointment Department.

Letter No. 690A, dated 24th August 1889, from the Board of Revenue, submitting, with their remarks, the Annual Report of the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture for the official year 1888-89.

Preliminary.

The date fixed for the submission of the Board's Land Revenue report to Government was changed in September 1888 from the 31st July to the 15th August, and orders were issued that the Director of Land Records should submit his report to the Board not later than the 31st July, so that both reports might (it was expected) be laid punctually before Government not later than the 15th August. This year, however, the Board's Land Revenue report did not issue till the 20th August, and their review of the Director's report was delayed till the 27th August.

2. The Board have, in their Land Revenue report, noticed the surveys and settlements undertaken on Government and private estates, and promise to deal with the surveys and settlements in wards' estates in their annual report on the management of estates under the Court of Wards. The work of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture falls into two main divisions—1st, surveys, settlements, organization and maintenance of village records; and 2nd, agricultural enquiry and improvement and agricultural statistics. Mr. Finucane has submitted the report, and was in charge of the Department as Director during the year, except during the five months, May to October, when he was on leave, and Mr. E. W. Collin officiated for him.

3. Mr. Reynolds administered the Land Revenue Department of the Board throughout the year until he retired from the service in March 1889. The Land Acquisition and Partition Departments were in Mr. Halliday's charge during the same period, except from the 3rd September to the 5th December 1888, when he was on leave, and Mr. Reynolds carried on these branches of the Board's duties. The retirement of Mr. Reynolds involves a very great loss to the Revenue administration of the province. His knowledge of the entire Revenue system, both from its legal and practical point of view, was unrivalled, and this together with his great ability marked him out as specially competent to advise the Government on all the difficult questions of rent and revenue which have occupied its attention of late years. Whether as administrator or adviser his place will not easily be filled.

Maps.

4. The same subjects have, under the orders of Government, been illustrated by means of maps as in the report for 1887-88, and a considerable improvement is evident in the maps now furnished, as prepared by the light of additional experience. The maps are (1) of the province, (2) of selected districts. The former is on the scale of 80 miles to an inch, and has been designed and shaded to show the percentage of the land revenue collections in each district; while the latter aim at exhibiting in one colour all lands the property of Government, whether farmed or held khas, and in another tint the lands managed by Government officers, but not the property of Government. In the districts in which there are irrigation works, the irrigation canals and their principal distributaries, and the area to which canal water was supplied, are also indicated. In compliance with the orders of the Government of India, an explanation of the several tints and colours employed is affixed to each map, and some of the maps have been reduced in size to admit of their being bound up with reports in such a manner as to obviate the necessity of making narrow folds. But this object has only been attained by abandoning in some instances the uniform scale of 8 inches to the mile, on which it was originally contemplated that all the district maps should be prepared. Nothing of importance appears to have been lost by this readjustment of the scales to the size of the pages of the report.

Provincial map.

5. The provincial map exhibits in a pictorial form the same information as is conveyed by column 18 of Appendix II of the statistical tables attached to the Board's report, viz., the percentage of the land revenue collections on the total demand. There is no inference to be drawn, from the intermixture of light and shade, of any general cause affecting the collections of different parts of the province. As last year, Manbhoom and Darjeeling are again the only districts in which the collections amount to 100 per cent. Of the divisions, Rajshahye is the only one that attains a higher percentage than 97, and next to it is Bhagulpore, while Burdwan and Orissa give only about 88 per cent.; but the average in the case of Orissa is lowered by the very bad percentage, only 69·29 in Pooree, attributable to the partial failure of crops in Khoorda. The other districts in which the percentage was less than 90 are the 24-Pergunnahs, Furreedpore, Patna, Lohardugga, Backergunge, Chittagong, Burdwan, and Midnapore. The general explanations offered are the deficiency of the harvests, and the effect of the high prices of food-grains. In Burdwan an unusual cause was at work through the inability of the Burdwan Raj Managers, owing to a legal difficulty, to negotiate a temporary loan, according to custom, for payment of the March kist, and the consequent default of the estate for more than 4 lakhs, which were, however, paid immediately after the close of the year. In the Resolution on last year's Land Revenue report, the reasons for the recurring bad collections in Midnapore, Chittagong and Pooree were fully given, and need not be repeated here. In Furreedpore the short collections are ascribed to the large amounts remitted by money-orders at the end of the year, which could not be credited in the accounts before its close. The explanation is not satisfactory. In Lohardugga no excuse is given, but the paucity of officers and their constant transfer, which cannot be accepted.

District maps.

6. The district maps are clearer and certainly better than those which were furnished last year. But there is still room for improvement in the marginal references. The list of them should be the same on all the maps to admit of easy comparison; in some cases blanks will necessarily occur, as for instance in the references to canals and their distributaries, where a district contains no canals. The areas of Government estates and of the lands managed by Government officers, though not the property of Government, as well as of the irrigated areas, should be given approximately, as in the margin of the Chittagong map, if accuracy is impossible. In Midnapore the irrigated area depicted varies considerably from that of 1887-88, and the principal distributaries appear to have varied also. But this can hardly be the case really. In Shahabad the numerous lands which are the property of Government have now been indicated in the map, and the country under irrigation has been coloured, though its area has not been stated. It is now as good a map as could be wished for on the scale required. The maps of the Sonthal Pergunnahs and Lohardugga also show the Government estates more completely. It was noticed last year that the Cuttack map did not show Angul, and the same criticism could be applied to the present map: but the omission is not unreasonable, as Angul is not in the Cuttack district, and the Collector of that district has no connection with it. The meaning of the darker shade of green in the Pooree map is not stated. There will be nothing to be gained by repeating maps of these same districts with the same subjects a third year. The districts hitherto selected have been those comprising estates, the importance of which was understood to merit recognition, and it seems hardly worth while to continue the same series for the remaining districts, which do not, it is believed, contain either important Government estates or extensive irrigation works. In their report for 1887-88, the Board intimated that for some time to come, at least, it might be possible to illustrate different subjects, and they will now be desired to propose some other subject or subjects for illustration by maps to accompany the report for the year 1889-90. The provincial map, showing in shaded tints the percentages of collections of the land revenue should be repeated. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his acknowledgment of the co-operation of the Survey Department in the preparation of these maps for the Board's Annual Land Revenue report.

Arrangement.

7. The convenient division of the Board's report into four parts, adopted by Mr. Reynolds in 1887-88, has met with the approval of Government and been again followed. It should not be changed hereafter without a reference to Government. The 40 subjects (with several sub-divisions) are now clearly grouped under four main heads as follows:—

(1) Collection of the Land Revenue.
(2) Administration of Land Revenue.
(3) Rent.
(4) Miscellaneous.

Collection of the Land Revenue.

Demand.

8. The current demand on account of the four classes into which estates are divided is shown thus—

Class of estates.	Current demand.
	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
I.—Permanently-settled estates ...	3,22,97,484	3,22,91,720	3,22,90,777
II.—Temporarily settled estates ...	27,26,304	26,48,556	26,54,561
III.—Government estates	22,36,201	22,32,370	23,08,688
IV.—Ryotwari tracts ...	8,35,309	8,43,757	8,59,079
Total ...	3,80,95,298	3,80,16,403	3,81,13,105

There is a net increase of Rs. 96,702, which has more than covered the previous decrease of Rs. 78,895. It represents the gain accruing from resettlements carried on in various districts, and the progressive rates of rents payable under certain land grants and leases.

Financial results.

9. The demands, collections, remissions and balances of the year 1888-89, as compared with the two preceding years, are shown in the following statement:—

Year.	Demand.			Collections.			Remissions.	Balances.			Percentage of total collections to total demand. (Column 7 on column 4.)	Percentage of total collections to current demand. (Column 7 on column 2).

Collections and balances.

10. The total collections are less than those of 1887-88 by Rs. 6,70,823, and of 1886-87 by Rs. 12,38,555. The current and arrear demands were each about a lakh of rupees higher than in the preceding year. It is a satisfactory feature in the collections that, though the current collections were about eight lakhs less, the arrear collections were 1½ lakhs higher. This result is reproduced in the balances, which show an increase of nine lakhs in the current account, and a diminution of Rs. 30,000 in the arrear balances, which are the more difficult to realize. But all comparisons of the year are vitiated by the abnormal, though merely temporary, balance of over 4 lakhs of rupees from the Burdwan Raj estate at the end of the year. Thus the percentage of total collections on total demand fell from 94·75 to 92·56, and the percentage of total collections to current demand from 99·53 to 97·52. If this unusual occurrence in the Burdwan Raj, for which there was a precedent four years before, be eliminated, the remaining fluctuations are no more than can be fairly attributed to the deficiency of the harvests. The Lieutenant-Governor considers it unnecessary to do more than remind all officers of the importance of collecting the land revenue demand without loss or delay. In compliance with the order of the Government of India, the subject of outstanding balances has been examined in greater detail than previously under each class of estates. In the permanently-settled estates the balances increased from Rs. 9,40,278 to Rs. 13,83,757, mainly owing to the Burdwan Raj default already mentioned. The Patna balance amounted to Rs. 1,55,077, of which no less than Rs. 1,40,308 were due from estates which defaulted on the 28th March 1889, and will have to be recovered under the sale procedure. The arrears due by wards' estates under this class were Rs. 4,80,052, against Rs. 1,75,690 in 1887-88. Apart from the Burdwan Raj default, only Rs. 48,531 were due from wards' estates. In temporarily-settled estates the opening balance of the year, Rs. 3,70,399, developed into a closing balance of Rs. 6,65,563. In only three districts were the outstanding sums reduced; all other districts show an increase. Thus in Midnapore Rs. 3,66,264 are due from Majnamoota, Jellamoota and Bhowani Chuck. The floods in the Contai subdivision have greatly retarded collections, and a portion of the balance will have to be remitted. In this case the cause of the balance is stated, but in nearly every instance it is not mentioned. Another year the causes of the accrual of the arrears should be more fully explained. So also in the third class, Government estates, it is hardly sufficient to state that the balance rose from Rs. 6,82,799 to Rs. 8,23,927. Detailed explanations are offered only in a few cases; for instance, in the 24-Pergunnahs, Tipperah, Patna, and Pooree special reasons were assigned for the short collections; in other districts the short outturn of the crops is made generally to answer again for the existence of balances. In the ryotwari tracts in 11 districts the balances increased from Rs. 78,182 to Rs. 84,324. This occurred chiefly in Julpigoree, Monghyr, and Backergunge. On the whole subject His Honour will only remark that, having regard to the moderation with which the land revenue is assessed in all classes of estates, these balances occur too often and in too large amounts. He requests the special attention of the Board to their prevention in future as far as possible. The remissions of grace, which alone are now shown, amounted to Rs. 30,882 against Rs. 23,820 in the previous year. There was nothing special in the circumstances of any of the remissions granted during the year.

Government Estates.

11. The total number of Government estates has increased during the year from 3,058 to 3,307, and their rental from Rs. 22,32,370 to Rs. 23,08,688. The increase was both in the estates under direct management from 1,395 to 1,575, and of those under farming leases from 1,663 to 1,732. These figures are not explained, and it is not clear why the total should vary so largely between 1887-88 and 1888-89, whereas it only changed from 3,053 to 3,058 in the previous year. The ryotwari tracts, which are included in the Government estates, are 32 instead of 28 in 1887-88, and their current demand has risen from Rs. 8,43,757 to Rs. 8,59,079, but the collections have fallen from Rs. 8,53,737 to Rs. 8,45,189. This cannot be regarded as satisfactory. The percentage of total collections to total demand has accordingly dwindled in ryotwari tracts from 91·49 to 90·84; and on Government estates generally from 76·46 to 71·65.

Estates under direct management.

12. The 1,575 Government estates under direct management have a rental of Rs. 16,08,965, whereas the 1,732 estates under farming leases are let for Rs. 6,99,723, which shows that only the less valuable estates are farmed out. The figures regarding Government estates under direct management in Appendix IIC appear not to tally with those given in paragraph 44 of the Board's report. There were also 262 private estates under direct management, and the total number of estates so treated is said to be 1,803 with a rental of Rs. 28,94,844, and a gross demand of Rs. 36,48,685. The collections amounted to Rs. 24,70,561, or 85·3 of the current demand as compared with 98·7 of the previous year and 102·6 in 1886-87. The decrease occurred in all the divisions except Chota Nagpore, where the collections were best, the percentage on both the gross and current demand exceeding 90 per cent.—the standard. The Rajshahye Division was next, the collections there being over 100 per cent. on the current (as separate from the gross) demand. The standard was not attained in the Burdwan, Patna and Orissa Divisions. In Majnamoota and Jellamoota in Midnapore, which suffered from floods and drought, the Deputy Collector engaged in the enquiry has reported that some two lakhs of rupees will probably have to be remitted; but the Collector thinks that many of the ryots who could pay are dissuaded by others, and hold back in the hope of obtaining wholesale remissions eventually. In Orissa, also, the poor harvests, especially in the two principal estates, Khoorda and Banki, greatly retarded collections. In Khoorda certain surbarakars were dismissed or suspended, amins deputed to make collections, and proceedings instituted under the Public Demands Recovery Act. In the face of the distress which, though much exaggerated, undoubtedly existed, it was not considered desirable to press the surbarakars unduly. The cost of direct management of the 1,803 estates was 6·9 on the rent demand, an improvement on the 7·3 of the two previous years.

Miscellaneous Revenue.

13. The miscellaneous revenue collected amounted to Rs. 1,63,232 as compared with Rs. 1,72,982 in 1887-88, and of this sum Rs. 1,17,515 represent 'other receipts,' i.e. other than fees and fines under certain Acts, the sale of Government estates, and abatements of revenue. Their nature is not stated. A question has arisen in Chota Nagpore in connection with a lease for the collection of the cesses paid for the use of trees by rearers of the tussur silkworm and manufacturers of catechu. The Commissioner's report on the subject is awaited.

Road and Public Work cess.

14. The following statement shows the demands, collections, and balances of road and public works cess during the past two years:—

Year	Demands.			Collections	Remissions	Balances	Percentage of balances on gross demand.
	Current.	Arrear	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1887-88	76,13,146	16 61,553	92,74,699	75,35,118	16,498	16,98 409	18·3
1888-89 .	76,19,896	17,20,662	93,40,558	74,86,777	20,925	17,98,948	19·2

These results are not satisfactory. With a larger demand the collections were smaller, and the outstanding balance heavier than in the previous year. The remissions were also greater. It may be conceded that the statutory allowance of 15 days' grace for cess payments, which throws part of the collections for the March kist into the following year, is the main cause of the heavy outstanding balance at the end of each year, and it may be a question whether some alteration should not be effected with a view to obviate these results; but this does not account, taking one year with another, for the lower collections and the larger remissions. The subject will come under further consideration in reviewing the report on the cess operations of the year.

Redemption of Land Revenue.

15. The redemption of land revenue goes on slowly, and there is no object in encouraging it except in the case of very small estates, of which it is desirable to clear the revenue-roll. It was mentioned in the Resolution on the Board's report for 1887-88 that sanction had been given to a proposal for the issue of a proclamation notifying that for a term of one year petty estates in the Chittagong district, permanently settled and paying less than one rupee per annum Government revenue, might be redeemed at 10 times their annual jumma. Full effect is being given to this scheme during the current official year, and the subject will necessarily be noticed in the Board's next report.

Remittance of Land Revenue by postal money-orders.

16. The total amount of Land Revenue, Road and Public Works cess, and Zemindari Dâk cess, remitted by postal money-orders, rose from Rs. 2,07,156, sent by 47,248 orders, to Rs. 6,60,800 covered by 92,402 orders. These figures show that the value of each order rose from Rs. 4-6 to Rs. 7-2. The development of the system has been greatest in Cuttack, Chittagong, Furreedpore, Dacca, and Mozufferpore. The Board's observations on this matter are of interest and may be quoted:—

"The system continues to work well, and is becoming more and more popular with the public. The Collectors of Burdwan and Midnapore observe that the expansion of the system has thrown more work on the Treasury establishment, which has now to deal with numerous chalans and pass them on to the several departments of the Collector's office, whereas formerly parties had to do this for themselves Much time is thus taken up, and the closing of the daily accounts is often delayed. The Board are, however, of opinion that the advantages of the system far outweigh the inconvenience thus caused to the Collectorate establishment.

Only 1,197 orders for Rs. 5,765 were refused—a much smaller number than last year. The grounds of refusal were—want of full particulars, remittances made for demands not covered by the rules, or bearing dates later than the last day of payment, or sent erroneously for demands not payable to Government. Amounts sent on account of arrears of revenue in respect of estates which had defaulted, unaccompanied by a stamped petition from the defaulters under section 18, Act XI of 1859, were also refused as well as orders which, contrary to rule, included the demands of more than one estate owned by the same person."

The system of payment of revenue by means of money-orders has lately been extended to payments of rent under rules carefully drafted by Mr. H. M. Kisch, Postmaster-General of Bengal. The experiment is being tried in the Burdwan Division for six months, with effect from the 1st September 1889. The rules were published in the Gazette with a view to eliciting criticism, and were not finally published until objections had been fully considered.

The Sale Law.

17. The administration of the Sale law has received special attention for some time past. In February last the Board submitted a further report on its working, with proposals for the general re-arrangement and amendment of the law. These have been examined, and the Lieutenant-Governor's conclusions have lately been submitted to the Government of India, with a view to the legislation required. The number of defaults and sales for the past and previous years is reproduced in the following statement:—

	Defaults	Sales
1884-85	10,575	1,836
1885-86	12,445	1,770
1886-87	14,456	1,859
1887-88	14,745	1,863
1888-89	13,153	1,142

These figures indicate a remarkable diminution in the number of sales, which is accounted for by the Chittagong figures having fallen from 2,996 to 1,067 defaults, and 881 to 304 sales. This is due to the exclusion this year of the statistics of dependent tenures, which have hitherto been included by mistake. In some quarters the opinion prevails that the policy of leniency to defaulters has been carried too far, and one experienced Collector writes:—"The continued condonation of these defaults, which (as the Board's orders stand) is inevitable, is calculated to weaken our revenue machinery, and it is to be hoped that the reports submitted on the subject will result in some system of penalising defaulters for delay. At present the sale day is a farce." This is one of the points which must come under review. The proportion of actual sales to defaults was only 8·68 or about half of the precentage of five years ago. It was remarked last year that the greater moderation now displayed has not in any way affected the revenue, and in support of this view reference was made to the percentage of collections upon the gross demand—1884-85, 92·41; 1885-86, 93·53; 1886-87, 94·58; 1887-88, 94·75. In the year under report the percentage has been shown to have fallen to 92·56, but this can probably be ascribed to other causes besides the operation of the Revenue Sale law, with which there is no reason to connect it.

Certificates

18. The number of certificates filed in 1888-89 was 169,072, against 176,608 and 177,618 in the two preceding years. The decrease has occurred under four classes of demands, viz, for embankment dues, water-rates, cesses, and miscellaneous demands under section 7 of the Public Demands Recovery Act. Of the number filed, 24,338 were for arrears of Government rent, 20,971 for water-rates, 72,001 for cesses, 24,922 for the demands of the Court of Wards. It is very unsatisfactory that the large number of pending cases, on which the Government of India commented, has again increased from 93,641 to 105,057. This is to some extent accounted for by heavy institutions towards the close of the year in Midnapore, and by mismanagement in Hooghly in road cess cases. A special report should be submitted on the last matter, and the responsibility of the officers concerned clearly ascertained.

The case of Midnapore is already under separate consideration with respect to the smallness of the process fee charged on the issue of certificates for the realization of water-rates. The tenants of the Soojamoota estate gave further proof of their stubbornness by withholding payment of their rents pending the settlement of the Burdwan Raj litigation. It became necessary therefore to file certificates in order to save a large amount of arrears from being barred by limitation, and to send a Deputy Collector to do the work. The total number of certificates filed being 169,072, payment was made in 53,667 cases on mere issue of the notices, and in 63,718 cases on attachment of the property; and in 5,735 cases recourse to actual sale was found necessary.

Administration of the Land Revenue.

Estates under direct management.

19. The only change of any importance made in the agency and mode of administering estates under direct management was by the employment of a Deputy Collector for the Khas Mehals in Bhagulpore. The total sum of Rs. 1,46,844 was spent from all sources on works of improvement and maintenance in these estates. This compares favourably with the amount, Rs. 93,603, spent last year, but it admittedly includes Rs. 32,232 expended on relief works in Orissa, chiefly in the Khoorda estate, which can hardly be said to fall under the designation of works of improvement. The large sum of Rs. 11,945 was again spent in the Majnamoota and Jellamoota estates. The cultivation of new staples was experimentally continued during the year. Buxar wheat was cultivated in Burdwan, Bogra, Julpigori, Cuttack, Nuddea, Moorshedabad, and Gya; but not very successfully. The potato was cultivated in Bogra, Julpigori, Cuttack and Shahabad, but without encouraging results, except in the Sasseram sub-division. Carrots were grown in Patna with partial success. Experiments were made in Hooghly on paddy crops supplied with manure by the Agricultural Department, but the result was uncertain, as the crops in the district suffered generally from floods. Arrangements to facilitate the prosecution of agricultural experiments in Government and Wards' estates with the assistance and advice of the officers of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture were sanctioned during the year, and before its close two of these officers were deputed to certain districts for the purpose. Meanwhile, certain experiments were undertaken under the supervision of local officers. The Board observe on this subject:—

"The funds available for purely agricultural improvements or experiments are small. The results of the experimental cultivation of new crops have also not been such as to encourage much larger expenditure in that direction. The present report records failures in many districts, and the most satisfactory features under this head appear to be the continued popularity of the excellent Behcea sugar mills, and the favour with which a new sickle has been received in the Buxa sub-division. The patent or other ploughs tried are objected to by the ryots, chiefly on the grounds that they are too heavy for the country bullocks, and cannot be repaired by the village blacksmith when out of order. It is clear that a new plough thoroughly suited to the agricultural conditions of the country is still to be invented, and that for the present at least the primitive and indigenous plough has no rival in the estimation of the Bengal peasant."

Primary schools are maintained in Government estates in most districts, and the 1½ per cent. contribution from the collections of Government estates was as usual made over to the District Fund for the improvement of communications. The largest expenditure on this account was in Julpigori, viz., Rs. 28,671, and Government, moreover, made a special grant of Rs. 3,600 for the construction of two new roads and the repair of an old one in this district. The tehsil registers and accounts were inspected as usual. In Bogra, where serious irregularities were discovered, the examination of the Jaipur tehsil office is still incomplete, and serious defalcations by putwaris since 1882-83 have been detected. Ample time for the enquiry has elapsed since this case first came to light, and the Lieutenant-Governor must insist on the proceedings being completed, and the necessary action taken. In several districts the subordinate officials have had to be dealt with for pecuniary misconduct. The condition of the ryots was unavoidably affected by the loss of crops from floods or insufficient or badly distributed rainfall in many districts.

Surveys and settlements.

20. Besides the surveys and settlements in progress under the Tenancy Act, similar operations were conducted under other Acts in different parts of the country. The survey of 46 miles of embankment lands in the Ghatal Sub-division was completed. All the 627 villages of the Angul estate (which is British territory, attached to no district, but surrounded by the Tributary Mehals in Orissa) were demarcated, and found to contain 474 square miles of cultivation; the remainder, 407 square miles, of the total area consists of reserved forest. The survey was made by the agency of trained Surborakars under the supervision of the Survey Department. The assessment of 350 of the villages has been finished, and it has been calculated that an increase of Rs. 60,000 may be obtained on the whole estate by the assessment of newly cultivated lands at existing rates, though it will probably have to be made progressive and extended over a period of years. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently had this subject before him in connection with the serious distress now prevailing in Angul, and is in correspondence with the Board of Revenue, with a view to reducing the pressure which such an increase may bear upon a population so indigent and pauperised as that of Angul.

The survey of Banki has been finished, and five villages tentatively assessed. In this estate also an increase of Rs. 10,000 is expected from assessment of newly cultivated lands at existing rates. As the current settlement of the Western Dooars in Julpigori will expire in 1890, a re-survey and settlement have been ordered. Work was commenced in November 1888 in the Mynagori tehsil and Ambara Fallacotta, and it is now in contemplation to extend the operations to the east of the Jaldaka river to an area of 1,521 square miles. The total estimated cost is Rs. 2,64,356, and an increase of Rs. 30,000 to Rs. 40,000 of revenue is anticipated. The survey is being conducted by a party of the Survey of India, and a selected officer is in charge of the settlement. A great advance has been made with the survey of the town of Calcutta. The proprietors of the Jallamoota estate in Midnapore having consented to engage on certain terms, preliminaries are being arranged to give effect to the settlement from September 1889. A new settlement manual was issued during the year for the guidance of revenue officers.

Land Registration.

21. Though the operations of initial registration have been nearly brought to a close in the 24-Pergunnahs, Moorshedabad, Chittagong, Cuttack, Pooree, Balasore, the completion reports have not yet been received. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that no further delay be allowed to occur in their submission. It is only in the Cuttack district, where 3,000 cases connected with revenue-free tenures are pending, that any considerable work remains to be done. The revision and re-writing of the first registers under the Act is complete in only 25 districts. His Honour apprehends that this work is allowed to drag on without any sufficient effort being made to conclude it. During the year 44,797 applications were made for registration of mutations under section 42 of the Act. This represents a percentage of 4·6 on the total number of interests registered under initial registration, and is a decided improvement on the percentage, 3·8, in 1887-88. This result may be attributed to the rules issued with the approval of Government for furthering registration by means of executive action; but the improvement is nevertheless, as the Board observe, not so great as might have been expected. The percentage of registrations is as high as 7·9 in Rajshahye and 6·6 in Dacca, in which Divisions it is always the highest, and as low as 2·3 in the Orissa Division. It is a matter for regret that greater advantage is not taken of this useful Act.

Partitions.

22. The number of partitions effected during the year was 579, the same as in the previous year. The number instituted and disposed of during the last five years in the Patna, Bhagulpore, and Dacca Divisions (and there is very little of this work in the other Divisions) appears from the following statement:—

	Patna		Bhagulpore.		Dacca.
	Institutions	Disposals.	Institutions	Disposals.	Institutions	Disposals
1884-85	425	338	67	69	77	12
1885-86	440	375	79	55	69	88
1886-87	433	393	61	86	48	68
1887 88	436	380	88	99	92	67
1888 89	466	403	45	73	127	73

The pending cases in the Patna Division have increased from 1,557 to 1,615—a number which represents four years' work at the ordinary rate of disposals. The opinion of the Board will be requested whether some special measures should not be adopted to reduce this undesirable accumulation of arrears. So also in the Dacca Division, where the institutions have suddenly sprung up from 92 to 127, the 337 pending cases are equivalent to 4 or 5 years' work. The number of cases disposed of was better in Patna, Mozufferpore, and Monghyr than in other districts.

Land Acquisition

23. The cost of the Land Acquisition proceedings during the year was high, but not so abnormal as in 1887-88. The following statement shows the variations for several years past:—

	Area of land acquired			Cost of acquisition.			Average cost per acre.
	A.	R.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs
1884-85 ...	2,946	3	15	3,12,072	4	7	106
1885-86 ...	3,262	3	30	11,42,697	8	11	350
1886-87 ...	7,363	3	30	4,99,887	12	6	67
1887-88 ...	2,824	1	36	14,50,313	7	3	513
1888-89 ...	6,829	2	24	11,19,270	3	1	163

No comparison can be drawn between the figures of one year and another without detailed examination of the projects undertaken at each period, as urban and foreshore lands are necessarily much more valuable than lands acquired in rural areas for lines of railways. Proceedings for the acquisition of the land required for the Dinagepore Division and the second section of the Kosi Extension of the Assam-Behar State Railway, the Purulia Division of the Bengal Nagpore Railway and 30 miles of the Bengal Central Railway were confirmed during the year, and orders issued for the acquisition of the land required for branch lines from the Bengal Nagpore Railway to the Burrakur and Sitarampore Coalfields, for the Panapore and Pahleza ghât loop lines of the Bengal and North-Western Railway, and for the line from the Kidderpore Docks to Budge-Budge. Certain amendments of the Board's revised Land Acquisition rules have been under consideration for some time past, and it is hoped that a new edition of the rules may be issued at an early date. Proposals have also been submitted to the Government of India for amendments to the substantive Land Acquisition Act.

Rent.

Working of the Bengal Tenancy Act and relations between landlords and tenants.

24. The working of the Tenancy Act is, in its general aspect, briefly dealt with by the Board, who report that "tenants and landlords are more and more acquiring knowledge of the provisions of the Act, but it cannot yet be said that the new law is familiar to them, and that there is no hesitation in appealing to it in matters which can only be satisfactorily settled by resort to the courts. The Act has, however, so far worked smoothly, and does not appear to have caused any increase of agrarian disputes." This is so far a matter for congratulation, and for the present a more particular review of the effects of the Act may be postponed. But when the Act has been in force, say for five years, from the 1st November 1885, it will be desirable that a special report on its working should be submitted. The relations between landlord and tenant are also described as fairly satisfactory, taking the Lower Provinces as a whole: though some districts furnish petty instances of strained relations between their conflicting interests, chiefly arising from measures taken by landlords to enhance rents or a want of cordiality between the two classes, serious manifestations of ill-feeling are not numerous. Thus, there were disputes in Beerbhoom, Backergunge and Mymensingh, in pergunnah Bogri in Midnapore, considerable disaffection in Majnamoota and Jellamoota, as already mentioned, ill-feeling in Dubalhatti and Chittagong, a serious riot in Durbhunga, friction between the landed interests in tuppeh Duhosuho in Chumparun, and there are indications of a tension of relations between zemindars and ryots in other quarters which might lead to disturbance. In one case at least advantage has been taken of the provisions of section 101 (1)(b) of the Tenancy Act, which admits of a survey being made and a record of rights prepared under the orders of Government "where the preparation of such a record is calculated to settle or avert a serious dispute existing or likely to arise between the tenants and their landlords generally," and the result of this measure should be specially brought to the notice of Government.

Form of rent receipt.

25. The total number of the forms of rent receipt sold was 1,979,200, against 2,252,142 in the preceding year. The forms are now generally obtained by landlords from private presses at cheaper rates than at the treasury. In the course of the year the Commissioner of Dacca reported that an objection had been taken by some tenure-holders in Dacca to the headings "Area of holding" and "Rent of holding" in the rent receipt form, as the term "holding" could not be said to include tenures. The Board, after consulting other officers on the subject, submitted for approval an amended form of receipt, in which the words "area of holding or tenure, if known" and "rent of tenure or holding" were substituted, and the alteration has been sanctioned by Government.

Notice of transfer and Landlord's fees.

26. The notices of voluntary transfer of tenures fell during the year from 89,564 to 63,372. The decrease is general, and is due to the more careful restriction of the issue of those notices to permanent tenures and ryoti holdings at fixed rates, and to the discontinuance of the issue of notices in cases of transfer of fractional parts of a tenure. The law was not properly understood on these points previously. In the Resolution on the Board's Land Revenue Report for 1887-88, it was mentioned that the Board had suggested that, the Bill for the registration of permanent tenures having been allowed to drop, there was no sufficient ground for retaining in the Tenancy Act the sections 12 to 15 which were intended by the framers of that Act to supplement the provisions of a law which it was understood would be introduced into the Bengal Council for the registration of tenures. The Board were desired to obtain the opinion of Revenue Officers and of the land-holding classes generally, both landlords and tenants, whether the sections should be retained in the law or not. In the current year the Board have reported on the question. The opinions quoted by them are divided on it to a remarkable degree, though somewhat preponderating in favour of cancelling the sections. The Board have reconsidered their original proposal for the simple repeal of the sections, and substituted other suggestions. The Lieutenant-Governor has, however, having regard to the diversity of opinions recorded and to other considerations, decided to give the sections a further trial, and the matter can be taken up again when the general working of the Act is passed under review. The Board state that there is still a feeling of reluctance on the part of the landlords to accept the fees, and in many cases they are ultimately deposited in the treasury, and never claimed by the landlords in whose favour they are deposited.

Preparation of price lists.

27. It has been settled during the year under the orders of Government, that the price lists of staple food-crops are to be prepared monthly, instead of fortnightly, as was previously done. The lists are said to have been regularly prepared and duly published at the head-quators of each district and the sub-divisions, and the procedure laid down in the rules was followed. No objection is reported to have been filed by anybody to the prices recorded, and it would appear from this that the people are either not familiar with these provisions of the law, or do not appreciate their object. As the Board observe, the importance of these price lists will probably not be understood by the tenants until the landlords begin to use them for the purpose of enhancing rents. It is not a matter in which Government are immediately concerned if the public at present show so little appreciation for these lists, and all that can be done is to ensure that the price lists are properly prepared and duly published.

Surveys, Settlements, and Record of rights.

28. The number of applications for surveys and settlements under Chapter X of the Act has diminished from 66 in the preceding year to 40, and the reason of the decrease is not clear. Of the 40, 16 related to Government estates, 1 to a Ward's estate, and 23 to private estates. There was a considerable amount of survey and settlement work done during the year. The operations extended to an area of 3,611,057 acres, of which 1,161,483 were surveyed during the year up to 31st March 1889. Of the area surveyed, 399,955 acres were comprised in Government estates, 717,123 in Ward's estates, and 44,405 acres in private estates. All the important areas were under survey by professional agency, and the whole of the proceedings were under the supervision of the Director of Land Records. It is a question for the Director to consider whether the number of estates taken in hand is not too large, and the area too extended for the thorough supervision that he should exercise over these operations Figures are given to show the cost of survey and settlement per acre, and presuming that they are correct, they vary considerably. For instance, in estates surveyed professionally, the cost per acre varies from four annas to six annas seven pies per acre, and the cost of settlement from ten pies to three annas eleven pies per acre. In non-professional surveys the cost ranges from two annas to one rupee and three pies per acre, and the cost of settlement, where it is stated, from two annas nine pies to nine annas one pie per acre. The total cost of both survey and settlement together ranges in estates surveyed by professional agency, from five annas ten pies to eight annas ten pies, and in the case of non-professional agency from two annas to one rupee per acre. These variations of course depend upon differences of the country dealt with, the personnel of the officers employed and other causes, but they render it very difficult for Government to accept an all-round estimate for work on a large scale. The Government estates dealt with during the year were Angul, Banki, the Julpigori Western Dooars, old thana Ramoo in Chittagong, Bhetia and Kamina Chuk in Midnapore, some petty estates in Backergunge and Tipperah, and the Port Canning estates in the 24-Pergunnahs. Allusion has already been made to the increase of revenue expected from Angul and the Western Dooars. Though Rs. 70,000 are entered in the latter case as the increase in the revenue estimated by the Settlement Officer, later correspondence shows that for the present the Director does not place it higher than Rs. 30,000 to Rs. 40,000.

The Ward's estates in which survey and settlement operations were conducted during the year were the Srinagar and Banaili Raj, Sunkerpore, Churamon, Maldwar, Burdwan Raj Khas Mohals, Kujong, and Kanika in Cuttack. These will be noticed more particularly when the Board's Annual Ward's report comes under review. The private estates dealt with were those of the Raja of Dubalhatti in Rajshahye, Kesiari, Bogree, Purusattampore, Purbapitpore in Midnapore, some small estates in Mozufferpore, mouza Jugodishpore in Chandauti in Burdwan, and Alakdia Durgapore in Tipperah. These proceedings were undertaken on the application of the landlords in consequence of disputes between them and their tenants. The Dubulhatti case threatened at one time to assume a serious aspect, and it is satisfactory that, since the close of the year, an amicable compromise on the basis of terms suggested by the Settlement Officer and the Director has been agreed to by the Raja and the great majority of the tenants. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with displeasure the very unsatisfactory work done by Baboo Bisseesur Banerjee as settlement officer in the petty estates under survey in Midnapore: the proceedings have turned out very expensive, and were so inefficiently conducted as to necessitate his removal from the duty; and it appears that under the law the Board are unable to interfere to correct his irregularities, so that the further expense of judicial appeals will be entailed on the parties. This officer should never have been selected for settlement duty. The whole question of the future usefulness and popularity of the settlement provisions of the Tenancy Act turns on the success, both legal and financial, of the early operations, and the necessity of entrusting them only to thoroughly capable officers and then of careful supervision at every stage is, the Lieutenant-Governor is sure, fully appreciated by the Director of Land Records. Since the close of the year an extensive programme of survey and settlement operations for the next five years has been submitted to the Government of India and is still under consideration. An important ruling has also been issued in connection with the question of the levy of costs by certificates and of the apportionment of costs under section 114 of the Tenancy Act. It has been decided, in consultation with the Legal Remembrancer, that the costs of operations under Chapter X of the Act can only be apportioned after the conclusion of the operations, and not by degrees while the survey and settlement are in progress; that steps for the realization of any portion of them, whether by the certificate procedure or otherwise, must be deferred until such apportionment; and that, unless a deposit has been made under sub-section 2 (a) of section 101, the funds must be advanced by the Government in the first instance.

Miscellaneous.

Inspections by Collectors of their own offices.

29. The half-yearly inspections of their offices are said to have been regularly made by Collectors in most districts: in nine districts only one inspection was made. The reasons generally ascribed for this neglect of duty are, as usual, the transfer of officers at or about the time when the inspection ought to be made, and the pressure of business arising out of the insufficiency of the district staff. The Board report that they continue to call the attention of officers to the distinct orders of Government on the subject. From the repeated omissions to observe these orders it would seem that this is insufficient, and it may be necessary, if these admonitions of the Board continue to be disregarded, to consider in the Appointment Department what further notice should be taken on the part of Government. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware of instances in which officers take two or three weeks to inspect their offices, and of other cases in which the inspections are carried out in the most perfunctory manner. He must insist again on the standing orders, which have long been in force, being observed, and he looks to the Commissioners and the Board to ensure that these inspections are made in an efficient and useful manner.

Training of officers in survey and settlement work.

30. It is satisfactory to read in the Board's report that "the importance of training young civilians in survey and settlement work, wherever possible, is being more and more realized, and during the year under report greater attention appears to have been paid to the subject than before." Mr. Lee, in Cuttack, and Baboo Kedarnath Roy, in Nuddea, are prominently mentioned for the knowledge they have acquired of this branch of their duties; and other officers are shown to have received practical training as opportunity offered. Sir Steuart Bayley is aware of the difficulties which militate against the acquisition of a knowledge of survey and settlement work, which must be useful throughout his service to every revenue officer. The assistants cannot always be spared from headquarters; they have to prepare for their examinations; and their ignorance of the language and customs of the country prevent their affording much aid in the operations which they are enabled to attend. These objections are, however, not insuperable, and the Lieutenant-Governor looks to Commissioners and to the Director to take every opportunity of employing young civilians on survey and settlement work, and in some divisions and districts for some time to come sufficient opportunities will certainly be available.

31. Allusion has already been made to the valuable work done by Mr. Reynolds as Member of the Board, and in other capacities in connection with the revenue administration of Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are also due to Mr. Halliday for his services as Officiating Member during Mr. Peacock's absence on leave: he has since been confirmed in the appointment on Mr. Reynolds' retirement. Both Mr. Finucane, and Mr. Collin as officiating for the former as Director of Land Records and Agriculture, carried on the duties of that department to the satisfaction of Government. The series of manuals for the guidance of officers on revenue matters, which were noticed in paragraph 33 of last year's Resolution, has been extended by the production of similar works on Land Registration and Partitions during the year, and it now only remains, on the Land Revenue side of the Board, to treat the subjects of Survey and Land Acquisition in the same manner, as soon as the rules now under discussion have been settled. The Lieutenant-Governor has observed with pleasure the names of the officers of various grades specially commended by the Board, and they will be noted in the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

SCARCITY IN THE PATNA DIVISION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FAMINE.

Darjeeling, the 3rd October, 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letters No. 61Get., dated the 22nd, and No. 61½Get., dated the 25th September, 1889, from the Commissioner of Patna, on the scarcity in that division during the period ending the 15th September, 1889.

Letter No. 66Get., dated the 20th September, from the Commissioner of Patna, on the subject of loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act.

These reports have again not been submitted punctually; the latest did not reach head-quarters until the 2nd October. The delay is very unsatisfactory to Government, as it prevents the issue of the Resolution for the fortnight under consideration until another equal period has elapsed. The Commissioner is requested to insist upon punctuality on the part of his Collectors.

The Lieutenant-Governor's tour.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor's tour in the affected districts of North Behar in the latter half of July and the beginning of August, and the circumstances which came under his observation and were reported to him, were fully described in the Resolution of this Government, dated the 15th August, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette. As the floods which had occurred in those districts by that date appeared to be of unusual duration and likely to prolong the scarcity and intensify the consequent suffering, His Honour deemed it desirable to pay another visit to Mozufferpore and ascertain the state of affairs and the sufficiency of the relief provided, not only in the areas previously affected by drought, but also in those tracts of country which had been subjected to inundation. On the 14th and 15th September he held conferences at Mozufferpore, at which the Commissioner of Patna, the Collectors of Mozufferpore, Durbhunga, and Chumparun, the Subdivisional Officer of Sitamarhi, the District Engineer of Mozufferpore, and Mr. W. B. Hudson, C.I.E., Secretary to the Tirhoot Planters' Association, were present. The information obtained from these gentlemen, and from the Commissioner's reports of earlier and later dates, may now be conveniently summarized in the succeeding paragraphs, with the orders which Sir Steuart Bayley has considered it necessary to issue at the time, and to be required by the present situation.

Durbhunga.

3. In the district of Durbhunga the rise of the number of persons on the relief works, from 5,726 at the end of July to 19,174 (or 19,187) and 19,570 in the successive fortnights in August, was at first sight unintelligible, as road works were being closed at the end of July. A full explanation was therefore called for, and has now been furnished. In July it was decided that the roads and the sides of the tanks should be finished, sloped and turfed, and orders were issued that this work should be completed before the end of September. In the absence of other forms of work and labour in the fields, the natural result was that the people, favoured by the weather, crowded to employment of a comparatively easy description and finished it very quickly. The District Engineer and local authorities were taken by surprise at the increase of numbers, but they should have foreseen and been able to explain at once the consequences of the orders which they had issued. The number fell to 9,158 by the 15th September and to 6,213 by the 22nd idem. The damage done in this district by the floods has been slight. They did not last long, and therefore they did but little harm. In Madhubani they passed away immediately, and every portion of the land flooded promises to bear a magnificent crop. The damage done to the bhadoi has been confined to small areas, and the loss in the higher lands has been compensated for by the rice sown in the flooded area. The Commissioner writes that the prospects of all crops are now unusually good, and that there is an excellent outturn from a very large bhadoi crop. The murwa and sathi rice are specially fine. The flood from the Ganges in the Balagach pergunnah was higher than usual and penetrated within the Bazitpore embankment, but little damage was done, and the effect on the rubbee will be beneficial. In the tracts which have been all along regarded as distressed, the condition of the people has much improved. The bhadoi outturn, now estimated at about 14 annas for the whole district, will easily carry on the people to the winter crop: the prices of food-grains are fast falling: rice has gone down from 12 seers to 14 seers 13 chittacks the rupee, and is cheaper than at the corresponding time last year: murwa has improved from 20 seers 9 chittacks to 24 seers the rupee, and makai from 17 seers 2 chittacks to 22 seers 13 chittacks, at which it stood on the 15th September. In the opinion of the local officers there will be no interval in which work will be required. The numbers on charitable relief are decreasing. On the 15th September there were 4,894 persons employed on tanks, including the 1,437 women and children on special tanks. Besides the latter, there are no other centres for the distribution of gratuitous relief, but private individuals are doing a little in this direction, and so are the circle officers as they move about the country. The system adopted in Durbhunga has been to keep works open as far as possible through the rainy season rather than elaborate the distribution of charitable relief. No alteration has been required in the district organization on account of the floods. There is money in hand for any advances that may be required under the Agriculturists' Loans Act. It was reported to His Honour while at Mozufferpore that the necessity for works, as relief operations, was past: the ordinary repairs of districts roads will commence in the middle of October. It was admitted on that occasion that the relief works might and should be closed up; but the Collector now attaches the reservation that if the hathiya rain is sufficient, no further works will be necessary. The Commissioner considers that Durbhunga may be removed from the list of distressed tracts. The Lieutenant-Governor perceives that the local officers are experiencing the difficulty which presents itself in all cases where relief operations have been carried out, viz, of winding them up. The rice crop depends doubtless largely on the hathiya rain, but it is in evidence that the bhadoi is sufficient to carry on the people to the winter crop, and that no work need be provided in the interval. The latest information is that very heavy rain fell in Durbhunga on the 22nd September; there have been since the 1st September up to 8 a.m. on the 29th 11·20 inches as compared with an average of 9·25 inches during the same period. The Commissioner considers that fine weather now and one shower of rain any time within a month will give a bumper rice crop. Under these circumstances, Sir Steuart Bayley does not consider that he would be justified in authorizing the further expenditure of funds on relief works. They must, therefore, be closed, and no further gratuitous relief should be given at the expense of Government. It should be intimated to all recipients of public charity that after a very few days no further provision will be made for them. Should the rainfall prove so deficient as to endanger the winter rice harvest, which does not appear probable at the present time, a further reference can be made to Government. The Commissioner is requested to report that these orders have been carried out.

Chumparun.

4. In the Chumparun district, it will be remembered, there have been two flooded areas—one in the Bettiah subdivision, the result of the heavy flood in the Sikrana (i.e., the Bor-Gunduck) and its kindred streams; the other in the south-west of the district from the bursting of the embankment of the Great Gunduck at the 60th mile. The Sikrana flood had gone down considerably by the 14th September, and though it was expected to rise, and did rise, temporarily from heavy rain, nothing further serious was anticipated. On the 25th September an extraordinarily high and sudden rise of this river again took place, but no details have been furnished. The tracts flooded by this river are likely to yield a fine rubbee crop; but the Commissioner expresses an apprehension (which the Lieutenant-Governor trusts will not be verified) that the Great Gunduck flood will continue too long to admit of rubbee growing on the ground covered by the water. The Officiating Collector has estimated that the crops have been destroyed or very badly injured over a large area, equivalent in the aggregate to their total destruction over an area of 117 square miles, with a population of 58,500, of whom 10 per cent. may be regarded as distressed. Part of the flooded area to the east of Motihari is the same as the old drought-distressed area. The prospects of the winter crops not submerged by the floods are excellent, and a 16-anna dhan crop is expected, having benefitted greatly by the late heavy rain. Prices have fallen considerably; rice now sells at 13 seers the rupee at Bettiah and 12 at Motihari; 17 seers of murwa and 14 of makai could be obtained for a rupee on the 15th September. The Lieutenant-Governor has specially investigated the amount of relief of different kinds which is being provided. On the 14th there were 1,600 men employed on the relief works at Segowli, on the Nepal road: there were also works in the Dhaka thana, but the number of labourers was unknown. Cooked food was being given at Motihari at that date to about 426 persons daily; uncooked food is still being distributed by canoongos to about 200 persons daily in the old affected area, and by other canoongos in the parts of the flooded area which are not contained in the Bettiah Raj or planters' villages. In this newly-affected area a total of 2,700 persons are receiving gratuitous relief in this shape. The indigo-planters are affording material assistance; in some cases the relief is given entirely at the private expense of the factories; in others it is shared with Government. The Bettiah Raj have taken all their own villages off the hands of Government, and the Madhuban Baboo has also undertaken some charitable relief. A canoongo and some police officers have also been sent round with money for distribution, where required, in the area flooded by the Gunduck. The excellent prospect of the crops outside the flooded area has had a favourable effect on prices: the makai is likely to yield a 10 annas crop, murwa 17 annas, and sathi rice 18 annas. But the mahajans will make no advances on any lands where the floods have destroyed the crops. It is expected that relief works will be necessary until the cold-weather crop is reaped in the area flooded by the Great Gunduck, and they will be available, when required. The agency for famine relief appeared to His Honour to be sufficient. On the application of the Collector he sanctioned the grant of an additional sum of Rs. 20,000 for loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act.

Mozufferpore.

5. The area affected by the floods of the Bor-Gunduck and the Bagmati rivers in this district has been carefully investigated and mapped by Mr. Disney, the District Engineer. To the south of the Turki bund and the Bagmati, a tract about 27 miles in length and varying from 1 to 3 miles in breadth, approximate area 81 square miles, has suffered most severely, the entire crops having been washed away, chiefly in consequence of the junction of the flood from the Bagmati with the spill from the Bor-Gunduck. This area includes a chain of churs, or shallow lakes, and is not cultivated all over, except in unusually dry years. Since the subsidence of the floods, half of this area has been replanted with paddy. Other areas on the same side of the Bagmati were less injured, and are likely, with favourable weather, to yield a fair winter crop. To the north of the Turki bund and the Bagmati, an area, calculated approximately at 38 square miles, was entirely swept by the floods and the original crops were destroyed. But the water drained off rapidly, and much replanting was quickly effected, so that the prospects are better than in the south. As the slope of the country increases as the Nepal frontier is approached, the lands near Poopree and Choraut, in Sitamarhi, remained flooded for comparatively a short time, and the damaged crop was promptly replaced by dhan seedlings. As this tract is adjacent to the drought-affected area in Sitamarhi, the recovery of the people will be retarded by the loss of a portion of the bhadoi. The above figures represent the extent of the worst losses; but 300 square miles were more or less injured, and the Collector has mentioned another area of 9 or 10 square miles near Kurnâul as having been flooded by the big Gunduck and Bya nullah. The worst part of all is about 12 miles east by west from Mozufferpore between Athar factory and Katara thana. In a tract north of Athar there is little hope of any crop. In the vicinity of Katara some Rajputs were found who, though within reach of gratuitous relief, were literally starving and declined to take a gift of any kind. Money was promptly sent out to be distributed in loans in such cases. Thus in Sitamarhi the harm done has been of a limited character; but on the large flooded area it is not expected that more than 4 annas of the total bhadoi crop will be saved; over the rest of the district a very good bhadoi crop is secured. It is too early to foretell the rice harvest with any certainty, but having regard to the extent of transplantation, and the greater area sown with dhan, there is no reason why the harvest should not be 75 per cent in the affected area, and a full 16-anna crop elsewhere. In the flooded areas many of the people are in want, and in the absence of employment in the fields are likely to require assistance for some time.

In the Sitamarhi subdivision there have been 14 Government relief centres where cooked or uncooked food has been given, and the management has been in the hands of responsible officers and planters, under the general supervision of the Sub-Deputy Collectors. The numbers reported on charitable relief at Government centres are 426 men, 2,668 women, 2,656 children, total 5,750, for 14 days; but it is not clear whether this is the daily average or the total of daily recipients. The daily average relieved by zemindars was 1,930 persons, and there was 1,131 persons, almost entirely children, at the kitchens. There have been also four large centres of private charity. The numbers on gratuitous relief are falling off daily, labour being found in the harvesting of the bhadoi crop. As many as 3,350 persons were employed on the 6th September on the light work of turfing the embankment of the Sitamarhi-Durbhunga Railway Extension Between the 28th August and the 11th September there was a daily average of 2,078 on Professional Agency works, which are understood to mean this railway extension. In August the daily average was 1,057, and in July 1,156 persons. The Commissioner directed the distribution of uncooked food to be stopped on the 15th September as far as possible, the kitchens to be maintained only for the young and the weak. Arrangements have also been made for the opening of light works, if necessary, in the north of the subdivision on the completion of the bhadoi harvest, but it was hoped that no extensive gratuitous relief would be required. The Commissioner considers Sitamarhi to be out of danger, though cholera was still prevalent.

In the Sudder subdivision relief in cooked food is given daily at the American Mission and at the cutcherry at Mozufferpore, and in the shape of uncooked food at 16 indigo factories. Four canoongos have also been engaged in going about from place to place to make enquiries and lists of people in want, and they are supplied with money to relieve urgent distress wherever they find it. To ensure that the canoongos leave no village unvisited (some indications having appeared that their enquiries were not so thorough as they should be) and to supervise their work in detail, an Assistant Superintendent of Police, Mr. Gayer, has been transferred from Bankipore and placed under the Collector's orders. Prices have been stationary, rice being at 12½ seers the rupee at Mozufferpore on the 14th and at Sitamarhi, and 9 seers 12 chittacks at Bela; makai was at 16 seers the rupee at the Sudder station.

The mahajuns have still refused to lend in the flooded tracts. The prospects of the crops outside the submerged areas are good. The distress in the Sudder subdivision is expected to last until the dhan, which will mitigate it to some extent, comes in: but some people will remain on the hands of Government until the rubbee is garnered. It is an unusual feature of the year's cultivation that a second transplantation of well grown rice seedlings is going on with a view to leave a larger area free for rubbee. The Lieutenant-Governor decided at Mozufferpore that it would be insufficient to trust to charitable relief, and that it would be necessary to start relief works again. He therefore directed that they should be opened as soon as possible with a view to di minish the number of people in receipt of gratuitous relief. The District Engineer reports that ordinary repairs on roads are not commenced until the middle or end of October, but that he will have work soon available for two months on repairs of cart liks for about 350 miles. The factories began to provide work for able bodied men in digging up lands, but heavy rain stopped it. Arrangements were also made for a Joint-Magistrate to be sent to Mozufferpore with a view to set the Collector more free to attend to the relief operations. The Commissioner reports the daily average numbers of men, women, and children receiving charitable relief in the Sudder subdivision of Mozufferpore from 2nd August to 11th September as follows:—

At cost of	Men.	Women.	Children.	Total.	Cost.
					Rs.
Indigo factories	645	2,279	3,482	6,406	..
Zemindars	92	102	156	350	...
Government	221	611	545	1,377	...
Total ...	958	2,992	4,183	8,133	3,333

This statement of daily averages is not of much value, as the situation has changed more than once during the period it covers. The Collector on the 15th September stated that about 8,000 souls were being fed in the flooded tracts, and that two-thirds of this number were likely to require relief till the 15th December. He furnished detailed figures up to 7,555, and had received no returns from several factories.

Uniformity in statements.

6 The figures in these reports have been furnished in so unmethodical a manner and without regard to uniformity in the districts that it is impossible to state with any accuracy how many persons in the division were on relief work or in receipt of gratuitous relief at any given date. In compliance with the Government of India's letter No. 89—2-52, dated 19th September, 1889, the Commissioner of Patna has been directed to furnish a statement at the date of each fortnightly report showing the numbers—of men, women, and children. This should be separately furnished for each district.

(a) on relief works,
(b) on gratuitous relief,

Loans.

7. The question of the agency through which the advances of Government money to the distressed people should be made under the Agriculturists' Loans Act has been much considered during the past two months. It has been recognized that this is a form of relief very well suited to the exigencies of the situation, and one, moreover, that is likely in the end to prove economical. But the distress in this tract came very suddenly and very urgently, and the agency requisite to make the enquiries enjoined by the rules in each individual case is not forthcoming, and time would be necessary to organize it. An agency is ready to hand in the planters, who are fully acquainted with the circumstances of their ryots, and are in many cases willing to act as distributors. When the proposal that loans should be made to the distressed people through the planters came before the Lieutenant-Governor, he was prepared to regard it favourably, but considered it expedient to enquire how the plan would work; for instance, whether the loans were to be made directly and absolutely to the planters; whether Government was to look to them for repayment without having to bring on their books the individuals whom the planters might relieve, or whether the planters were merely to be the distributing channel, the recipient ryots being the debtors to Government. In the latter case, would the planters make themselves responsible as security for the ultimate recovery of the loan, and would the rate of interest be that fixed for Government loans under the Board's rules? In the former case, was there any stipulation as to the rate at which the loans would be recovered by the planters? While allowing that it would be right that they should have a margin for bad debts and for costs of recovery, it also seemed to His Honour necessary that there should be some stipulation to prevent the interest being more than sufficient for these purposes, and to avoid the introduction of an element of profit. It was ascertained at the conference held at Mozufferpore on the 14th September that in that district loans were being distributed to the ryots in three ways. First, the planters take the loans from Government at 6¼ per cent. and are themselves responsible to Government: no further enquiry is made by the Collector, and no other names, but those of the planters, are on the Collectors' books. Second, individual ryots take the loans with the assistance of the planters, i.e, the ryots are responsible, though their respectability is vouched for by the planters: the lists are tested by the planters, but only the ryots' names appear in the bonds, and the planters are not legally responsible. Third, other ryots, outside the factory areas, are taking loans on joint and several security under the rules. The question was raised whether there would be any objection, in the special circumstances of the case, to planters borrowing from Government at 6¼ per cent. and lending to ryots at 12 per cent., where the planters make themselves responsible. The difference in the interest would cover bad debts (which should be nil), but it would not be large enough in amount, the total amount of loans taken by a number of persons being only between Rs. 50,000 and a lakh, to lead to financial speculation. It was, however, ascertained that the planters themselves did not as a rule desire to recover anything more than the interest demanded by Government, and following the example of what had been done in Chumparun, it was decided to ask each recipient of the loan for an assurance, by a separate letter apart from the bond, that they would not recover more than 6¼ per cent. interest. It was similarly agreed that maliks might be allowed to give the required security and take loans where they are well known to the authorities; but that care should be taken to prevent the maliks from making a business out of the loans, or regarding them as affording opportunities for a financial venture. Between the 28th August and 14th September the Collector of Mozufferpore advanced Rs. 18,425 in agricultural loans in the Sudder subdivision. By the 28th September he had advanced nearly Rs. 50,000. On the 29th September, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctioned the sum of Rs. 30,000 for agricultural loans in this district in addition to the sums previously granted. From the Commissioner's reports it appears that good use is being made of this scheme, and that no difficulty in recovering the loans is apprehended.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Patna Division for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution, and of the Commissioner's report dated 25th September, be forwarded for the information of the Government of India.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CORPORATION FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Darjeeling, the 3rd October 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Calcutta Municipal Corporation for the year 1888-89.

This report, which is submitted by the recently-appointed Commissioners for the amalgamated area of the Town and Suburbs, describes the administration of the Calcutta Corporation during the last year of the tenure of office of the Commissioners appointed under Act IV (B C.) of 1876.

2. The report is preceded by an introductory chapter on the completion of the works for doubling the water-supply to the town. This is the principal great work for the improvement of the city with which the late body of Commissioners are identified. Including the increase to the unfiltered supply, the total project has cost Rs. 61,75,600 The object briefly stated was to increase the filtered supply of water from eight to twenty million gallons per diem, of which four millions were to be set apart for the Suburbs. For this purpose new machinery and engines, two large settling tanks and 24 filters have been provided at Pulta; a second iron main, 48 inches in diameter, has been laid down to convey the filtered water twelve miles to the pumping-station at Tallah; additional engines have been set up at Tallah to apply the pressure necessary to distribute the whole of the supply partly during the day direct into the pipes and partly during the night into the reservoir, from which it is distributed by subsidiary pumping-stations during the following day; the reservoir at Tallah has been enlarged to a capacity of three million gallons; additional engine-power has been afforded to the Wellington Square engines; a complete new pumping-station with machinery and reservoir has been opened out in Halliday Street, and the necessary additional piping has been laid down in Calcutta for the distribution of the water. The cost of these works may be shown in round figures as follows:—

	Rs.
Works at Pulta	18,60,000
Iron main	17,75,000
Works at Tallah and Wellington Square	4 70,600
Works at Halliday Street	6,63,000
Piping in Calcutta	6,57,000
	54,25,600
Unfiltered water-supply extension...	7,50,000
Total ...	61,75,600

3. This large outlay has entirely met the object for which it was incurred. In 1885-86 the average daily supply of filtered water to the town was 8,106,000 gallons. During April, May, and June of the present year the supply has exceeded 16½ million gallons. The daily supply in the town of Calcutta now amounts to 40 gallons of filtered water per head of the population and to 7½ gallons of unfiltered water. Arrangements have already been made for supplying as quickly as possible all that portion of the added suburban area which will derive its supply direct from the Calcutta mains.

4. Even now, however, it is anticipated that a further additional expenditure of about ten lakhs will have to be incurred at Pulta and at Tallah; and the construction of a new pumping-station is contemplated for the proper supply of water to the large and compact area which has been added by the recent amalgamation. The Commissioners also record their opinion that, looking to the future requirements of Calcutta, it is not safe to suppose that the enlarged Corporation will be permanently satisfied with the present supply of 20 million gallons per diem of filtered and 4 of unfiltered water. They justly write—

"The change of feeling on the question of the advantages of a filtered water-supply which has taken place in the native community is one of the most remarkable and encouraging symptoms of the times. Instead of the storm of opposition which the water had first to encounter, it is now undoubtedly the most appreciated of all the sanitary improvements of the city, and the votes which have from time to time been asked for in order to carry out the extension have been passed without stint as soon as their necessity has been sufficiently established."

5. The Lieutenant Governor is glad to take this opportunity of cordially congratulating the Commissioners of the Town not less on the success which has attended their efforts in the accomplishment of what is really a great undertaking than on the policy which animates them on all matters connected with the improvement of the water-supply. It is a source of no ordinary satisfaction to know that their example is being followed by other municipalities, and that the popular appreciation of a pure water-supply which is derived from the experience of Calcutta is rapidly spreading to all the larger towns of this province

6. The attendance of the Commissioners during the year at general meetings and at committees was as usual very satisfactory. Among the important measures which were discussed, the Lieutenant-Governor deems it necessary to refer only to two or three items. The application to the Government of India, asking for a reconsideration of the orders refusing to make a grant of two lakhs available from the surplus funds of the Howrah Bridge as a contribution in aid of the proposed new road from the bridge to Sealdah, was unsuccessful: but after the close of the year that Government has been pleased to authorize the Port Commissioners to lend to the Corporation a sum of two lakhs of rupees for three years without interest, on the understanding that the Commissioners sanctioned the construction of the road. This offer has been accepted, and proceedings for the acquisition of the land are now being pushed on. The credit of the conception of this improvement, which will immensely benefit the most crowded and unventilated portions of Calcutta, is due to the late body of Commissioners, although the road itself will be constructed under the authority of their successors.

The subject of tank-filling was fully considered at several meetings of the Commissioners. The practice of filling tanks with refuse was introduced by Dr. Payne in 1876. Having come to the conclusion that the foul tanks were the chief causes of cholera, and finding that the expense of filling them up with earth was so great that he would never be able to compel the owners to obliterate them in this way, he resorted to filling them with town refuse as the lesser of two evils. It is explained that this process was never favoured by the Commissioners, but they could not resist Dr. Payne's earnest and confident insistance, and therefore tolerated it. They have very readily followed their present Health Officer, Dr. Simpson, in his condemnation of it, and have again prohibited it. A prosecution, which was instituted during the year against the Corporation for causing a public nuisance by the filling of a particular tank, was withdrawn before the Sessions by the Advocate-General, who satisfied himself that the nuisance had been greatly exaggerated, and the Corporation then filled up the remaining portion of the tank with earth. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that a proposal for the destruction of refuse by burning has also been under consideration, and that it has eventually been agreed to try the experiment both in regard to town and suburban refuse.

7. The total income of the Municipality was Rs. 32,73,274, against Rs. 31,22,226 in the previous year, and the expenditure Rs. 31,87,126, against Rs. 30,37,167. No fresh loans were contracted, although the sanction of Government was accorded in February 1889 to raising a loan of Rs. 5,00,000, for the extension of water-supply which was successfully floated after the close of the year. Rupees 2,08,023 of debt were paid off during the year, and at its close the loan liability of the Corporation was Rs. 1,75,71,159. The Assessor's valuation of the town which, on the 31st March 1879, was Rs. 1,29,85,166, had increased on the 31st March 1889 to Rs. 1,44,86,479. This increase during a period of ten years is less than the Lieutenant-Governor would have expected, having regard to the known increase in the value of property in Calcutta.

8. The total bustee expenditure during the year was Rs. 2,61,274, against Rs. 3,33,416 incurred in 1887-88 and Rs. 2,03,244 in 1886-87. Notwithstanding the obstruction met with from the owners in such localities as Moydatolee bustee, the progress made was considerable, and the scheme of improvement upon which the Commissioners embarked on the recommendation of Sir Henry Harrison a few years ago is approaching completion. In regard to drainage works, the expenditure debited to Capital account amounted to Rs. 4,65,053. The Engineer's report describes how further progress has been made in piercing undrained and insanitary localities with roads and sewers. Mr. Kimber writes of one ward—

"The construction of four new roads through the 'Putooatolla block' has effected the most striking improvement of a locality hitherto absolutely inaccessible to drainage and conservancy operations alike, and consequently in an indescribable state of neglect in both respects A number of filthy tanks, which were the recognized cesspools of the whole block, have been obliterated; numerous privies which from inaccessibility could be but rarely cleaned fell within the road lines and were demolished, and it became practicable to cart away large refuse heaps in various stages of decay, the accumulation of years."

This affords a good illustration of the improvements effected by the Municipality in localities which were formerly impossible to penetrate without a sense of nausea; but the Lieutenant-Governor cannot conceal from himself that the value of these improvements, great as they undoubtedly are, is too often materially diminished by the insufficient width of the new streets which are constructed. In Putooatolla the new roads are only 12 and 16 feet in width; and the width of many of the new roads, as they are called, which have been opened out during the past year, is stated to be only 9 feet. The construction of such narrow roads is calculated to perpetuate the greatest of the insanitary evils under which Calcutta now labours. It is impossible to exaggerate the harm done to the health of the inhabitants of the city by the narrow streets and crowded buildings which entirely exclude the purifying influence of light and air. The statistics which the Commissioners themselves furnish indicate the radical structural defects of Calcutta as a residential city. The road-way of the town is described in the Engineer's report as extending over 184 miles, of which only 28 miles are roads of 32 feet in width and upwards; 103 miles vary in width from 9 to 31 feet, 17 miles are less than 9 feet in width, and 34 miles are sewered ditches which, from the nature of the case, are often not more than 3 feet in width. Under these circumstances, it is satisfactory to find that in Raja Bagan bustee the new roads opened out during the year are 30 feet in width, and the Lieutenant-Governor observes that under the provisions of the new law it has been proposed that all new streets intended for carriage ways shall have a minimum width of 40 feet, and all new streets passing through bustees shall have a minimum width of 16 or 20 feet. It is impossible for the houses in any locality to be in a healthy condition with less frontage than this. The Lieutenant-Governor has no hesitation in saying that if the full benefits of an extended water-supply and scientific underground drainage are to be enjoyed in Calcutta, they must be accompanied by a corresponding improvement in the surface ventilation of the city.

9. The drainage of the Suburbs has still to be undertaken, and the proper alignment of streets and houses in the Suburbs, where large tracts are still available for building purposes, is one of the most important and responsible duties which now devolves upon the new Commissioners.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that the judicious action taken by the Commissioners in largely increasing the number of municipal refuse wagons, facilitated by the energy and resource of their contractor, Baboo Bhoba Nath Sen, has resulted in a great improvement in the working of the municipal railway, and that, as reported by the Engineer, the work of unloading the refuse at the Salt Water Lakes has been performed for the first time on record without a single hitch. The number of wagon-loads removed was 16,073, against 13,755 in 1887-88, and the weight of material carried to the Lakes is estimated at 153,678 tons.

11. The Commissioners' report concludes, as usual, with a chapter on sanitation, in which the report of the Health Officer is reviewed at some length. The total mortality of the year amounted to 26·9, thus showing a slight improvement over the average of the previous ten years, which is 28·7. The mortality from fever was the lowest on record, but there was an increase in the number of cholera deaths. The continuous decrease in the number of fever deaths is referred to by the Commissioners as a conspicuous instance of the good results which have followed the large expenditure on water-supply, drainage, and sanitation in Calcutta. The mortality during four triennial periods is as follows:—

Triennial period.	Total mortality from fever.
1877-79	16,033
1880-82	11,180
1883-85	10,891
1886-88	9,873

The rate of mortality in Calcutta from fever is now only 7·3 per thousand, against 14·3 per thousand in the Suburbs and 16·53 per thousand in the whole province. In the mofussil, however, the nomenclature of disease with reference to mortuary statistics is so backward that fever is made to cover a very large number of deaths which, under better diagnosis, would be shown under other heads, and this consideration, together with the known incompleteness of registration in the interior, vitiates any comparison between the figures of Calcutta and those of the province generally. On the whole, however, the Lieutenant-Governor does not doubt that the Commissioners are justified in pointing to the figures of diminished mortality from fever as an evidence of the result of improved sanitation.

Dr. Simpson raises a question whether in Calcutta, as well as in the interior, the figures have not in the past been vitiated by the tendency of uninstructed persons to report as deaths from fever much mortality due to other causes, and indicates that the increase in the mortality from "Other causes" throws doubt on the genuineness of the decrease in the number of deaths from fever; but in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion the Commissioners conclusively demonstrate, both from municipal and hospital statistics that there has been a real decline in the mortality from fever; and though the improvement in deaths from other causes has not kept pace with this, yet under the two heads taken together the decrease is steady and substantial. On this point, as well as on others relating to the water-supply, the Commissioners bring prominently to notice the differences which mark their own point of view regarding sanitary progress in Calcutta from the somewhat exclusively critical attitude assumed by their Health Officer. The Lieutenant Governor has read this portion of their report with special attention, and he has not failed during the course of the year to watch very closely the symptoms and published expressions of divergent opinion between the Commissioners and Dr. Simpson, which, from time to time, have been manifested in the proceedings of the Corporation. The present relations between the Commissioners and the Health Officer are much to be regretted. The Commissioners complain that Dr Simpson, on pointing out the defects in the sanitary condition of Calcutta, employs an unreasonable standard of comparison, owing to his ignorance of the former condition of affairs, and that he fails to recogize the obstacles, both financial and social, which necessarily render progress a slow and laborious task. Above all, they think he does not give the Commissioners credit for the good work they have already done, and that by adopting a severely critical, instead of a sympathetic, tone, he increases friction and stimulates resistance to his projects. There can be no doubt that Dr. Simpson makes it his object to set forth in the plainest terms existing defects, and the remedies which, as an expert, he advises, while he leaves it to others to dwell upon the achievements already effected, and if he were altogether an outside critic, the Commissioners would probably take no exception to this attitude. It is his failure to identify himself with the body who have chosen him as their adviser that seems to be the real foundation of their complaints. It is impossible to read Dr. Simpson's reports without entertaining a very favourable impression of his thoroughness and ability as a sanitarian, or of the single-minded zeal with which he throws himself into his work. The fruits of his energy are visible in the effect he has already produced in all departments of sanitary improvement But the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the gifts he possesses might be turned to a still more valuable and effective use if he were to strive more fully to realize, as many of his predecessors were able to do, that progress which is brought about by conviction, though it may be slow, is more permanent and widespread than that which is produced unwillingly by condemnation and coercion. The following words were used by Lord Ripon in reply to an address from the Rangoon Municipality:—"In our opinion it is a distinct credit to any district officer if he is found to work through and with the municipality with which he has to do, and it seems to me that it is better that useful reforms should be postponed for a year or two, and ultimately carried out with the consent of local bodies, and in the form most acceptable to them, than that they should be adopted at once with a disregard of the feelings of the local body." The spirit of these remarks is strictly applicable to Calcutta. They reflect the policy which has been adopted for many years by the responsible authorities in the Calcutta Corporation, and whatever success has attended municipal administration in the metropolis is due to their recognition of it. The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that in dealing with a body like the Calcutta Corporation no other policy can succeed; but while it is a pity that there should be any failure on Dr. Simpson's part to appreciate and act up to this policy, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot but record also his regret that so much of the Commissioners' report should be taken up with hostile comments on Dr. Simpson's statements and his mental attitude. Of Dr. Simpson's singleness of purpose in commenting on the sanitary deficiencies of Calcutta there can be no question, nor can there be any doubt of the existence of these deficiencies, and of the obligation that rests on the Commissioners to remedy them as soon as their means permit. Surely it were wiser to accept in good part Dr. Simpson's criticisms as indicating the direction in which the duty of the Commissioners lies, rather than to complain to the public of his want of sympathy and of his failure to emphasize the good work already done by the Corporation. After all the question for a progressive body is not what has been done, but what remains to be done, and it is on this that Dr. Simpson lays most stress.

12. The first election of Commissioners under the new Municipal Consolidation Act, II (B.C.) of 1888, was held on the 15th March 1889. This is the first election held in Calcutta, under which personal voting has been enforced; and while in some respects it gave better results than previous elections, it was a partial failure in others. The lists of voters being taken from the municipal registers in accordance with the new law were, in consequence of the habitual failure to register, found to be full of the names of deceased persons and of former owners. It is also to be regretted that the European community took little interest in the elections, and did not nearly put forth its full strength in voting.

13 The services rendered by the executive officers of the Corporation were acknowledged in last year's Resolution, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe in the present report that the same officers have continued to merit the Commissioners' approval. Sir Henry Harrison, who was Chairman of the Corporation throughout the year, enjoys in all respects the complete confidence of the Lieutenant-Governor in the discharge of his difficult duties.

A letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 5260, dated the 16th instant, reporting on the above.

The wife of Kazi Syed Reza Hossein, Khan Bahadoor, of Patna, has offered to execute two wakf deeds with a view to promote the education of Muhammadan young men and women in Behar. By the first of these she proposes to assign an estate yielding an annual net income of Rs. 900 to be appropriated for the scholastic training of Muhammadan boys, Beharis by birth, wherever they choose to study, leaving it entirely to the discretion of the trustee or trustees appointed to settle, with regard to the circumstances of each student, the amount to be awarded to him. So long as she and her husband are alive, it is intended that they shall act as joint trustees of the wakf, and on the death of either, that the survivor shall remain the sole trustee, the Government of Bengal, on the demise of both, being left either to assume the trusteeship or to delegate its powers to some respectable and trustworthy Muhammadan gentleman of Behar, subject to general supervision as to the due appropriation of the income.

2. By the second wakf the founder desires to assign an estate yielding an annual rental of Rs. 250 for appropriation towards the education of Muhammadan girls of Behar. The terms of the trusteeship proposed are, at the outset, identical with those laid down in connection with the other endowment; but it is stipulated in this case that, on the death of both the donor and her husband, her or his nominee shall succeed to the trusteeship, and that that nominee shall eventually have the right to name a successor in the office of trustee, the Government of Bengal having, however, a power of general superintendence throughout the succession.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to accept this offer, and tenders his thanks to Musummat Qasiman, wife of Kazi Syed Reza Hossein, Khan Bahadoor, for her public spirit and liberality.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Patna for information and for communication to the donor, and that a copy be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The Report of the Committee for the Management of the Calcutta Zoological Gardens for the year 1888-89.

The total income of the Gardens during the period under report, inclusive of the Government grant of Rs. 19,504, and the opening balance amounting to Rs. 1,286, was Rs. 52,737, against Rs. 45,279 in the previous year. The expenditure incurred reached the figure of Rs. 41,458, against Rs. 43,992 in 1887-88.

2. An income of Rs. 7,050 was derived from donations and subscriptions as against Rs. 1,030 in the preceding year, this large increase being due to a munificient donation of Rs. 5,000 made by the Nawab of Moorshedabad, in addition to a donation of a similar amount made by him two years ago. The entrance receipts amounted to Rs 9,452, against Rs. 8,294 in 1887-88, and the receipts from the other sources detailed on the margin aggregated Rs. 15,234, against Rs. 7,684 in the previous year. The Lieutenant-Governor presumes that animals are sold only when they can be conveniently spared from the Gardens, as being extra specimens not required for the purpose of exhibition.

	Rs.
Rents	2,356
Carriages and horses ..	530
Boats and palkies	549
Sale of animals ..	8,648
Fête and Fancy fair receipts	2,884
Miscellaneous ...	267

3. The establishment employed in the Gardens cost Rs. 9,859, or Rs. 50 more than in the preceding year; feeding Rs. 8,324, against Rs. 9,335; the purchase of animals Rs. 3,211; the transport of animals Rs. 317, and contingencies Rs. 299. The opening balance of the year was, as stated incidentally above, Rs. 1,286, and the closing balance Rs. 11,278. This balance, however, it is explained, is not a real one, as the greater portion of it is due for substantial works in progress at the end of the year.

4. The expenditure under the head of "Repairs and construction" was Rs. 15,343. Some additions and alterations were made to the Surnomoye House, with a view to affording as much protection as possible to its inmates from the atmosphere of the cold-weather nights, and at the same time utilizing all the available space in the building for the exhibition of the birds. Four new kiosks were also built with the materials purchased at the sale of the menagerie of His Majesty the late ex-King of Oudh. The Committee are acting wisely in replacing, so far as their funds admit, the old unsightly and temporary structures by elegant sheds and shelters of a more permanent character.

5. The number of visitors to the Gardens was 111,573, against 108,041 in the previous year, but these figures do not include a large number of students and children under eight years of age who were admitted free of charge.

6. The Committee report that "the most interesting event that has ever happened in the annals of the Calcutta Zoological Gardens, since its foundation, occurred during the year in the birth of a young Rhinoceros." A consignment of animals and birds was received in exchange from the Zoological Society's Garden, London; a Rusa deer was received from the Zoological Society's Garden, Hamburg; and several tigers were acquired by presentation and purchase. One of the latter was the gift of Mr. G. A. Tweedie, C.S., of Bijnour, North-Western Provinces. There were in all 42 presentations as against 131 in the course of 1887-88. His Honor trusts that the Committee will do all in their power to maintain this source of supply of exhibits, and he looks to the District Officers to afford assistance in this matter. He desires to acknowledge cordially the co-operation of the public in contributing specimens of animals, &c., to the Gardens.

7. As the Zoological Gardens have now been in existence for 13 years (since 1875 76), it is presumable that many events have taken place among the large number of animals, birds, &c., exhibited from time to time which would be of interest to the scientific world and to persons interested in zoology ; also that considerable experience must have been gained in the management of animals, birds, &c., in confinement, and their treatment in sickness, which would be of practical use to the managing bodies of other Zoological Gardens and to individuals who have private collections. Sir Steuart Bayley is strongly of opinion that it is incumbent on all persons who keep animals in captivity to avoid, as far as possible, anything like cruelty (such as want of space, or air, proper food or cleanliness) in their treatment, and he recognizes that the Zoological Gardens' Managing Committee set an excellent example in this respect. He would venture to suggest that from the records of the Committee and the recollections of their able Superintendent, it would be possible for them to produce a hand-book, which might be of great use to the numerous nobles and other persons who on a smaller scale keep collections of animals or birds in captivity.

8. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the members of the Committee for their efficient management of the Gardens during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The Humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 17 years. The number of stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 4th of October 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 7th October 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 4TH OF SEPTEMBER 1889.

At the end of last week a shallow depression had moved over the north-east of the Bay, and without affecting the general character of the weather, gave very low pressure in Bengal, especially in the neighbourhood of the hills. It was followed by a moist current along the eastern boundary of Bengal, and this gradually extending northwards, cloudy weather with rain was experienced at the extreme eastern stations, Chittagong, Comillah, Silchar, and as far north as Darjeeling, where the cloudy weather with light rain has continued throughout the week. This rain-bearing current did not extend westwards, so that the greater part of the province has been almost rainless, and Behar altogether, except in Purneah, where one or two very light showers have been reported. The depression which covered Bengal at the end of the week gradually filled up, there being an uninterrupted rise of pressure during the first five days of the week, and this resulted in an entirely different distribution from what obtained at the commencement when the seat of lowest pressure was Bengal and of high pressure the south of the Bay. After the very rapid rise on Tuesday, the highest pressure was in Burmah and the lowest in Orissa and the Circars. This tendency towards the distribution of pressure characteristic of the change of seasons continued on Wednesday, when pressure was high in Bengal and low in Madras. Pressure fell during the last two days of the week, but continued relatively high in Bengal, in the central districts of which a very shallow depression formed, within which the lowest pressure was two to three hundredths of an inch below that of the surrounding districts. It was accompanied by a slight cyclonic circulation, and remained unchanged during the following day, the last of the present week. Though gradients were steep over the Bay of Bengal during the early part of the week, and a strongish current was blowing along the eastern boundary of the province, this was prevented from going westward over the province by the westerly winds which were coming from Central India towards the low-pressure area over Bengal. They continued till the rise of pressure removed the defect and then irregular light winds prevailed, the rain-bearing current ceasing to blow with any strength.

Pressure—Changes have been given above. Low pressure prevailed during the early part of the week, when there was large defect over the whole of Bengal. With the continued rise during the first five days, the defect gradually diminished and was replaced by nearly as large an excess. On Wednesday it exceeded a tenth of an inch in all districts except Behar, but it diminished during the following days, and on Friday was generally about a twentieth of an inch. The mean pressure for the week does not differ much from the normal, and these differences are somewhat irregular. There is defect of about two hundredths of an inch in Behar, part of North Bengal and Assam, but in the other districts the difference is generally under one hundredth of an inch.

Temperature—Has been above the normal at all except a few stations, owing to the general absence of rain. These exceptions are in East and North Bengal, where almost the only rain fell that was received in Bengal during the week. At Chittagong there is defect of 1°, Bogra 1·3°, Dinagepore and Julpigoree a few tenths of a degree. At the other stations excess ranges up to nearly 3° at Midnapore, and is smallest in Behar, where it is generally under 1°. The means for the larger divisions are all above the normal. Excess is largest in Orissa and South-West Bengal, 1·6° in each, and is eight or nine-tenths of a degree in all the others except North Bengal, where it is half a degree.

Rainfall.—The only rain that fell during the early part of the week was in East Bengal and the Darjeeling Hill Tracts, and during the latter half was from scattered showers in Orissa, South-West, East and North Bengal. On Saturday, the 28th, there were some very heavy falls in Chittagong—Cox's Bazar over 6 inches, Kutubdia 4·3 inches, Chittagong 2·4 inches. At Harrishpore, in the Noakholly district, nearly 3 inches fell. Some other falls of about an inch have been reported, but generally the showers have been light and local. The heaviest total fall in Orissa for the whole week is 1·8 inches at Cuttack, and nearly all stations received more than half an inch. In South-West Bengal rain fell at a few places only, and was light in amount. In East Bengal, amounts have been large in Chittagong only, and in North Bengal the heaviest is 1·3 inches at Darjeeling and Siliguri. The only rain in Behar and Chutia Nagpur fell at Purneah, Gondwara, Nya Doomka, and Semtagurah. The average falls are largely in defect:—North Bengal 1·5 inches, North Behar 1·4 inches, Orissa 1·2 inches, South Behar and Chutia Nagpur nearly 1 inch, East Bengal 0·9 inch, and South-West Bengal 0·4 inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 4th of October 1889 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently equal; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

N.B.—In the monthly abstract for August 1889 in the last but 3 lines for "apparently equal" read "apparently about 0·6 higher."

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

And whereas by Order in Council, dated the 26th day of June 1873, Her Majesty was pleased to direct as follows:—

(1) As regards sailing ships, that merchant sailing ships of the said German Empire, the measurement whereof should, after the said 1st day of January 1873, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such sailing ships, testified by the date thereof, should be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in such registers and other national papers in the manner and to the same extent and for the same purpose in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificate of registry of British sailing ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships.

(2) As regards steam-ships, that merchant ships belonging to the said German Empire, which are propelled by steam or any other power requiring engine-room, the measurement whereof should, after the said 1st day of January 1873, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such steam-ships, testified by the dates thereof, should be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted on such registers or other national papers in the same manner and to the same extent and for the same purpose in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificate of registry of British ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships: Provided, nevertheless, that should the owner or master of any such German steam-ship desire the deduction for engine-room in his ship to be estimated under the rules for engine-room measurement, and deduction applicable to British ships instead of under the German rule, the engine-room should be measured, and the deduction calculated according to the British rules.

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that a new Imperial Ordinance, which came into operation on the 20th day of June 1888, stipulates that the owners of German steam-ships may have the net tonnage of their vessels calculated according to British as well as according to German rules, and shall have issued to them a separate certificate to be used in foreign countries showing the net tonnage calculated according to British rules:

And whereas it has been made to appear desirable to Her Majesty that the provisions of the said recited Order in Council of the 26th day of June 1873 should be revoked, and a new Order in Council made and substituted in lieu thereof:

NOW, THEREFORE, Her Majesty, in virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Acts, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct that the said recited Order of the 26th day of June 1873 shall be, and the same is hereby, revoked, and in lieu thereof, and in substitution therefor, Her Majesty is hereby pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to direct as follows:—

(1) As regards sailing ships, that merchant sailing ships of the said German Empire, the measurement whereof, after the said 1st day of January 1873, has been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such sailing ships, testified by the date thereof, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in such registers and other national papers in the same manner and to the same extent and for the same purpose in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificate of registry of British sailing ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships.

(2) As regards steam-ships, that merchant ships belonging to the said German Empire, which are propelled by steam or any other power requiring engine-room, the measurement whereof shall, after the said 1st day of January 1873, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such steam-ships, testified by the dates thereof, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted on such registers or other national papers in the same manner and to the same extent and for the same purpose in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificate of registry of British ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships: Provided, nevertheless, that if the owner or master of any such German steam-ship desires the deduction for engine-room in his ship to be estimated under the rules for engine-room measurement and deduction applicable to British ships instead of under the German rule, the engine-room shall be measured, and the deduction calculated according to the British rules, and that, in the event of any such steam-ship possessing a certificate of tonnage or other national paper issued as aforesaid on or after the 20th day of June 1888, denoting the net registered tonnage of such ship under the British rules, the ship shall be deemed to be of the tonnage so denoted thereon.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the "Gazette of India."]

The following orders, issued by the Government of India, in the Home Department, are republished for general information.

Chief Secy. to the Govt of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

PUBLIC.

Simla, the 11th October 1889.

No. 1812.—The following rules regarding the submission of petitions to the Government of India are published for general information :—

Note 1.—In these rules the words 'Local Government' includes a Local Administration, and also except as regards Rule 3 (7), Section III, the head of a department directly under the Government of India.

Note 2.—These rules do not apply to non-pensionable subordinate, clerical and menial establishments employed in the construction and working of State Railways, to whom Circular No. VI Railway, Public Works Department, dated 1st June 1888, applies.

Note 3.—These Rules apply so far as may be to all memorials, letters, and applications, &c., addressed to the Governor-General in Council.

SECTION I.

Rules regulating the submission of petitions to the Government of India by private persons or public bodies

1. Every petition to the Government of India, whether it bears immediately on a matter of Imperial policy, or has reference to the orders or the general policy and action of a Local Government, should be forwarded through the Local Government under which the petitioner is residing or is employed. But there is no objection to the petitioner's forwarding simultaneously a duplicate copy of the petition to the Government of India, if he so desires, provided that he marks it as a "duplicate."

2. A petition may be either in manuscript or print, but must, with all accompanying documents, be properly authenticated by the signature of the petitioner, or when the petitioners are numerous, by one or more of them, and it must conclude with a specific prayer.

3. Every petition should be accompanied by a letter addressed to the Local Government, requesting its transmission to the Government of India, and when any order of a Local Government is appealed against by a copy of such order, as well as of any orders passed in the case by subordinate authorities.

4. Communications on matters connected with any Bills before the Council may be addressed either in the form of a petition to the Governor-General in Council or in a letter to the Secretary in the Legislative Department, and must in either case be sent to the Secretary to the Legislative Department. Ordinarily such communications will not be answered. Except in the case of the High Court at Fort William, such communications from Courts, officials, or public bodies should be sent through the Local Governments.

SECTION II.

Special Rules regulating the submission of petitions by officers in civil employ

1. Every officer wishing to petition the Government of India should do so separately.

2. Every petition should be submitted through the head of the office or department to which the petitioner belongs, and be forwarded by him through the usual official channel

But there is no objection to the petitioner transmitting a duplicate to the Government of India direct, provided that he marks it is a "duplicate"

3. No officer may submit a petition in respect of any matter connected with his official position unless he has some personal interest in such matter.

SECTION III.

Rules for observance by Local Governments in regard to the transmission or withholding of petitions.

1. Petitions should be forwarded to the Government of India by the Local Government with a concise statement of material facts and (unless there be special reasons for not doing so) an expression of opinion.

If the petition is an appeal against an order of dismissal from Government service, the papers submitted by the Local Government should show whether the charge against the petitioner was reduced to writing; whether his defence was taken and reduced to writing; and whether the decision was in writing.

2. When the petition is not in English, the Local Government should transmit a translation with it.

3. Local Governments are vested with discretionary power to withhold petitions addressed to the Government of India in the following cases:—

(1) When a petition is illegible or unintelligible.

(2) When a petition contains language which in the opinion of the Local Government is disloyal, disrespectful or improper.

(3) When a previous petition has been disposed of by the Secretary of State or the Governor-General in Council, and the petition discloses no new facts or circumstances which afford grounds for a reconsideration of the case.

(4) When a petition is an application for pecuniary assistance by a person manifestly possessing no claim.

(5) When a petition is an application for employment from a person not in the service of Government.

(6) When a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision with which the executive has no legal power of interference.

Note.—If the Government has reserved any discretion of interference or is concerned as a party to the suit, or if the appeal is practically an appeal for mercy or pardon, the petition must be transmitted. But in the last mentioned case the transmission of the petition will not affect the discretion in regard to the capital sentences allowed to Local Governments by the Home Department Resolution, dated 14th October 1885.

(7) When a petition is an appeal against an order of the Local Government upholding on appeal the dismissal, removal, reduction, or other punishment of a Government servant whose salary was not more than Rs. 100 a month.

(8) When a petition is an appeal against a decision which by any law or rule having the force of law is declared to be final.

(9) When a petition is an appeal in a case for which the law provides a different or specific remedy, or in regard to which the time limited by law for appeal has been exceeded.

(10) When a petition is an appeal against an order or decision of the Local Government, and is made more than six months after the communication of such order or decision to the petitioner without satisfactory explanation of the delay.

(11) When a petition is addressed by an officer still in the public service and has reference to his prospective claim for pension, except as provided in Article 995 of the Civil Service Regulations.

(12) When a petition is an appeal against the non-exercise by the Local Government of a dispensatory discretion vested in it by law or rule.

4. If a petition is withheld, the petitioner should be informed of the fact and the reason for it.

5. A list of petitions withheld under rule 3, with the reasons for withholding them, shall be forwarded quarterly to the Government of India in the Department concerned.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE TRIBUTARY STATES OF ORISSA FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

POLITICAL.

Dated Darjeeling, the 8th October 1889.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Administration of the Tributary States of Orissa for the year 1888-89.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1886-87 and 1887-88, and the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor recorded thereon.

The report, which was due on the 31st July, is dated the 17th August, and was received on the 22nd idem. It is submitted by Mr. Hopkins, but Mr. Worsley had charge of the office of Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals of Orissa from the beginning of the year to the 26th of February 1889.

2. Two important administrative changes took place in the States of Pal Lehera and Nyagurh, the former having been brought under direct Government management, as the late Chief died on the 31st August 1888, and the new Chief, his only son, is a boy aged 4 years; while the late Chief of Nyagurh, Rajah Luddoo Kishore Singh Mandhata, has been succeeded by his nephew, a young man about 24 years of age. Apart from these personal changes, however, the record of the year under review contains little that is unusual or important, except the one fact, which, in a people wholly dependent on their food crops, overshadows and darkens everything else, that owing to deficient rainfall there was a partial failure of the crops; and the report does little else than point out the various and far-reaching ways in which the people are affected by threatened or actual scarcity. This gives a tone to the whole report, and there is scarcely a page in which it is not referred to. To this are attributed arrears of revenue, decrease in civil suits, falling off in the revenue from judicial stamps, extraordinarily small demand for labour, closing of schools and country-spirit shops, unsatisfactory results of vaccination operations, rise in the price of salt, and cholera. After the close of the year the symptoms of distress became more serious, so much so as to call for the anxious interference of the Government; but as this question has been very fully dealt with elsewhere, the Lieutenant-Governor does not consider it necessary to discuss it in the present Resolution.

3. The report covers over forty-five foolscap pages in addition to the appendices, and as it does little more than bring our statistical knowledge up to date, it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that it might advantageously be shortened by throwing a large part of it into the form of statistical tables, and including these in the appendices, in which case such of the comments as merely serve to reconcile apparent discrepancies in the statistics themselves, might be suitably appended to the tables in the form of foot-notes. It would also be convenient if the tables compared the figures of the year under review with the average figures of the previous years, so that the report might be complete in itself, and show, without reference to previous reports, the direction in which events are tending. This is the more necessary, as the form in which the information is at present given is often such as to render any comparison between different years impossible. For example, in the case of education detailed information used to be given in a table in the body of the report, but this has been discontinued since 1885-86, and from the present report it would appear that there are now fewer lower primary schools than there were in 1883-84: but, on the other hand, the previous table made no reference to what are now called indigenous schools, and it is possible that these were formerly classed as lower primary.

4. The following table, which is taken from paragraph 3 of Mr. Larminie's report for the year 1883-84, shows the relative importance of the nineteen States known as the Tributary Mehals, though of course it must be understood that subsequent changes have affected the present correctness of some of the figures:—

The total area is therefore 16,066, or half that of Ireland, and the total population is 1,630,004. The average population per square mile is 101·45. Of these nineteen States, four were under direct Government management throughout the year, and two—Angul and the Khondmals—are Government estates, and regarding these the information given is tolerably complete; but regarding the others the information given is not continuous from year to year and is so meagre that it is really impossible to form any general idea of their progress. Thus it is not stated what the financial condition of the other States is, and the details furnished are not such as to enable even a guess to be hazarded regarding it. While although Appendix VI purports to give a complete statement of offences reported and persons tried and acquitted for each class of offences in the Tributary States of Orissa for the year under review, an examination of the next appendix, which gives the details of the cases, shows that the figures are utterly untrustworthy, as no returns at all appear to have been received from some States, while the returns from others are on the face of them incomplete; and, moreover, paragraph 111 contains additional information regarding the number of offences, so that it would appear that even all the information available has not been utilised.

5. In the case of these four States, however, the information given is sufficient to show that their financial position is sound, and their condition generally satisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that in the case of Mohurbhunj that condition is one of rapidly increasing prosperity. The following table gives the current demand for the last four years and its incidence per head of the population:—

	Current demand.				Current demand per head of population.

Nursingpore	40,557*	28,917	31,376	31,961	0 15 8

* Includes a loan of Rs. 13,881.

The report, however, does not show what debts are due to or by the States, and this should be stated in future in order that the information regarding their financial position may be complete.

6. In Mohurbhunj the expenditure on Police and Education has steadily increased since 1883-84, the total increase since that year being 37 and 46 per cent. respectively; and though the expenditure on public works is less than that of the last three years, it is considerably more than double that of 1883-84. The actual expenditure of the two years (in the case of Nursingpore of the years 1885-86 and 1888-89) in the four States is given below:—

	Police.		Education.		Public Works Department.
	1883-84.	1888-89.	1883-84.	1888-89.	1883-84.	1888-89.

7. Amongst the receipts, the only head that seems to call for remark is that of Excise, the receipts under which have in the last five years increased very considerably in all four States. This branch of administration has no doubt partaken in the improvement which the report shows to have been general, but the Superintendent should be careful to see that it is not accompanied by increased facilities for consumption. In this connection, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the farming system referred to in paragraph 161 of the report is not now tolerated in any part of British India, and His Honour desires that the Superintendent will take an early opportunity of considering this question.

8. Statistics are given of the crime in these four States which, compared with those furnished for other States, seem to be fairly complete; at the same time the difference in the ratio of crime to population in the different States renders it probable that they are susceptible of still further addition or of explanation. In the following table the figures for thefts in these States and in Angul and Khondmals are given :—

	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	Number of population for each theft.

It is not improbable that the increased number of thefts reported and brought to trial may be partly due to the increased expenditure on police to which reference has already been made.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

JOHN EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—CUSTOMS—No. C $\frac{1R}{2}$ 8.

Darjeeling, the 11th October, 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1888-89.

Administrative changes.

In March 1888 a Committee was appointed to consider and report upon the number of holidays on which the Custom House should be closed, overtime charges, and the general routine of Custom House business. This Committee submitted its report in September following, and its recommendations, which were approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, have since been carried into effect. Another administrative change was initiated in a measure which has since passed into law as Act VIII of 1889. The main object of this law is to repeal the proviso to section 37 of the Sea Customs Act, which enacts that when the rate of duty or tariff valuation (if any) applicable to any goods imported has been raised after the grant of port clearance at the port of shipment, the rate and valuation applicable to such goods shall be, not the rate and valuation in force on the date on which the bill of entry thereof is delivered to the Customs Collector under section 86 of the Act, but the rate and valuation in force on the date on which port clearance at the port of shipment was granted.

Customs receipts.

2. The subjoined statement shows the gross and net customs duty, including duty on imported salt, collected in Bengal during the past five years:—

	1884-85.	1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.

The revenue is now gradually rising to the amount at which it stood prior to the year 1882-83, when salt duty was reduced, and all other import duties, except those on arms and ammunition, liquors and opium, were remitted. The net receipts of the year under review show an advance of Rs. 44,07,102, or more than 20 per cent. over those of the previous year. The increase is due mainly to larger salt supplies, and the recent increase in the rate of duty from Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-8 per maund. There is also an increase in receipts from import duty on general merchandise due to larger clearances of spirituous liquors, and to petroleum having become dutiable from the 10th February 1888, when Act II of 1888 came into force. The receipts from export duty declined by Rs. 4,31,030, or about 21 per cent., owing to smaller shipments of rice.

Value of trade.

3. The total value of imports into Bengal, exclusive of Government transactions, rose from Rs. 30,09,51,420 in 1887-88 to Rs. 32,51,37,468, while the export trade decreased from Rs. 45,96,68,935 to Rs. 45,65,76,186. The coasting trade, which had been gradually recovering during the past two years, again shows a decline, imports having fallen from Rs. 5,51,30,014 to Rs. 5,39,50,225, and exports from Rs. 8,77,05,872 to Rs. 7,78,21,397. In foreign trade alone there has been an increase of 10·3 per cent. in the value of imports and of 1·8 per cent. in that of exports. Taking exports and imports together, the total value of the trade of the Province advanced from Rs. 76,06,20,355 to Rs. 78,17,13,654.

4. The value of Government transactions amounted to Rs. 1,00,16,161 in imports and Rs. 4,00,855 in exports, against Rs. 79,18,900 in imports and Rs. 3,60,241 in exports of the previous year. Of the increase of 21 lakhs in imports, one-half was under the heads of arms and ammunition (5 lakhs), books (3 lakhs), and railway plant and rolling-stock (2½ lakhs), and the balance under other heads. There was a considerable increase in export of foreign stores and a slight falling off in that of Indian stores. Excluding Government transactions, there was an increase of Rs. 2,40,80,769 in the imports of merchandise and Rs. 13,29,112 in those of treasure as compared with the previous year. The value of merchandize exported increased by Rs. 92,60,714, while the exports of treasure fell off by Rs. 3,49,118. As usual, the bulk of the trade, 65·04 per cent., is conducted with the United Kingdom, the next place is taken by China, 9·8 per cent., and the third by the United States, 5·98 per cent. As regards other countries, the most noticeable feature is the progressive increase in the trade with Germany.

Calcutta.
Foreign trade.

5. The proportion of the foreign trade of Calcutta carried through the Suez Canal was 65·7 per cent., and the total value exceeds that of any previous year. Taking intervals of four years, the statistics since 1872-73 are as follow:—

	Imports.	Exports	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1872-73 ...	10,55,11,138	6,03,99,996	16,59,11,134
1876-77 ...	14,56,76,481	9,20,09,881	23,76,86,362
1880-81 ...	20,09,16,855	12,52,47,308	32,61,64,163
1884-85 ...	19,82,28,701	15,80,74,711	35,63,03,412
1888-89 ...	23,45,06,444	18,51,90,952	41,96,97,396

The number of steam vessels which passed through the Suez Canal on their way to and from Calcutta without touching at another British Indian port was 305, and their tonnage 604,094 tons.

Imports.

6. The increase of Rs. 2,40,80,769 in the import trade of Calcutta is chiefly due to cotton goods (192 lakhs), drugs and medicines (6 lakhs), glassware (over 4 lakhs), dyeing materials (3 lakhs), and petroleum (11 lakhs). In metals there has been a falling off of Rs. 35,15,627, or 17 per cent. The chief decrease is in copper, about 48 lakhs, due to the high prices brought about by the action of the French Syndicate, while there has been an increase in wrought brass, iron, steel and tin. The importation of machinery and mill-works continues to increase in consequence of the demands of the jute and cotton industries, the extension of tea cultivation, the construction of river steamers, and the requirements of the Calcutta docks. Notwithstanding the duty imposed on mineral oil its importation has increased, the quantity imported in 1888-89 being 20,146,984 gallons against 19,699,334 gallons in 1887-88. The amount of petroleum imported from Russia increased from 779,675 gallons to 3,371,446 gallons.

7. The following statement shows the values of the principal imports into Calcutta during the past two years:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.
	Rs.	Rs.
Cotton goods	12,62,81,472	14,54,76,859
Metals	2,00,46,793	1,65,31,166
Machinery	55,99,937	86,30,301
Oils	74,12,509	85,07,955
Salt	61,10,555	76,35,910
Woollen goods	67,69,757	66,41,405
Liquors	49,70,193	52,39,340
Apparel	40,08,123	40,35,825

The importation of cotton goods is the largest on record, and the market has been overstocked. Mr. Armstrong, the Collector of Customs, draws attention to the increase in direct imports from Manchester by native firms, and points out that as their less expensive establishments give them an advantage over European importers, this direct trade is likely to further increase. Regarding salt Mr. Armstrong observes:—

"The actual consumption has been slightly higher than in 1887-88 in spite of the increase in duty and the higher prices brought about by the Salt Syndicate. This Syndicate has gradually raised the price of Liverpool salt from 6 shillings and 6 pence a ton to 16 shillings, which, taking the exchange at 1 shilling 4 pence, adds 4½ annas to the cost per maund. It will be interesting to watch how far it will be feasible to run up the price of Liverpool salt without bringing in salt from other sources in place of it. Some native merchants here are setting up machinery for pounding the kurkutch salt, so as to bring it into the same form as Liverpool salt, and it will be interesting also to watch the results of this experiment. There would seem to be no reason why unlimited supplies of kurkutch should not be manufactured at Aden and Perim."

The amount of liquor imported is also the highest ever reached. There is no demand for the strong beers, which were formerly drunk. Messrs. Younger and Company's beer now occupies the first place, and Pilsener comes next; while Bass, in spite of the new lighter beer, is losing ground year by year. There was a large increase in Scotch whisky. The bulk of the brandy imported is of a very low quality, and is often brandy only in name. The importations of claret and sherry are less than half of what they were ten years ago. The imports of apparel show a steady increase year by year: it is noted that the number of boots and shoes imported has increased from 28,102 pairs in 1879-80 to 131,652 pairs in the past year. Among minor items it may be observed that the number of umbrellas imported into Calcutta during the year reached the unprecedented total of 2,621,745, valued at Rs. 24,39,712, or rather less than a rupee per umbrella. The coal imports show a large and very satisfactory decline, inasmuch as the reduction is attributed to the increasing use of country coal. The quantity imported is only 19,126 tons, the smallest known. In 1885-86, 99,917 tons were imported.

8. The principal articles of Indian produce and manufacture exported during the past two years are as follows:—

Exports.

	1887-88.	1888-89.
	Rs.	Rs.
Raw jute	5,05,60,472	6,94,28,984
Opium	5,98,05,995	6,41,48,256
Tea	5,08,12,610	5,16,52,620
Oilseeds	3,70,87,251	3,57,89,078
Indigo	2,74,56,889	2,73,46,873
Gunny bags and cloth	1,59,54,037	2,33,35,337
Rice	2,48,69,992	2,07,02,266
Hides and skins	2,07,68,574	1,90,82,467
Wheat	1,67,90,729	1,08,24,635

The jute exports are the largest on record, amounting to 9,269,483 cwts. The exports of tea continue to advance rapidly, and amounted to 95,749,163lbs, valued at 8½ annas per pound. The following statement, furnished by the Collector of Customs, shows the production of tea in the growing districts:—

	1887.	1888.
	lbs.	lbs.
Assam	37,849,202	41,865,499
Cachar and Sylhet	27,156,589	27,343,505
Darjeeling Terai and Dooars ...	14,997,805	18,950,822
Chittagong and Chota Nagpore ...	1,538,249	1,148,458
Dehra Doon, Kumaon and Kangra ...	3,750,000	4,000,000
Private and native gardens ...	1,500,000	3,000,000
Total ...	86,791,845	96,308,284

The general Committee of the Indian Tea Association estimate the total outturn of the current year at about 107,000,000lbs. With regard to these figures Mr. Armstrong observes:—"With this enormous increase in production, and Ceylon rapidly increasing its exports, there must be a further fall in prices unless new markets can be opened out. What the prospects are in this direction it is difficult to say. I am informed that the quantity of tea consumed in India by natives is still almost nominal." The importations into the United Kingdom during the two past years are:—

	1887.	1888.
	lbs.	lbs.
India	85,218,000	92,387,000
Ceylon	11,325,000	20,325,000
China	119,432,000	109,285,000

The exports of Indian tea to Australia and America are still insignificant, and show that the process of ousting China tea from those markets is a very slow one. The small fluctuations in the exports of oilseeds and indigo call for no remark. The export of gunny-bags was also the largest on record. The consignments to Australia were again on a very large scale, and the increase to the United Kingdom was very marked. During the whole of the year the jute manufacturing industry was in a very prosperous condition. The export of rice decreased owing to scanty crops, but it is still considerably above the average of recent years. Out of a total export of 5,770,637 cwts., 1,702,039 cwts. were sent to Ceylon, which is the principal consumer of Bengal rice. More than a million cwts. were sent to the United Kingdom. The following interesting statement is given by Mr. Armstrong, showing the exports of rice to Europe from the various sources of supply during the past five calendar years:—

	1884.	1885.	1886.	1887.	1888.
	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
Burmah	605,700	677,820	635,380	677,100	589,100
Calcutta, Chittagong, Bombay, and Kurrachee	46,760	47,600	61,896	49,000	100,059
Madras	11,327	.....	280	3,681	6,500
Saigon	103,636	25,000	.....	25,000	71,500
Bangkok (Siam)	42,426	26,500	.....	63,000	110,000
Java	5,300	14,000	13,034	17,330	16,200
Japan	56,246	9,600	51,670	33,200	144,500
Total ...	871,395	800,520	762,260	868,311	1,036,859

The exports of wheat from Calcutta showed a further large decline: this is partly attributable to failing crops, but more to the diversion of the trade from Calcutta to Western India ports. Russia has now again supplanted the United States, and takes the first place in supplying wheat to the United Kingdom, while India still continues to occupy the third place.

There was a heavy decline in the export of raw cotton, which amounted to only 375,213 cwts., against 618,426 cwts. in 1887-88. The falling off was due to a scanty crop and increased demand for spinning purposes, principally in Bombay. The decrease is observed in all the consuming countries, except China, where there has been an increase of 26·3 per cent., that country having drawn its supply from Calcutta instead of from Bombay as in past years. The trade in saltpetre shows an increase, while that in lac a decrease. A further decline is noticeable in the export of refined sugar, the trade in which has been almost extinguished by the competition of beet sugar produced on the continent.

Treasure.

9. The steady decline in the imports of gold noticed in last year's Resolution has been arrested, and the figures during the past year show an increase of Rs. 2,30,069. The total value of the imports is Rs. 23,07,727. The supply of gold in Calcutta is chiefly received from China. The total export of gold is Rs. 42,200 only, showing a decrease as compared with 1887-88 of Rs. 1,69,382. In silver also the present year shows an increase of Rs. 10,99,043 in imports and a decrease of Rs. 1,79,736 in exports. The total value of silver imported was Rs. 1,18,58,552, of which more than 81 lakhs came from the United Kingdom, 28 lakhs from China, and smaller sums from other countries. The total export of silver was Rs. 4,86,800.

Coasting trade.

10. The total value of the coasting or interportal trade with Calcutta was—imports Rs. 3,26,62,284 and exports Rs. 5,60,10,752. There has been a decline of Rs. 5,13,578 in the imports from British Indian ports, which is wholly confined to Indian produce: in foreign goods there has been a considerable increase. The trade with Indian ports, not British, shows an improvement to the extent of Rs. 2,22,700. This improvement was shared both by Indian produce and foreign merchandise.

The export trade to British Indian ports also shows a decline of Rs. 72,56,160. Of this decrease, Rs. 39,37,896 have been in Indian produce and Rs. 33,18,264 in foreign merchandise. The trade with Indian ports not British has improved, both under Indian produce and foreign merchandise. Taking the total exports to British and Foreign Indian ports, there has been a decrease of Rs. 71,71,724 in 1888-89.

Chittagong port.

11. The improvement noticed during the previous two years in the trade of Chittagong has met with a check in the past year. The total value of the trade amounts to Rs. 2,65,83,581, showing a falling off of Rs. 24,99,234 as compared with the trade in 1887-88. This is attributed principally to diminished exports of jute, owing to direct despatches by boat and rail from Naraingunge to Calcutta, and of rice, owing to scanty harvests. The trade is nevertheless above the average of the two preceding years.

The Orissa ports.

12. In the table below will be found a comparison of the trade of the Orissa ports in 1887-88 and 1888-89:—

	Balasore.		Cuttack.		Pooree.
	1887-88.	1888-89.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1887-88.	1888-89.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sea-borne	1,12,75,624	96 07,495	14,75,152	9,92,245	2,69,154	59,812
Coasting	1,07,08,942	95,35,286	2,37,257	1,68,534	1,33,358	20,426

It will be seen that there has been a considerable falling off in the sea-borne as well as in the coasting trade in all the ports of Orissa during 1888-89. This is chiefly owing to the failure of the rice crop. The minor ports of Subarnarekha, Churamun, Lychenpore, Chanua and Sartha on the Orissa coast have been, during the year under review, closed as customs ports, as the trade was insignificant, while the cost of maintaining a customs establishment was out of all proportion to the amount of duty realized.

Naraingunge.

13. The trade of Naraingunge during the year under review shows a decline of Rs. 2,59,501, of which Rs. 1,71,091 is in imports and Rs. 88,410 in exports. The falling off is most marked in Indian produce. The port of Naraingunge is one for coasting trade, but a proposal to declare it a customs and warehousing port is now under the consideration of Government.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are accorded to the Board of Revenue for the efficient way in which the Customs Department has been administered. The Lieutenant-Governor's special acknowledgments are due to Mr. Armstrong for his report, which is one of exceptional value and completeness, and also for his administration of the Calcutta Customs Office throughout the year. The services of Mr. Warden of Chittagong and of Messrs. Kilby, Amos, Bonnaud, Bradbury, and Burruss of the Calcutta Office are favourably noticed by the Board of Revenue, and the remarks recorded of them by the Board and Mr. Armstrong will be duly communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 11th October 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 11TH OCTOBER 1889.

WEATHER conditions during the present week, though not uniformly fine, have never been seriously disturbed. Pressure has been very steady and uniform throughout the week, and though generally high, two very shallow depressions have formed over the province, but they soon disappeared without affecting the general weather conditions beyond increasing cloud amount and the number of thunderstorms and local showers. There has been a shallow depression in the south of the Bay during the whole week, but its influence has not extended to Bengal stations. One of the low-pressure areas appeared over Lower Bengal on Saturday, the first day of the present week, accompanied by light winds, which were fairly cyclonic as to direction. The difference of pressure at stations within this area from those just without it did not exceed two or three hundredths of an inch, and on the following day these had disappeared, while the general wind direction was east in Bengal, probably owing to a depression which was forming in the centre of the Bay. Rather strong indraught to this low-pressure area was taking place in the south-east, and wind velocity at Diamond Island rose to fifteen miles an hour. The depression, however, was very short-lived, and probably partially filled up as it moved towards the Orissa coast, as without any important change of pressure at the Orissa stations, disturbed weather was felt there on Monday, the day after weather was squally at Diamond Island. Heavy rain fell in Orissa, and cloudy weather with thunderstorms and heavy showers was general in Bengal. During the squally weather the highest wind velocity recorded was twenty-six miles an hour at Pooree, and the highest average wind velocity on Monday was fourteen miles at Pooree and Gopalpur. During the succeeding three days light southerly winds blew in Bengal, and showers, generally light, continued to fall. On Thursday a rather more rapid fall of pressure resulted in the formation of the second shallow depression in the northern districts similar to that of the early part of the week, and it similarly filled up during the next twenty-four hours. Strong winds blew in the neighbourhood of the Darjeeling hills in the latter part of the week, being generally between eight and twelve miles an hour on an average at Darjeeling, Dhubri, and Julpigoree, and on Tuesday amounting to nineteen miles at Julpigoree.

Pressure changes have been very unimportant, and only on the last two days of the week exceeded one or two hundredths of an inch. On Thursday there was a fall of about a twentieth of an inch, and on Friday a similar rise. During the first half of the week pressure was in excess about a twentieth of an inch; a slight deficiency followed for two days, and on Friday very nearly normal pressure prevailed. The means for the week are above the normal by amounts ranging from two to six hundredths of an inch in all districts except Behar, where excess amounts are smaller, generally slightly exceeding one hundredth.

Temperature has been below the normal in Orissa and at a few scattered stations in South-West Bengal, but generally high temperature has prevailed, especially in Behar and part of North Bengal, where the difference from the normal has been from three to four degrees, without interruption in the former. The mean for the week at Dehree is 4·5° in excess, at Arrah 4·1,° and at several other stations 3° or over. The mean excess at Rungpore is 3·2°, but at the other North Bengal stations the means are much smaller. This is shown in the means for the large subdivisions. All are above the normal except Orissa, the difference for East and South-West Bengal being under 1°. Excess in South Behar is 3·3,° North Behar 2·6,° Assam 1·3°, Chutia Nagpur and North Bengal 1°.

Rainfall has been chiefly due to local showers accompanying thunderstorms, except in Orissa, where rain was general and heavy on Monday and Tuesday, and showers fell during the rest of the week. In South-West Bengal in the southern districts fairly general but lighter rain fell on these two days. Elsewhere in the early part of the week rain was very local, except in the Darjeeling hills and Sonthal Pergunnahs. During the latter half of the week showers were more frequent in the northern districts, except Behar, but the falls were generally light, Fallacatta, Bhagatpore, and Netrokona being the chief exceptions. The districts where rainfall has been most local are Hooghly, Burdwan, and Bankoorah in South-West Bengal; Rajshahye, Maldah, Dinagepore, and Rungpore in North Bengal; and the whole of Behar except the Sonthal Pergunnahs. The mean falls for the large divisions are all deficient except those of Orissa and East Bengal, but defects are large in Behar only. Excess in Orissa is 1·64 inches, defect in North Behar 1·3 inches, and in South Behar 0·94 inch, while the difference from the normal in the other districts is inconsiderable.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 11th of October 1889 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during month ended 24th August 1889.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—In the upward traffic there was a decrease in the weight carried and an increase in the earnings, and the latter was due to the traffic being consigned over longer distances than last year, chiefly to Agra and Cawnpore, for the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway. The decrease in weight carried was owing to a larger quantity having been carried last year to Moghalserai for the Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway. The increase in downward despatches was due to demand for export to the coast ports.

Cotton.—This is an ordinary fluctuation, and was chiefly in despatches from Cawnpore to Howrah for shipment.

Gram and pulses.—Due to a strong demand in Calcutta both for local consumption and for shipment to Madras and Orissa, where a scarcity was reported.

Other rain and spring crops.—This consisted chiefly of barley and bajra from stations on B and D districts to Calcutta and Tirhoot.

Government stores.—The increase occurred chiefly in the despatch of ordnance stores from Howrah to Quetta, Allahabad, and Firozabad.

Minerals.—This was chiefly in lime consigned from Ondal, Raneegunge, and Katni for the Kidderpore Dock-works.

Brass and copper.—This increase was chiefly in despatches from Howrah to Mirzapore and other stations.

Iron.—This was chiefly in despatches of iron water-pipes and machinery from Howrah to Agra for the Agra Water-works scheme.

Oil.—The improvement under this head was chiefly in kerosine from Howrah and Calcutta viâ Naihati to stations up-country.

Salt.—This was chiefly in despatches from Howrah to stations Patna and below, to viâ Digha Ghât and to viâ Mokameh Ghât.

Stone.—This was chiefly in stone ballast for the Calcutta Municipality despatched from Pakur to Chitpore, also from Gya line stations to Patna for municipal purposes, and from Agra to viâ Ghaziabad.

Sugar, refined and unrefined.—Due to increased despatches from Howrah to Burdwan and to stations on the Loop and Chord lines; also in sugar received viâ Cawnpore and viâ Aligarh, chiefly for stations on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway.

Tobacco.—The increase was chiefly in tobacco from Tirhoot received viâ Mokameh Ghât, but there were also increases in tobacco received viâ Sahebgunge and in Maldah tobacco received viâ Rajmehal.

DECREASES.

Piece-goods, European.—Due to the demand for piece-goods up-country having been seriously affected by the poor outturn of the grain crops.

Wheat.—This can only be ascribed to the indifferent crops to the high prices prevailing up-country and to the absence of demand for Indian wheat in the European markets.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—There was an increase in the weight carried, attended with a decrease in receipts; the former was due to short-lead despatches from Hooghly, Burdwan, and Raneegunge districts to Calcutta, and the latter to long-lead traffic last year.

Railway material, Foreign.—This was chiefly in the despatches of permanent-way material from Howrah to Asansol for the Bengal-Nagpore Railway last year, and also in steel rails and other material despatched viâ Chitpore to Sahebgunge for the Assam-Behar Railway extension which has since been completed.

Seeds.—The serious falling off under this head was due to the general failure of the seed crops and the absence of demand in Calcutta.

Saltpetre.—This is an ordinary fluctuation; the falling off was chiefly in despatches from Patna and in traffic received viâ Delhi.

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF JUNE 1890.

N.B.—The Regulations are liable to be altered in future years.

1. On the 2nd June 1890, and following days, an Examination, open to all qualified persons, will be held in London (a). to the Examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any Candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (g), in order to secure that "a Candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained, after the deduction above-mentioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be Selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the Selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. (d) A considerable portion of the marks for English History and Literature will be allotted to the work selected by the Candidate. (See notice on p. 4) In awarding marks for this, regard will be had partly to the extent and importance of the period or books selected, but chiefly to the thoroughness with which they have been studied.

(e) The examination will range from Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elementary Geometry, up to the elements of the differential and integral calculus, including the lower portions of applied Mathematics.

(f) The standard of marking in Sanskrit and Arabic will be determined with reference to a high degree of proficiency, such as may be expected to be reached by a Native of good education.

(g) Marks assigned in English Composition and Mathematics will be subject to no deduction. Each science will, for the purpose of deduction, be treated as a separate subject.

(h) Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful Candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open Competition is declared.

In these Examinations, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one Examination. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary. The last of these Examinations will be held at the close of the second year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination," at which it will be decided whether a Selected Candidate is qualified for the Civil Service of India. 11. Any Candidate who, at any of the periodical Examinations, shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected Candidates.

12. The selected Candidates who, at the Final Examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that Service.

13. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S.W.," at any time after the 1st December 1889. DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 387.

Dated the 22nd October 1889.

THE subjoined annual accounts and report of the Road Cess Committee of the district of Chittagong Hill Tracts for the year 1888-89 are published for general information.

W. CONNAN,

Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 38R., dated Rangamati, the 31st May 1889.

From—L. R. FORBES, Esq., Deputy Commissioner of Chittagong Hill Tracts,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the report and accounts in duplicate of the Road Fund Department of this district for the year 1888-89.

Ruma and Rangamati road.—It was reported when submitting last year's accounts that owing to unforeseen circumstances satisfactory progress could not be obtained on this road. The road having been completed last year up to a distance of 18 miles from Ruma, this year the difficulties attending the provisioning of the coolies along such a length of road or from Puri Roaja's village were fully considered, and it was decided to commence this year from Rangamati, the work being started in the beginning of November 1888 with a coolie corps of 168 Sonthals for earthwork and about 100 hill coolies for jungle clearing. The work was progressing satisfactorily at the rate of seven miles trace cutting and four miles construction per month, when, at the end of December 1888, it had to be discontinued owing to the services of the supervisor in charge of the trace cutting having been urgently required on the military road from Demagiri to Lungleh and the Sonthal coolies for the improvement of the Rangamati-Burkal road.

2. Peshkisurrah to Upper Godown road.—This work had been taken in hand and a good deal of earthwork executed last year, but the bridging of the nullas and the cutting and removal of rock from certain places on the roadway had still to be done. The work was at first given in contract, the contractor being bound to complete it by the end of February last: but the expedition having increased the importance of this road, the Sonthals were sent up to complete it as speedily as possible. The work of constructing the stone causeways and clearing the roadway of rock was completed within the first week of March, after which these coolies were employed in widening and levelling the roadway with a view to a tramway, should Government consider it expedient to lay one down.

3. Repairs.—No other original works were executed during the year. The existing roads of the district were all maintained throughout the year by jungle clearing to a width of 8 feet, and by constructing and renewing temporary bridges. The only road on which repair work of a more extensive and important nature was done was the Rangamati-Peshkisurrah road, rendered necessary in order to facilitate the marching of the troops. From a mere track the line has been converted into an excellent road with easy gradients, except where the road crosses the Kainda, which could not be taken in hand for want of time and labour.

SCARCITY IN THE PATNA DIVISION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FAMINE.

Darjeeling, the 12th October, 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter No. A, dated 8th October, 1889, from the Commissioner of Patna, reporting on the scarcity in that division for the fortnight ending the 30th September, 1889.

This report has been submitted somewhat late; but the Commissioner explains that measures have been taken to secure punctuality in the despatch of future narratives. It is most essential that all returns as to scarcity and relief should be forwarded on the dates fixed for the purpose. The narratives should, as recently directed by the Government of India, be accompanied by a tabular statement showing the number of men, women, and children employed on relief works or receiving gratuitous relief.

2. The present report relates to a period during which the distress caused by the autumn floods was diminishing, and in most places altogether disappeared. In Chumparun, it is stated, labourers obtain constant employment in the fields, beggars get alms as usual, and anxiety is now confined to a limited number of villages, where the requirements of the situation are sufficiently met by the gratuitous relief still given and by loans made by Government and planters. In the Madhubani subdivision of Durbhunga the bhadoi harvest has been very good, and the prospect of the aghani is excellent; works are all being closed and relief of every kind stopped. The area affected by the floods in the Tajpore subdivision of that district is 10 square miles only. As to Patna, Sarun, Gya, and Shahabad, there has been little apprehension at any time, and the prospects are now excellent. It is only from parts of Mozufferpore that accounts continue to be bad. The Commissioner remarks as to that district—

"In spots like the four villages near Sindaspore and Jarang, there are people in great distress, who require and who are obtaining relief; but even in the worst parts there is no very extensive continuous area of acute distress."

3. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Commissioner and the District Officers, who have shown the greatest discretion throughout a protracted period of anxiety, will be equally successful in withdrawing from relief operations, avoiding all precipitancy, and distinguishing with care the tracts where relief should be continued for a further period. As active relief measures are closed, the work of examining and completing the accounts should be taken up with additional energy, and the Commissioner may notice this important branch of famine operations in his next report.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Patna Division for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution and of the Commissioner's Report be submitted for the information of the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. A, dated Camp Mozufferpore, the 8th October, 1889.

From—JOHN BOXWELL, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit a report on the condition of the crops and people for the fortnight ending the 30th of September.

2. I have just received the resolution of the 3rd October, and will refer to it, where necessary, in this report.

3. From Chumparun Mr. Luson declares nearly every village in the tract inundated by the Sikrana to be out of danger. The circles in the previously affected area have been abolished. The temporary canoongo was discharged on the 30th.

4. Mr. Luson writes.—

"Last week both the Sikrana and Gunduck (Great) were again in high flood, but no crops were damaged, and on the lands inundated by the former river good was done to the retransplanted aghani paddy. These recent floods are likely to retard rubbi sowings, more especially in a part of the country covered by the Gunduck; but if there is not another rise, and if arrangements are made to drain the water off, I do not apprehend that any large area will remain entirely unsown."

We may be confident that we have seen the last of the season's floods.

5. As I reported last time, rather alarming word came down from the country about Sigauli of an extraordinary flood caused by the storm rain of the 21st and 22nd of September. The Engineers, however, from the first assured me that there was no danger of any serious damage, and they proved right. The Bur Gunduck rose in Mozufferpore to within about three feet of the former rise, and then turned and fell very slowly. It has now gone down considerably, but is making havoc of the bank north of the circuit-house. The Great Gunduck also rose to a height that flooded all Sonepore, but fell away again rapidly. I hear discordant reports of the effect of these last floods. I do not believe any damage has been done worth thinking about. There was no rubbi to be hurt, and a great deal of the dhan would be all the better for plenty of water.

6. Mr. Luson writes:—

"Prices are falling steadily; the bhadoi harvest is almost complete, and labourers obtain constant employment in the fields The distribution of gratuitous relief in the mofussil has been almost entirely stopped from the 30th ultimo, as the reports are nearly all unanimous that the beggars can obtain alms as usual from the villagers, &c At the cooked food depôt in Motihari I am sending away those who I find can earn a livelihood elsewhere. The number fed by indigo-planters and zemindars have largely fallen. There is now little anxiety except for some of the villages flooded by the Gunduck, and these, I think, are being sufficiently cared for by Government and planters' loans and gratuitous relief. Heavy rain (measuring 6·56 inches at Motihari) accompanied by a south-east wind fell in the first week under review; since the 24th there have been no showers anywhere in the district. The condition of the aghani crop up to date has been exceptionally good, but a hathiya rain is needed to bring it to perfection. Even if there is no further rain, however, a good outturn is already secured. The distribution of small loans to individual agriculturists has, I think, from reports on all sides, been a very happy way of meeting the distress caused by the floods I am informed that more land about the Sikrana has been sown and placed under cultivation in consequence than has been done for the last 20 years. Gratuitous relief was distributed on the same lines as before. The number relieved regularly by the canoongos fell from 206 to 164, and those who attended the kitchen at Motihari decreased from 325 to 273.

"Public health has been good. This year up to date has been marked by the absence of cholera and fever epidemics.

"No works, except the usual road repairs, which are now general, were in progress."

7. For the rest Mr. Luson reports that women, children, and infirm persons are still relieved at the factories; but there is a good weeding out of people able to work. There are no relief works, markets are plentifully supplied, and prices are not much above last year's figures.

8. The Durbhunga report is nearly as good as possible. Mr. Maude's from Madhubani is quite satisfactory. The rain has been abundant, and has done nothing but good. The bhadoi harvest has been very good, and prospects of the aghani rice are excellent. Although a shower of rain any time within the next fortnight would be desirable, still it is not necessary for a fair harvest.

9. The condition of the people is improving, works are all being closed and relief of every kind stopped. There remains now only to close the accounts, and this work has been taken in hand. Health is good. There are a few cases of cholera, but nothing like an epidemic. Land is already being prepared for rubbi sowings. No loans were made during the fortnight. Mr. Maude says:—"It may be said that the distress in this subdivision has passed away."

10. Mr. Stewart says the area affected in Tajpore is about 10 square miles, and that the bhadoi crop has been "mostly lost by the inundation" of the Ganges and Baya. He has lent out Rs. 993 under the Agriculturists Loans Act. Mr. Beadon has given him another Rs. 1,000 for the purpose. As the population of the 10 square miles is under 10,000 people, the provision is ample.

11. Mr. Beadon reports only 2,762 people at work on all roads and tanks. In short, this report confirms in every respect the very favourable view taken in the last regular report and the supplementary letters received afterwards.

12. The Mozufferpore report, including Mr. MacIntosh's from Sitamarhi, came in this afternoon. Mr. Harris himself also returned to-day from Jaintpore. I am afraid he did not understand that the fortnightlies are regular reports, due punctually on certain days. I have now made this clear.

13. The Sitamarhi report is most favourable and so concise that I can hardly reduce it. The improvement of the previous fortnight has continued. The bhadoi harvest has been excellent, and the numbers of people seeking relief have greatly decreased. According to the prospects of the bhadoi and the work thereby given, Mr. MacIntosh stopped gratuitous relief in uncooked food at Bela, Sonbursa, and Parihar on the 15th, and Seuhar on the 16th, at Sursand on the 18th, at Bairagnia and Sitamarhi on the 22nd, at Batahi on the 26th. Orders had been given to look out carefully for cases of distress after closing the distribution. No applications for relief were made. Kitchens are still open at Parihar, Sursand, and Sitamarhi. At Sursand alone is there any likelihood of a need for keeping one open; but then there is little bhadoi.

Uncooked food was still being given at Majorgunge, Bela, and Charaut. Distribution had been stopped for some days at Bela and Charaut; but it was found expedient to begin again, as the very poor people could not get subsistence in their own villages. All this shows, I think, that Mr. MacIntosh is doing his work with great care and hitting the happy mean. Private charity was still being given at Seuhar, Sursand, Parihar, and Nanpore; but the Maharajah of Durbhunga ceased to distribute at Parihar on the 15th. The bhadoi harvest is called 16 annas all round, or full average.

14. About the aghani rice there is this important statement—"The prospects of the dhan crop continue good. The heavy rain of the 22nd was so much in its favour that the cultivators now say they can do without a hathiya nacchuttar. There can be no doubt, however, that a fall of rain during the hathiya nacchuttar would be most beneficial." I hear very much the same myself on all sides. At Hatwa on the 4th the prevailing opinion was that, though an inch of rain some time soon is wanted to give the best possible outturn, still a fair crop is already secured by the plenteous rain of the week ending 22nd September, and the rice is standing in water nearly everywhere.

15. Mr. Harris has himself visited the inundated tract between Athar and Katra, which seemed in the worst condition of all. I gather from the report that the state of affairs in the worst part of the flooded area is improving, and is not quite so bad as we feared. I have Mr. Gayer's diary also. The places he visited from the 1st to 4th, and marked in the map, are Janarh, Aurai, Katra, Sindaspore, Tewara, Jarang, and Maschri. These points make a zig zag through that desolate country north of Athar and outside the indigo dehâts with which we are familier. The first part is in the Aurai dehât looked after by Mr. Mackenzie. The crops are good, and the people are fairly well off. The bad part does not begin till we reach Katra. Even here an attempt to make recipients of relief do some work reduced numbers from 218 to about a dozen.

Mr. Gayer had to go by boat to Sindaspore. He enquired closely into two reported cases of death by starvation—Ram Kishen and Miajan. It is clear that both deaths were hastened by want of proper food, but both men were sickly, and Misjan had been receiving relief. He was a wandering beggar, and after being fed for three days by Mr. Faulkner he tried to get back to Katra, and was found dead. A third death was in a family of diseased and crippled people.

Mr. Gayer describes four villages, Dhanour, Bisanta, Baraut, and Bharid, near Sindaspore, as even now forming an island, quite cut off by breaches in roads and banks, and inhabited chiefly by Nunias, who live by labour. Mr. Faulkner, of Sindaspore, has taken Rs. 100 for their relief.

At Tewara and Gaighati, about 8 miles east, people were much better off. The cry of distress was proved to be false and an attempt to obtain money on easy terms. A death by fever had been represented as death from starvation. The uncle of Manu Singh, who had died, made this admission.

Further south, at Jarang, people were again found in a bad plight; but Baboo Bishnath Singh was giving food to many persons, who were not fit subjects. A process of weeding out was begun.

At Pirukpore and Masehri the state of affairs was a good deal better. Mr. Holloway and Mr. Stevens had work for people who wanted it.

The pith of all this is, that in spots like the four villages near Sindaspore and Jarang, there are people in great distress, who require and who are obtaining relief; but that even in the worst parts there is no very extensive continuous area of acute distress.

Mr. Gayer seems to be doing his work very well.

The other districts, Gya, Patna, Shahabad, and Sarun, are doing very well. Their crop prospects are excellent.

The fall in prices, consequent on the bhadoi harvest, has been checked by the failure so far of the hathiya rain. This does not mean that so far any harm has been done. The rice crop is in as good a condition as possible, and can do without rain for a good many more days without suffering at all. But the grain-dealers are all alive to the fact that hathiya rain is wanted, and on the slightest pretext raise their prices.

The following points in the resolution of the 3rd instant call for notice. My report, I regret to say, is again late because Mr. Harris was in the interior making enquiries. I have now impressed on him that, whether he is in or out of the station, material for a report up to the 15th and last days of the month should be in my hands on the 18th and 3rd. All relief works and gratuitous relief will be stopped in Durbhunga. The Great Gunduck flood will probably only delay rubbi sowings. The figures 5,750 in the last report was the daily average. The orders contained in paragraph 6, also received separately, will be attended to.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT FROM THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ROAD AND PUBLIC WORKS CESS OPERATIONS FOR THE CESS YEAR 1888-89.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—ROAD CESS.

Darjeeling, the 17th October, 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report from the Board of Revenue on the Road and Public Works Cess operations for the cess year 1888-89.

During the year under review the cesses continued to be levied at the maximum rates in all the districts in which Act IX (B.C.) of 1880 is in force, except Backergunge, where the public works cess was levied at full rates and the road cess at half rates. The current demand for the year amounted to—

	Rs.
Road cess	37,64,524
Public works cess	38,55,372
Total ...	76,19,896

2. This being the second cess year which has corresponded with the financial year, its figures are compared in the following table only with the figures of 1887-88:—

	Demands.			Collections.	Remissions.	Balances.	Percentage of balance on gross demand.
	Current.	Arrear.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1887-88	76,13,146	16,61,553	92,74,699	75,35,113	16,496	16,98,409	18·3
1888-89	76,19,896	17,20,662	93,40,558	74,86,777	20,925	17,98,942	19·2

The percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand was 75·37, that of current collections on current demand was 81·05, and that of total collections on current demand was 98·25. The unsatisfactory results of the year are attributed generally to the deficiency of harvests, the difficulty of realizing the arrear demand for three years from petty rent-free holdings, and the fact that the statutory allowance of 15 days' grace encourages unpunctuality in payment everywhere. These explanations are not sufficient, and the Lieutenant-Governor can only repeat what he wrote last year, that it is impossible to avoid the conclusion that this department of work has been unduly neglected in many districts. The actual collections during the past year are less than they have been in any year since 1884-85, while the demand has increased from Rs. 74,36,830, in that year to Rs. 76,19,896 in the year under review.

3. On comparing the arrear collections with the arrear demand, it is observed that in the following districts the arrear collections fell short of 90 per cent.—

	Percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand.	Percentage of current collections on current demand.
Burdwan	18·7	70·5
Bankoora	41·8	73·3
Shahabad	44·7	89
Moorshedabad	51	88·6
Furreedpore	57·7	60·4

Cuttack	68·5	89·6
Khulna	71·1	83·3
Jessore	73·2	76·7
Balasore	77·8	89·7
Pooree	78	89·1
Sarun	79·5	72·7

Patna	83·1	75·1
Durbhunga	83·1	85·2
Bhagulpore	83·9	89·1
Monghyr	86·2	70·6
24-Pergunnahs	86·2	82·4
Midnapore	87·3	76·3
Chittagong	87·5	89·4

In no previous year have so many districts been included in this list, or have the results been so generally unsatisfactory. It was observed last year that of the 18 districts then included in the list, there were only two in which the current collections did not exceed 80 per cent. of the current demand. The list now includes 21 districts, and in no less than 11 cases do the current collections fall short of 80 per cent. In the Burdwan district there is an arrear demand of Rs. 1,62,817, and the collections were only Rs. 30,531. The Board report that after the close of the year they have sanctioned a remission of Rs. 54,628 as irrecoverable balances. The bad collections are attributed to the difficulty of realizing direct from the holders of rent-free lands, which will be removed as soon as these holdings have, under the revaluation lately sanctioned, been amalgamated with the estates or tenures in which they are situated. The unsatisfactory current collections in this district are due to a sum of Rs. 56,000 payable by the Burdwan Raj estate not having been realized till after the close of the year. In Furreedpore the discovery of frauds and mistakes in the cess towji have led to unfavourable results. Both the Deputy Collector and the Head Clerk of the Cess Department were suspended, and the collections were at a standstill for some time. A special officer was deputed to enquire into the frauds, and the matter is now under the consideration of Government. In regard to other districts, the explanations are more or less similar to those given in last year's report, and, except where the bad results are due to scarcity, cannot be accepted as sufficient.

4. In the following districts, though the arrear collections were not less than 90 per cent., the current collections fell below that amount:—

	Percentage of current collections on current demand.	Percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand.
Manbhoom	68·6·	99·7
Dacca	71·5	95·5
Chumparun	75·8	99·6
Tipperah	77·4	94·3
Hazaribagh	79·1	100
Rajshahye	81·2	99·3.
Backergunge	81·3	92·2
Dinagepore	81·8	99·9
Pubna	85·9	95·1
Noakhally	86·1	97·1
Maldah	86·4	99·2
Rungpore	88·3	92·2

The short collections are generally ascribed to the 15 days' grace allowed for payments.

5. The collections on both the current and arrear demand exceeded or reached 90 per cent. in eight districts—

	Percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand.	Percentage of current collections on current demand.
Darjeeling	100	100
Bogra	100	92·8
Julpigoree	99·9	98·5
Purneah	99·5	93
Lohardugga	99·2	98
Beerbhoom	98·5	90
Nuddea	95·7	90
Mymensingh	91·3	92·3

These results are satisfactory, and show what can be attained under efficient administration. The district of Chittagong, where the difficulties of realization are probably greater than in any other district of Bengal, is almost included within this list. The number of recorded shareholders of estates in this district is 436,345, and when the current collections of Chittagong are shown to amount to 89·4 per cent., and the arrear collections to 87·5, it is obvious that the excuse put forward in Dacca and other districts, that the number of co-parceners prevents punctual realization, is not one which the Government can acknowledge as sufficient. What the Collectors of Mymensingh and Chittagong are able to do ought not to be impossible in other districts where the work is lighter and the difficulties of collection much less.

6. The number of certificates filed for the recovery of arrears was 71,546, which, with 31,062 pending on the 31st March 1888, gave a total of 102,608 for disposal. Of these, 67,303 were disposed of, leaving 35,305 pending at the end of March 1889. The outturn of work compares unfavourably with that of the previous year, when 82,021 certificates were disposed of. Out of 67,303 certificates disposed of, payment was made in 27,263 cases on the mere issue of notice, in 15,969 cases on the issue of notice of sale of moveable property, and in 18,681 cases on the issue of notice of sale of immoveable property. Sales actually took place only in 619 cases, and 28 of these were ultimately cancelled. The number of certificates filed was smallest (719) in the Chota Nagpore Division, and largest in the Patna, Burdwan and Presidency Divisions—14,765, 13,395, and 12,858 respectively. In Sarun and Moorshedabad, where both the arrear and current collections were unsatisfactory, the certificate procedure was very sparingly resorted to, only 4 cases having been instituted in the former district and 145 in the latter. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that in these districts there has been undue reluctance to issue certificates, the other measures adopted for the recovery of arrears having obviously failed.

7. Complete revaluations of the districts of Chumparun, resulting in an increase of Rs. 25,204 in the annual demand, and of Julpigoree, resulting in an increase of Rs. 7,181, were brought to a close during the year. Partial valuations and revaluations were completed in the Dacca, Backergunge, Rungpore, and Bogra districts.

8. In accordance with the recommendation of the Salaries Commission, the power hitherto exercised by the Board of granting remission of cesses under clause 3, section VII, chapter IV of the Board's Rules, volume II, has been delegated to Collectors. It has been ruled that the responsibility of Government for contributions to local funds will not extend beyond twelve months from the close of the financial year to which the demand relates, and instructions have been issued that applications for the Government share of the cost of revaluations shall be made within twelve months after the close of the proceedings. All lands held by Government for the purposes of the Sone Canal, the Orissa Canals, and the Midnapore and Hidgellee Tidal Canals, as well as all lands held as part of or for the purposes of railways in Bengal have, under section 2 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, been exempted from the operation of the Act.

9. The names of the Deputy Collectors who have been favourably noticed by the Board will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution and of the Board's report be submitted to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, and copies of the Resolution, and of the Board's report, to the Appointment and Revenue Departments for information.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE CALCUTTA SHIPPING OFFICE AND OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT THE OUTPORTS FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

No. 2226Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 28th September, 1889.

READ—

The Annual Report on the working of the Calcutta Shipping Office and of the Shipping Offices at the outports for the year 1888-89.

Lieutenant E. W. Petley, R.N., performed the duties of the Shipping Master of Calcutta during the year under review, and Mr. A. Lindquist, of the Bengal Pilot Service, held the office of Deputy Shipping Master. Both these officers have been favourably reported on.

2. There was during the year a general falling off in the operations of the Calcutta Shipping Office, and to this is attributed the decrease in the receipts, which amounted to Rs. 25,354 against Rs. 26,406 in the preceding year. The decline was the largest under the head sale of discharge certificates, owing, it is said, to nearly three-fourths of the sea-faring population of the port having now become possessed of such certificates. The charges amounted to Rs. 20,700 against Rs. 20,941 in 1887-88, and the net profits, which rose from Rs. 3,619 in 1883-84 to Rs. 5,465 in 1887-88, went down to Rs. 4,653 during the year under review.

3. The receipts on account of the funds held in trust by the Shipping Office were in excess of those of the previous year. The increase was notably under the head Deposit money of British seamen due to the Deputy Shipping Master's requiring all British seamen discharged through the Shipping Office to deposit a portion of their wages as a provision against their falling into distress. The repayments during the year were less as compared with the figures of the preceding year owing to the non-appearance of the payees, and the balance at the close of the year was Rs. 1,138 in excess of that of 1887-88.

4. The number of seamen shipped and discharged through the Shipping Office fell off from 15,079 and 14,064, respectively, in 1887-88 to 14,772 and 13,073 during the year under review. There was a decrease of 38 in the number of desertions as compared with the figures of the past year. The decrease is ascribed to reduction in the general business of the office.

5. The amount remitted home by seamen's moneyorders has been steadily declining. It came down from £7,069 in 1883-84 to £395 in 1888-89. The decrease is attributed to unfavourable rates of exchange.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that there was a considerable reduction during the year in the practice of giving substitutes: 28 substitutes were reported against 41 in the year before, the number of native seamen shipped during these periods being 10,722 and 5,012 respectively. This result is attributable to the system of issuing continuous discharge certificates which has to a slight extent also improved the condition of native seamen.

7. Thirty-four per cent. of the seamen who visited this port had signed agreements to receive their wages at a fixed rate of exchange if discharged in India, against 33 in the year before, and out of the number 29 per cent. were actually paid up against 32 in 1887-88. The reduction in the percentage of actual sufferers is said to be due to the restrictions laid on the discharge of seamen by the Deputy Shipping Master at different periods of the year. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor, however, premature to pronounce an opinion as to the precise effects of the instructions to Superintendents of Mercantile Marine offices and notice to seamen on the subject issued by the Board of Trade in January 1887.

8. The receipts of the Chittagong shipping office amounted to Rs. 289, against Rs. 343 in 1887-88. The decrease was chiefly under the head Discharging fees, owing to there having been fewer casualties as compared with the year before, necessitating the discharge of seamen, and to a paucity of jute and rice vessels visiting the port. The receipts on account of the Trust Funds, including the balance at the commencement of the year, amounted to Rs. 4,723, and the total amount paid away was Rs. 4,680. The number of seamen shipped and discharged was 62 and 89, respectively, against 85 and 170, the figures of the previous year.

9. Two seamen were discharged at False Point. At Balasore and Pooree no seamen were shipped or discharged.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PORT OFFICER OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

No. 2329Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION

Dated Calcutta, the 21st October 1889.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Port Officer of Calcutta for the year 1888-89.

The report is submitted by Lieutenant E. W. Petley, R.N., who was in charge of the department as Officiating Port Officer throughout the year. Since its close he has been confirmed in that appointment.

2. The question of locating the Port and Shipping Offices in one building, which has been under consideration for some years past, has been decided since the close of the year under review, and the construction of a suitable building, on the site selected by the Committee appointed in 1885 to consider and report on the best way of utilising for the purpose the space available in the Customs House, sanctioned. The building will, it is hoped, be completed during the current year.

3. The strength of the pilot service at the end of the year under review was 61 qualified pilots of all grades and 22 unqualified mates and leadsmen. The number of qualified pilots has since come down to 60, the sanctioned scale. Two leadsmen apprentices were recruited during the year from England, and one was admitted locally. Seven leadsmen apprentices passed as first and second mates; and the Lieutenant-Governor learns with satisfaction that the young officers of the service have acquitted themselves creditably.

4. The leadsmen's quarters at Garden Reach are under the management of the Mess Committee formed in 1887-88. This arrangement having worked satisfactorily, its continuance has been sanctioned until the expiry on the 7th December 1891 of the leases of the houses now occupied by the leadsmen.

5. The number of vessels entering and leaving the port during the year was respectively 1,037 with a tonnage of 2,245,857 and 1,034 with a tonnage of 2,240,444 against 1,047 with a tonnage 2,222,374 and 1,061 with a tonnage of 2,244,595 in 1887-88. There was thus an improvement in the aggregate tonnage of 19,332 tons over that of the previous year, which was the largest on record up to that date, and this increase occurred notwithstanding a falling off of 137 in the number of arrivals and departures, and shews that the tendency towards increased size and draught still continues. This increase in the tonnage of vessels visiting the port had resulted in raising the earnings of the senior pilots at the expense of the junior members of the service, and, for the purpose of improving the position of the latter, the scale of tonnage allotted to the different grades was readjusted during the year. It is satisfactory to note that the revised scale has to a certain extent benefitted the lower grades of the service.

The above figures are exclusive of 8 light-vessels, 12 pilot brigs and 30 other Government vessels, 6 other vessels put back, and 7 steam-tugs which are constantly running up and down the river; also of the steamers trading to the Orissa ports. Of these there were 268 arrivals and 269 departures. Native craft are also excluded.

6. There were 50 cases of grounding and 12 of collisions against 50 and 10 in the year before. The majority of the accidents were of a trivial character, but blame was attached to the pilots in 14 cases, 7 being due to inattention, 3 to unskilfulness, and the remainder to errors in judgment. As regards the collisions, damage was done in every instance except one, but in only one is serious damage reported: three of them were due to inattention on the part of the pilot, and in one case the tug pilot was to blame. The percentage of groundings and collisions to vessels piloted, which was 3·02 in 1886-87 and 2·84 in 1887-88, amounted in 1888-89 to 2 99: the slight excess is attributed to the inclusion in the return of every case of casualty however insignificant. The Port Officer reports favourably on the conduct of the pilots.

7. The Eastern Channel continues unaltered, but the depth of the Gasper has reduced by one foot. The entrance into the Saugor roads was narrower than in the year before, and it is believed that a bar will eventually form in the vicinity. The Long Sand light-ship was kept there all the year round. Nine vessels neaped for want of sufficient water over the bars against 13 in the previous year and 6 in the year before.

8. The steamer Undaunted was condemned during the year, and pending the arrival of the Guide, which is being built in England, the Resolute, belonging to the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta, is performing her work. The pilot-vessel Cassandra was also condemned and sold. The new brig Fame has arrived since the close of the year. The Port Officer's steam launch Muriel has, since the close of the year under report, been transferred to Khulna for employment under the Magistrate-Collector and the Superintendent of Police, and the Public Works Department launch Sylph has been placed under the Port Officer pending the construction of a new vessel to take the place of the Muriel.

9. The Orphangunge yard for the storage of goods belonging to the Marine Department was abolished during the year, and such stores as were useful were removed to the shed erected for the purpose at the Seebpore workshops.

10. The total number of candidates examined during the year for Colonial and Local certificates of competency of various grades was 83, of whom 60 passed and the rest failed. The Colonial certificates granted consisted of 9 master's, 21 first mate's, 13 second mate's, 4 first class engineer's, and 7 second class engineer's. Of the successful candidates for Local certificates, two obtained certificates as first mates, one as first class engineer, and 26 as engine-drivers. Two licenses were issued to steam-tug pilots, and 9 certificates were granted under Act VI of 1884. Eighteen new permits were granted to native coasters between 100 and 200 tons and 13 renewed during the year. Four vessels were registered under the English Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, and the registry of two was cancelled. Fifty-four A and 46B certificates were issued to native passenger ships.

11. The acknowledgments of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Lieutenant Petley for his efficient administration of the Department during the year.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the Report and of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, in the Department of Finance Commerce; and to the Military (Marine) Department; the Port Officer of Calcutta; the Bengal Chamber of Commerce; the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta; and the Director of the Indian Marine, Bombay, for information.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER 1889.

THE weather conditions in Bengal during September are generally similar to those of the previous monsoon months. The south-west monsoon continues to bring up large amounts of aqueous vapour, and during the earlier weeks of the month the rainfall, more especially in the western districts, is partly due to the Bombay branch of the monsoon current, though the greater part of the rainfall is undoubtedly brought up by the current blowing from the Bay of Bengal The Bombay branch, however, gives way earlier than that from the Bay of Bengal, and from the second or the third week it ceases to influence Bengal The Bay of Bengal branch also weakens during September, particularly during the latter half of the month, and at its close it almost withdraws from the province, and thus the rainfall in September in Bengal is decidedly smaller than in July and August, and the decrease is also greater in the western districts than elsewhere, from the cessation of the Bombay monsoon current comparatively early in the month.

The intermittent character of the monsoon rainfall has been frequently pointed out in previous summaries. Each heavy burst of rainfall appears to exhaust for the time being the supplies of aqueous vapour available for condensation. Hence, after each such burst, the monsoon current falls off, and appears to die away in and near its normal limits. Local variable winds set in over the Gangetic plain and extend eastwards. This goes on until the moisture current in the rear accumulates fresh supplies of aqueous vapour and renewed energy, when it again advances and gives general rain. The majority of these advances accompany a certain amount of atmospheric disturbance, which frequently takes the form of small moving depressions or cyclonic circulations or storms. These usually occur near the front of the increasing monsoon current, or near its limits of retreat. Hence these depressions may originate either over the land or the sea, according to the strength and other conditions of the monsoon current at the time. The chief meteorological features of the month are usually the depressions which introduce and accompany the bursts of rain. Their place of formation, the rapidity with which they follow one another, and the total amount of rain they give, depend mainly upon the strength of the monsoon current itself, whilst the directions which the depressions pursue, and the local distribution of rainfall, are determined by the local meteorological conditions prevalent during their formation and existence.

Normal distribution of rainfall.—The average distribution of rainfall for the month of September depends mainly upon the geographical relations of the province to the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, which are similar to those of the preceding month. The withdrawal of the Bombay branch westward deprives a portion of the province (chiefly the western districts) of one of its sources of rainfall, and also somewhat alters the conditions and relation of the province to the other branch. Hence the average distribution of the month of September differs, more especially in the western districts, considerably from that of the two preceding months of July and August.

The average rainfall of the month exceeds 20 inches in the districts at the foot of the hills in North Bengal. Between this area and a line running west and east through Bagdogra, and also in a small area in East Bengal, including Fenny and Noakholly, the mean rainfall varies between 15 and 20 inches. Between these areas and a curved line defined by the stations of Bettiah, Durbhunga, Bhagulpore, Godda, Berhampore, Goalundo, Maniekgunge Bagirhat, Diamond Harbour, Kendrapara, and Pooree, and thus including the greater part of North-East and South-West Bengal and the northern districts of North Behar, the average rain is from 10 to 15 inches. In the area to the south and west of this line, including the whole of Behar, except the most northern portions, the northern and central districts of South-West Bengal, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, Chutia Nagpur, and the western districts of Orissa, the average rainfall is less than 10 inches, and ranges between 6 and 10 inches. The greater part of South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, within this area, has an average varying from 8 to 10 inches. The average rainfall of the month is least in the Patna, Gya, and Shahabad districts of South Behar, and in a small area in South-West Bengal, including the stations of Magoorah, Bongong, Ranaghat, Krishnaghur, and Culna In these districts the average rainfall very slightly exceeds 6 inches, and ranges between 6 and 7 inches.

Meteorology of the month.—The pressure conditions of the month of August, it will be remembered, were noteworthy because of a trough of low pressure which, beginning in the north-west corner of the Bay of Bengal, extended in a north-west direction over Orissa and part of Chutia Nagpur, and that this to a great extent gave the line of division between the areas receiving rain from the west coast and Bay moonsoon currents, easterly winds prevailing on the east side and westerly winds to the west of it, while within it winds were light and more or less irregular. Though not to the same extent, and not so uninterruptedly, a similar arrangement has prevailed during the present month of September. The area of comparatively low pressure which generally lies well over the province of Bengal, has been more to the west, and in consequence the mean pressures for the month are everywhere above the normal, while a more important influence has been produced on the rainfall distribution The west coast current flowing towards this low area has not extended over the western districts to the same extent as in other years, and appears to have withdrawn considerably before the usual time. The Bay current, on the other hand, having to supply the whole of Bengal, has been deflected rather more to the westwards, leaving portions of the eastern districts considerably deficient in rainfall.

Another reason for the comparative absence of rain in the western districts may be the small number of influential depressions or cyclonic storms, which, generally, forming in the northern half of the Bay, pass in a north-westerly direction over the western districts of Bengal, and give heavy rain, especially near the centre of depression. There have been several of these depressions during the month, but, as will be seen later, the only one of importance formed rather further south than usual, and during the first few days of its existence took a westerly course, passing Vizagapatam and keeping that direction till it was well into the Central Provinces, when it moved to the north. The centre was therefore nearest Bengal, while it was passing inland over the Circars, and again when it approached the Himalayas, and then heavy rain fell in Orissa and Behar; but a smaller proportion, than usual, of the rain caused by depressions forming in the Bay during the month of September fell in Bengal during the existence of this the only important disturbance which has occurred during the present month.

During the first half of the month two very slight depressions appeared, but filled up within two days after their formation. One was on the 31st of August and 1st of September in the North-West Provinces and Behar, accompanied by a cyclonic circulation which affected the whole of Bengal. A strong monsoon was then blowing at the head of the Bay, giving general rain, especially in Behar. The low-pressure area was transferred eastwards, and rain continued over the whole province for three or four days, after which, in consequence of a rise of pressure on the 3rd and 4th, winds fell off and rain became much less general. Pressure continued steady till the 7th, when the second small depression appeared in Bengal near the north-west corner of the Bay. Winds were cyclonic in its near neighbourhood, but it disappeared within the next twenty-four hours, without having influenced, except in South-West Bengal, the amount of rain. There was then a trough of low pressure extending from the Himalayas to the south of the Bay along the west coast, and this, though contracting northwards, was always to the west of Bengal so as to prevent the westerly monsoon current from reaching it. The period from which that part of the monsoon ceased to affect Bengal may therefore be taken as the end of the first week, ten days or a fortnight earlier than in normal years. From the 8th to the 16th a light monsoon current was blowing from the Bay, giving southerly winds and showery weather over the greater part of the province, but more especially in northern districts. On the 16th the first signs of disturbed weather began to appear in the Bay, and on the same day there was a shallow depression partly covering Behar, and heavy showers caused by thunderstorms in North Bengal, but the depression had filled up on the following day.

Cyclonic storm from 16th to 22nd September.—From the 13th to 15th pressure changes over the Bay, so far as could be inferred from those on the coast, were inconsiderable, and the uniform pressure which during these days obtained over the greater part of the Bay, showed that a pressure distribution similar to that immediately preceding the change of seasons was tending to assert itself. Weather was generally fine with absence of rain and light winds, but on the 14th a shift of winds at the head of the Bay, considered along with the slow indraught that had been going on in Burma and Madras for some days, pointed to a commencing disturbance near the centre of the Bay. On the following day pressure fell along the west coast and briskly over the greater part of Bengal, while the wind circulation was unchanged, except in Burma, directions there being more southerly. The fall continued on the 16th, and the depression became more noticeable, the centre appearing to be about midway between Diamond Island and Vizagapatam. Wind directions were cyclonic at all the coast stations, but not at the inland stations of Bengal, probably owing to the shallow depression in the north-west. But as it had disappeared on the following day while the more extensive disturbance over the Bay had developed somewhat, and was moving in a westerly direction, it began to control the wind circulation in the province. During the next twenty-four hours the centre of the storm moved westwards, and at 8 a.m. on the 18th was from 50 to 100 miles from Vizagapatam, a little to the north of east from that station. Pressure had fallen rapidly in Orissa and at the Bengal coast stations. Winds were cyclonic, and were increasing in force, while heavy rain fell in Orissa and showers in Bengal. The storm centre passed inland on the evening of the 18th, and on the following morning was due west from Gopalpore. Winds were then south or south-east in the north-west corner of the Bay, and were still increasing in force; the largest velocity recorded being 36 miles an hour on the morning of this day at Gopalpore. Squally weather with rough sea prevailed in these parts, and general rain fell in Orissa and Lower Bengal, but there were only scattered showers in the northern districts. After this the storm took a more northerly course, skirting the western boundary of the province, causing cyclonic winds of increasing strength in Bengal, while in Orissa wind velocity remained unchanged. On the 19th there was a rapid rise of pressure, and beyond the cyclonic circulation and steep gradients the existence of the depression was hardly traceable in Bengal, except in the extreme west. The centre had moved rather slowly, and was to the west-north-west of Gopalpore. During the 20th and 21st it moved towards the north, and on the latter day was in Oudh, where it rapidly broke up, leaving weather in a very disturbed condition, and giving heavy rain in the northern districts, especially North Behar.

Showery weather was general during these days in Bengal, but it lasted a very short time after the final disappearence of the depression. This was probably owing to a shallow depression which began to form on the 23rd in Burma and the north-east corner of the Bay. Pressure fell from 0·15 inch to 0·2 inch in Burma during that and the following day, but there was no further intensifying. The shallow low-pressure area moved slowly northwards over the eastern districts of Bengal, and gradually filled up towards the end of the month. Immediately on its appearance rain ceased in Behar, though showers fell in other parts of Bengal, but the northerly winds gradually extended southwards, and rain altogether ceased till after the depression had entered Bengal, when moist winds blew along the eastern boundary, giving rain at the extreme eastern stations, but none elsewhere. Rain therefore was almost entirely absent from Bengal during the last week.

Pressure.—During the first week of September a wave of high pressure came gradually over the province apparently from the south, as the steady rise first began at the southern stations. The mean pressure for that week was nearly a tenth of an inch in excess of the normal in Orissa, and more than a twentieth of an inch in the other districts. This state of high pressure remained unchanged till the disturbed weather began about the middle of the month. During the second week the mean excess at Gopalpore and Rungpore was 0·12 inch, and at many stations was over a tenth of an inch, but the difference from the normal at the foot of the hills was much smaller. From being largely in excess at the beginning of the third week, pressure became nearly normal, except in Orissa, and changes were large in the western districts during the early part of the last week, and a few days later in East Bengal and Assam, when the low-pressure area was moving over the east of the province. Defects exceeded 0·15 inch in East Bengal and Assam on the 27th, but pressure was beginning to rise, and continued to do so steadily till the end of the month.

Temperature has been below the normal in the northern districts during the greater part of the month. During the first week means were above the normal in Chutia Nagpur and Assam, while weather was, compared with the normal, coldest in Orissa and East Bengal. In North Bengal and North Behar temperature was very nearly normal, but after that the mean for these districts was one to two degrees below the normal from week to week till the end of the month. In Orissa, South-West and East Bengal mean temperature differed very little from the normal till towards the end of the month, when, in the first two districts, there was considerable excess. The mean temperature for the whole month is 0·9° deficient in Behar and North Bengal, normal in Chutia Nagpur, four-tenths of a degree below the normal in Assam, and above in the other districts, Orissa seven-tenths, South-West Bengal three-tenths, and East Bengal two-tenths of a degree.

Rainfall.—The rain that has fallen during the month has, as stated above, been almost entirely received from the Bay current. The western current being prevented from flowing over the province by the low-pressure area, which generally lies over Bengal, being transferred westwards. The part of the Bay current which crossed the head of the Bay was drawn to the west, while another portion passing up the eastern boundary was deflected westwards, along the valley of the Ganges, giving the relatively heavy rain in North Bengal and Behar. The falls in these districts are all considerably above the normal: in North Bengal more than 4 inches, North Behar nearly 3 inches, and in South Behar 1·2 inches; while in the other districts rain has been deficient: in Orissa by 3·6 inches, Chutia Nagpur 1·9 inches, East Bengal 1·6 inches, and South-West Bengal 0·8 inch.

The comparison of the actual rainfall of the various large divisions of the province during September with the normal is most accurately and conveniently shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month calculated in this way are included in the table below under the heading of September. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division; the first nine columns giving the actual average falls in each division for each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the tenth column gives the actual rainfall for the first nine months expressed as a percentage of the normal rainfall for that period:—

Meteorological Divisions.	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	July.	August.	September.	Actual rainfall of first nine months of 1889 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.

The area of deficient rainfall lies almost entirely in the south of the province, and a very large proportion is on the south-west. It includes nearly the whole of East Bengal, the Sunderbans, a portion of South-West Bengal, Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and part of South Behar. The area of rainfall deficient by more than 4 inches includes nearly the whole of Orissa and a narrow strip of country along the north coast of the Bay, while in the north-east corner of North Bengal, i.e., parts of Cooch Behar and Julpigoree, defects are nearly all from 4 to 8 inches, showing that the current which was flowing northwards along the eastern boundary of Bengal had a more strongly westward set than usual. In North Behar and North Bengal excess amounts were frequently over 4 inches, and in parts of Chumparun, Durbhunga, Kissengunge, and Maldah were 8 inches or over. Actual falls exceed 10 inches in a small corner in the south-east and in the northern half of the province, 15 inches in Noakholly, part of Chittagong, a strip in the north of East Bengal, North Bengal, and part of North Behar. In small parts of these districts falls have exceeded 20 inches, Cox's Bazar Harrishpore, Jamalpore, Durgapore, Kurigram, Dinhatta, Buxa, and Kissengunge having received from 20 to 25 inches. The largest fall was 28·9 inches at Nanda In Lower Bengal, Orissa, and Chutia Nagpur falls were generally from 5 inches to 10 inches, and were under 5 inches along the west of Chutia Nagpur

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of September in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal, or average district rainfall as determined for the rainfall observations of the past fifteen years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information in a slightly different form. It states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in defect or excess of the normal rainfall, and is hence the difference between the numbers in the third column and 100:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

CALCUTTA, the 18th October 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 18TH OCTOBER 1889.

FAIRLY settled weather has prevailed in Bengal during the present week, with very little rain, except in Orissa, during the last two days. Pressure was very nearly normal at the commencement and remained steady, until the formation of a depression in the south of the Bay caused a general fall extending over the whole province, but largest in the south-western districts. Winds were light and somewhat irregular with high temperatures in Lower Bengal during the greater part of the week, and in the northern districts for the first day or two, but in these latter districts temperature fell, and remained two or three degrees below the normal during the last three days Some very heavy local showers fell in North Bengal and South Behar on the 12th and 13th—at Pakour exceeding 6 inches, and at Shibgunge, in the Maldah district, exceeding 5 inches.

Pressure was low in the south of the Bay on Saturday, the first day of the present week, and the diffused low-pressure area gradually concentrated, giving a rather shallow depression off the Coromandel Coast on Monday and Tuesday. It passed inland on Wednesday, after which a current of moist air began to move northwards along the west coast of the Bay, giving heavy rain in Orissa on Thursday and Friday, and densely clouded skies in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur on Friday. Weather was up till the end of the week not otherwise affected by the depression beyond the northerly direction it gave to the winds and the fine clear dry weather which prevailed everywhere before the arrival of the moist air current from the south.

Pressure, was very nearly normal at the beginning of the week, and remained steady till the last two days, when a moderate fall was general. Changes nowhere exceeded a twentieth of an inch at any time except in South Orissa on Thursday, and then it was between six and seven hundredths of an inch. Pressure was considerably below the normal at the end of the week, especially in Orissa, the defect at Gopalpur being 0·14 inch and at False Point 0·13 inch. Elsewhere it was generally between eight hundredths and a tenth of an inch. Mean pressure for the week is deficient by amounts ranging from three to five hundredths of an inch.

Temperature was high in Lower Bengal and in the northern districts during the first half of the week. Means for the large divisions are all below the normal except those for South-West Bengal and Orissa, but generally by one or two-tenths of a degree only. Excess in Orissa is 1·5° and defect in North Bengal 1·7°.

Rainfall has been scattered and chiefly due to thunder storms. Some heavy showers fell in the central districts on the 12th and 13th, and there was general heavy rain in Orissa on the 17th and 18th. There has been practically no rain in North Behar or in South Behar outside the Sonthal Pergunnahs, while in North Bengal and Chutia Nagpur none fell after the first two days. The heavy rain that fell in Orissa at the end of the week exceeds the normal amount for the whole week. In South-West, East and North Bengal and North Behar the amount received is only from a third to a half of the normal, and in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur nearly the normal amount fell, but the distribution was very irregular.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 18th of October 1889 :—

The 22nd October 1889. Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE subjoined table discloses that during the month of August 1889, 126,815 persons died among a population of 65,859,534 living in the districts in Bengal, representing an annual ratio of 23·04 per 1,000, against 25·08 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 19·80 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of the past year, indicating, as compared with the former period, a great retrogression in registration, and that of the latter period, a considerable increase.

2. The highest casualty-rates were returned from the following districts :—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Lohardugga	44·52	Birbhum	31·92

Other causes	3·36	2·88

The only noticeable point indicated by the above figures is that fever prevailed with greater severity during the month under notice than during the corresponding month of the preceding year.

4. Cholera and fever proved conspicuously fatal in the following districts, the other diseases not exhibiting high mortality anywhere, excepting in Poori, where 17·40 per 1,000 of the population died from the maladies classed under the head of "Other causes":—

Closing Revenue balance	2,86,308

5. The receipts under Capital account amounted to Rs. 3,38,462, and the expenditure Rs. 2,73,579, there being a balance of Rs. 64,883 on the 31st of March 1889. At the Petroleum Wharf at Budge-Budge a sum of Rs. 98,917 was spent for providing better protection for the oil cargoes stored there. A sum of Rs. 30,756 was expended on the new light-vessel, ordered last year and received in the year under review. Fifty new wagons were purchased for the Railway at a cost of Rs. 97,696.

6. In December 1887 the Commissioners received a memorial signed by a number of the Hindu inhabitants of Calcutta, in which it was stated that if the Commissioners would grant a small piece of land on the river-bank free of cost, Rai Soorjamul Jhoonjhoon-wallah, Bahadur, would place in their hands a reasonable sum of money for erecting a shed for the use of the public for performing the Adyo Sradha ceremony. The Commissioners accepted the offer, allotted a site for the ghât between Juggernath Ghât and Prasanna Kumar Tagore's Ghât, and received a sum of Rs. 9,901 from the donor, which has since been expended in erecting an ornamental iron shed, specially designed to meet the purpose. The shed was completed in February 1889.

7. The advances received by the Commissioners from the Public Treasury for the dock works at Kidderpore amounted to Rs. 1,35,58,644 on the 31st March 1889, and the total expenditure incurred on the works up to that period amounted to Rs. 1,32,87,730. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure that the works have been pushed on vigorously during the year.

The general health of the labourers employed in docks during the year was good.

8. The income from jetties was Rs. 11,39,930, against Rs. 10,52,440 in the previous year. The increase was due principally to the receipts from the landing, shipping, and warehousing of general goods at the jetties, and from the tea warehouse, and the increase in income derived from the Petroleum Wharf, and from hoisting charges. The expenditure was Rs. 7,09,988, being Rs. 34,188 in excess of that of the previous year.

The increase is accounted for under the following heads, which show an aggregate excess of Rs. 33,500:—

	Rs.
Salaries	2,000
Interest	3,000
Dockyard repairs	2,300
Working expenses	2,300
Repairs to jetties and cranes	10,300
Municipal taxes	13,600
Total ...	33,500

The net revenue of the whole year amounted to Rs. 4,29,942, against Rs. 3,76,641 in 1887-88.

9. The Inland Steam-vessels Wharves yielded an income of Rs. 4,62,463, being Rs. 19,360 less than that of the previous year. The falling off is due to the reduced quantity of grain and seeds which passed over the wharf as compared with the imports and exports of 1887-88. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,03,259, being Rs. 8,699 in excess of that of the previous year. The net revenue of the year amounted to Rs. 1,59,204.

10. The receipts and charges on account of the Strand Bank lands amounted, respectively, to Rs. 1,74,736 and Rs. 91,445, against Rs. 1,83,931 and Rs. 94,959 in the year before. The amount of rent collected was about the same as during the previous year.

11. The income of the Harbour-Master's Department was Rs. 5,32,358, against Rs. 5,73,701 of the previous year. The decrease was due principally to the receipts from mooring hire being less than that of previous years on account of the shortened stay of vessels in the port. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 5,07,467, against Rs. 5,00,743 of the year before. The increase was owing to an unusually large demand for repairs of boats belonging to the department, the outlay amounting to Rs. 33,368, against Rs. 19,298 in the preceding year. The net revenue was Rs. 24,891.

12. The returns of sea-going vessels entering and leaving the port show that the decrease in the number and tonnage of sailing vessels and the increase in the number and tonnage of steamers is still marked though not to the great extent shown last year. The number of sea-going vessels entering and leaving the port falls slightly short of the largest previous record—that of 1887-88—but the tonnage of the vessels entering the port exceeds that of previous years, being 2,250,086 as compared with 2,222,374 of 1887-88. Only vessels which were piloted from, and to, sea by officers of the Pilot Service are included in the statements.

Notwithstanding the slight increase in tonnage entering the port, the falling off in the receipts from mooring hire are borne out by the fact that the whole year was conspicuous for the small tonnage in port at any one time. For, whilst in 1887-88 the total tonnage in port was less than 140,000 for only 14 weeks, it was below that amount for 41 weeks in 1888-89; and, whereas in the former year the total tonnage was over 150,000 for 29 weeks, in the latter it was only over that figure for three weeks.

13. There were 12 casualties to vessels while in charge of Assistant Harbour-Masters. Nine of these were purely accidental: in one case the Assistant Harbour-Master was found guilty of neglect of duty, and in another it was found that the Assistant Harbour-Master had committed an error of judgment. In the last-named instance a departmental committee was appointed, who found that the accident was primarily due to the vessel having to ease down and stop to clear a cargo boat. Numerous complaints had already been received by the Commissioners regarding the careless, indifferent way, in which cargo-boat manjees allowed their boats to drift with the tide, thereby endangering the safety of sea-going vessels navigating the port, and they considered that additional rules were necessary for regulating cargo-boats when proceeding up and down the port. Two rules were framed by the Commissioners in communication with the Chamber of Commerce, and have since been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. No fire occurred on board any ship during the year.

14. In the course of the year a representation was made by the Assistant Harbour-Masters on the following points:—

(1) The question of fees for mooring vessels at Budge-Budge.
(2) Remuneration for bringing vessels up from Budge-Budge.
(3) The question of earning overtime and holiday fees.
(4) House-rent allowance.
(5) Standing pay.

The Deputy Conservator of the Port was directed to enquire into this representation, and on his reporting that there were some grounds for complaint, the Commissioners appointed a Committee to consider the matter and to enquire into the general working of the Harbour-Master's Department. The Committee were of opinion that the claim to additional remuneration for bringing vessels up from Budge-Budge was entitled to consideration, and recommended that a fee of Rs. 16 should be paid for each vessel, but that it should not be a charge against the vessel, it being met from the grant for working expenses of the Petroleum Wharf. They also recommended that the pay drawn by Assistant Harbour-Masters should be increased as follows:—

First grade	...	...	...	Rs.	250 to Rs.	300
Second „	...	...	...	„	200 to „	250
Third „	...	...	...	„	170 to „	200

The proposal has been sanctioned by Government.

The Committee also made certain suggestions regarding the recruitment of the service, and the method of training adopted for the junior officers.

15. A representation was made by the Chamber of Commerce urging that masters and agents of vessels should be at liberty to decline to accept the service of any particular Harbour-Master without assigning any reason. The Commissioners contended that to allow masters or owners to decline the services of an officer, without giving substantial reasons, would upset all working arrangements, as officers sent off to vessels might be refused, and all control over the movement of vessels in port would be entirely lost. An agreement was at last come to by the Commissioners promising to pay every attention to any confidential representation regarding any Harbour-Master, but reserving to themselves the right of enquiry and of taking action in accordance with the result of such enquiry.

16. All the moorings in port, with the exception of three in Kidderpore and two off the Salt Golahs, the chains of which were defective, and have been replaced since the close of the year, were thoroughly examined during the year, and defects remedied. Two new moorings have been laid off Shalimar for the British India Steam Navigation Company, making a total of 227 moorings in the Port, viz., 175 fixed and 52 swinging moorings. The dredger was at work 192 days, and excavated 3,687,503 cubic feet at a net cost of Rs. 20,249.

17. The number of vessels surveyed during the year was 276, and 901 inspections had to be made for the purpose of these surveys.

18. Five new sea-going steamers and about twenty inland steamers and steam-launches have been added to the various trades in, and to and from, the port. A number of despatch steamers were also added. These vessels are of light draught with large passenger decks, and are employed in inland trade. They are of about 200 to 300 tons gross, while the certificates held by the Serangs entitle them to take charge of vessels up to 100 tons. The Engine-drivers' certificates entitle them to take charge of steamers up to 50 horse-power, while many of the steamers are designed to come just under 80 horse-power to comply with the provisions of section 28 (2) of Act VI of 1884 concerning these certificates. A set of rules have been framed under section 29 of the Act for the examination and licensing of second class masters and engine-drivers competent to take charge of such vessels, and they are now under the consideration of the Government of India.

19. Towards the end of the year the attention of the Commissioners was directed by Government to the inadequacy of the scale of fees charged for making steam-ship surveys in the Port of Calcutta, as compared with the fees charged at Bombay and in the United Kingdom, and also with those levied in Calcutta for the survey of land boilers. Owing to the inadequate scale, the amount of fees did not cover half the cost of doing the work, and the Commissioners were requested to submit a revised scale of fees, which would cover all charges, including the rate of pay proposed for an Assistant Surveyor, whose appointment is under contemplation. The Commissioners reported that it would be unnecessary and undesirable to increase the scale of fees so long as means could be provided from other sources to meet the expenditure incurred. This view was not accepted by Government, and the Commissioners were asked to reconsider the proposal to increase the fees, and were at the same time informed that, under the contemplated new rules of procedure, it was proposed to make such alterations as would better assist the Government in exercising the control which the law imposes on it. The Commissioners at last decided to accept the decision of Government, and thus to be relieved of all duties and obligations connected with surveys under Acts VI and VII of 1884. They came to the conclusion that it is desirable that Government should in future undertake directly the engagement, payment, and control of all establishments employed for the survey of vessels. The subject is still under the consideration of Government.

20. The number of passengers and cargo-boats surveyed during the year was 1,648 and 5,931 respectively, against 1,628 and 6,138 in the previous year. The number of manjees licensed was 9,715, against 9,204 in the year before. The rules regulating the crews to be carried and also the tonnage of certain classes of cargo boats were, after consideration by a Committee, slighily modified.

21. The income derived from the Port Commissioners' Tramway line amounted to Rs. 3,26,697, against Rs. 2,85,912 of the previous year, and was greater than that of any previous year. The increase is due solely to additional traffic. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,93,596, against Rs. 1,77,885 of the year before. The increase was due to the additional establishment maintained to deal with the traffic during the busy season and to an increase in the working expenses and maintenance charges. After meeting all expenses, the net revenue of the year was still sufficient to admit of a contribution of Rs. 20,000 towards the cost of maintenance of the Port Approaches.

22. The income on account of the Port Approaches, which consisted principally of a contribution of Rs. 4,25,000 from the Port Trust revenue, amounted to Rs. 4,33,616 and the expenditure to Rs. 4,17,763, being Rs. 1,74,423 less than that of the previous year. The decrease is due to the fact that during the year under review the contribution made to the Depreciation Fund was limited to the prescribed sum of Rs. 50,000, while during the last year there was a special contribution of Rs. 1,20,000 to meet the cost of a new light-ship. A special payment of Rs. 14,078 was also made last year as a contribution towards the cost of the new light-house on Shortt's Island. Moreover, the repairs and working expenses of 1887-88 were abnormal on account of the cyclone of the 25th May 1887.

23. There was no change in the Eastern Channel during the year under review, it being navigable for vessels of any draught at all times of the tide. With the exception of the soundings over the bar having again deteriorated to 20 feet, there has been no change in the Gaspar Channel. In Saugor roads the Middleton Spit has again extended in a south-westerly direction. The rapid changes occurring in the Eden Channel caused considerable anxiety, rendering the constant attendance of a surveying vessel necessary till the middle of July, when the channel to the eastward cut through and gradually improved, and has since been in general use.

24. No obstruction occurred to the navigation of vessels of moderate draught at Roypore bar at any time of the tide. Over the Moyapore bar the tracks have maintained a very good average throughout, with the exception of a few days in September, when there was only 12 feet 6 inches best water.

The surveys of the river during the past year were confined to the navigable channels in use, both by sea-going and inland vessels, the latter as far as Mud Point, and the former to the tail of the middle ground.

26. The Survey Department suffered a serious loss by the wreck of the auxiliary survey vessel Research in August 1888. As this loss very seriously interfered with the work of the Department, the Commissioners were allowed the gratuitous use of the Government steamer Tigris, and it was arranged that their steamer Resolute should in return undertake Government work in connection with pilotage, &c. The Commissioners have now decided to buy this vessel for Rs. 60,000, the price wanted by the Government of India, and to pay this amount during the current financial year.

27. The construction of a railway to Budge-Budge has been sanctioned, and the works are in progress.

28. A Bill consolidating the several Acts under which the working of the Calcutta Port Trust is now regulated has been framed. The Commissioners were requested to consider the Bill, and they have submitted a report specifying in detail all the points on which they deem it desirable to make amendments, or to introduce new provisions. The Bill and the Commissioners' report are under the consideration of Government.

29. The thanks of Government are due to the Commissioners for their successful management of the affairs of the Trust during the year.

CALCUTTA the 29th October 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 25TH OCTOBER 1889.

THE depression in the south of the Bay, which was the most important feature of the meteorology of the latter half of the previous week, had, at the end of the week, passed inland and was near the west coast of India, while a moist current of air was gradually forcing its way northwards along the west coast of the Bay, and had given rain in Orissa and the Midnapore district. The rain-bearing current continued its course for about five days in the present week, the cloudy weather with light rain being felt in South Behar about the middle of the week. The depression, instead of passing on to the Arabian Sea, took a north-easterly direction into Central India, and its influence was probably again felt in the south-west of the province, as rain was fairly general in Orissa throughout the week. This, however, must have been partly due to another depression which, forming in the Bay off the Burmah coast, first began to indicate its presence on Sunday, though it seemed only to give a cyclonic appearan e to the wind circulation, and somewhat heavy and general rain in that region. Soon after indraught commenced on the Orissa coast, and the low-pressure area, while gradually developing, moved slowly towards that part of the coast. Pressure fell slowly till Tuesday, when there was a rather rapid fall along the north-east of the Bay and in the eastern districts of Bengal. The shallow depression in the Central Provinces, which had been moving towards the north east, had filled up on that day and a shallow, diffused depression covered the northern half of the Bay, East Bengal, and Orissa. Winds were cyclonic, but light in force, and though there had been a steady slow increase at Diamond Island, the average velocity never exceeded eight miles an hour. The depression developed slightly on the following day, Wednesday, and the area of lowest pressure was then off the Orissa coast. It remained there, without altering to any great extent, till the end of the week, when it began to move in a norther easterly direction so as to pass to the east of Saugor Island. Though the depression remained shallow, its being stationary for several days in the north-west corner caused a rather strong indraught in these parts, and weather was beginning to become squally at the coast stations, and was probably more so at a distance from the coast. Fairly heavy rain fell in Orissa on Thursday, and in South-West and East Bengal on Friday, but on the latter the amount and distribution was more irregular, as it was principally caused by thunderstorms. Except in the western districts in the early part of the week and in Lower Bengal towards the end very little rain fell, northerly winds with light cloud and high temperature prevailing during the greater part of the week.

Pressure—Has been unusually low in Bengal and the northern half of the Bay, the distribution being that which prevails during the south-west monsoon period, whereas at this season of the year pressure is generally steadily rising in Bengal, and tending to exceed that over the southern half of the Bay. It was low at the beginning of the week, defect generally varying between a twentieth and a tenth of an inch, but as the depression which commenced to form near Burmah gradually approached the north-west coast, pressure there fell steadily, and defects gradually increased to, and at some of the Orrissa stations exceeded, a quarter of an inch. At inland stations a slow increase was going on, and gradients became steeper over the province, causing an increase of wind velocity in the southern districts and steady northerly winds. Mean pressure has, therefore, been largely below the normal, defects being between 0·1 inch and 0·15 inch in the northern districts and Chutia Nagpur, and between 0·15 inch and 0·2 inch in South-West Bengal and Orissa. The largest defect in mean pressure for the week is 0·205 inch at False Point.

Temperature—Has been uniformly high except in Orissa, where it has been, on an average, nearly normal. Excess has been large at some stations, being generally between 2° and 3° in all districts, and exceeding 3° in parts of South-West and East Bengal. Excess at Backergunge is 3 6°, at Dehree 3 3°, and at Burdwan and Jessore over 3°. The means for the larger divisions are all considerably above the normal except in Orissa, where the difference is only three-tenths of a degree. Excess is 2·7° in East Bengal, 2·4° in Assam, 2 3° in South-West Bengal and South Behar, 2·2° in North Bengal, 1·7° in North Behar, and 1° in Chutia Nagpur.

Rainfall—Has been almost entirely confined to the south and west of the province, to the latter in the early part of the week, and the former during the last two days. No rain fell in North Behar, and only three hundredths of an inch in North Bengal. By far the heaviest falls have been in Orissa owing to its coming within the sphere of influence of the two depressions which have governed the weather conditions during the week. South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur have received more, South Behar slightly less, than the normal amount, and East Bengal rather more than half its normal. The heaviest falls are—Saugor Island 6 3 inches, Khurdah 5·3 inches, Pooree 4·8 inches, Palamow 4·5 inches, False Point 4 inches, Tajpore, Heria, and Garwah between 3 and 4 inches. In Chutia Nagpur falls were nearly all over one inch, except in the Manbhoom district, where they were very light. In South Behar they exceeded one inch in the Shahabad district only, they were generally between half an inch and one inch in Gya, and no rain fell in the other districts except some very light showers in the Sonthal Pergunnahs.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 25th of October 1889 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4th November, 1889.—Whereas the basis of compensation to be awarded for revenue-paying lands taken up under the provisions of Act X of 1870 is intended by the said Act to be the actual price for which the land, subject to all its burdens, and, among others, to the burden of the payment of land revenue, would sell in the market, it is necessary that the exact amount of the revenue demand should be ascertained and recorded before the award of compensation can be determined; and whereas, under the provisions of the existing law, the Revenue authorities, and none other, can regulate the amount of the revenue charge to be enforced against an estate, or a portion of an estate; and whereas some of the rules already promulgated under section 59 of the said Act proceed on assumptions which are at variance with the principle above enunciated, the following revised rules are issued by the Government of Bengal, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, in supersession of those previously in force:—

I.—Whenever any revenue-paying land shall be acquired under the Act, the proprietor shall, except as provided in Rule VI, be relieved of liability to pay revenue to the extent of the Government demand upon the said land, and such relief shall have effect from the date on which the Collector may take possession of the land on account of Government.

II.—In such cases the Collector shall, before making a tender or a reference to a Court regarding compensation, ascertain in accordance with the following rule, and record the amount of Government revenue which is to be taken as payable in respect of the acquired portion, and shall, in the event of a reference being made to a Court, furnish the Court, at the time of making the reference, with particulars of the amount of the share so ascertained and recorded.

III.—If the land to be acquired be an entire estate or tenure assessed with a specific amount of revenue, the whole of such amount shall be remitted.

IV.—If the land be not liable for a specific amount of revenue, but be a portion of an estate or tenure which is liable for a specific amount, the proportion of Government revenue to be deemed payable in respect of the land taken shall be ascertained under the following rules:—

1*st*—When an estate has, within twenty years next preceding the date of the commencement of proceedings for the acquisition of any land situate therein, been subjected to a detailed settlement, or has formed portion of an estate brought under division under Regulation XIX of 1814,* made after inquiry into and record of the assets of the estate, the Government revenue to be deemed payable in respect of the said land shall bear to the assets of the said land the same proportion as the Government revenue of the whole estate bears to the assets of the whole estate, as shown in the settlement or division proceedings.

* In the territories under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, this Act has been superseded by Act VIII (B.C.) of 1876.

2*nd*—When there may have been no such settlement or division as aforesaid, then, if the area of the estate is known with accuracy, the amount of Government revenue to be deemed payable in respect of the portion of the land taken shall bear to the Government revenue of the whole estate the same proportion as the area of the said portion bears to the area of the whole estate.

3*rd*—When the Government revenue deemed payable in respect of the land taken cannot be determined by either of the above rules, one-fourth of the net rent (i.e., the gross rental less a deduction of 10 per cent. for the expenses of collection) of the said land shall be taken to be the amount of Government revenue thereon chargeable.

V.—In determining the amount of compensation to be tendered, the Collector shall take into consideration the fact that the land acquired is subject to the burden of the payment of Government revenue.

VI.—In the event of the proprietor declining to accept an abatement of revenue, such circumstance shall not entitle him to any compensation over and above the amount tendered on the original basis of calculation. In cases, however, in which the area of the portion of land acquired does not exceed one-twentieth part of the area of the estate, it shall be competent to the Revenue authorities, if the proprietor of the estate so desire, to pay to the proprietor the computed value of the revenue deemed payable in respect of such portion, on the condition of his continuing to pay the revenue of the entire estate without abatement: provided that, in computing the value of the revenue so assigned, the basis of calculation shall not exceed the number of years' purchase, (if known), upon which the market-value of the proprietor's profits, i.e., the tender of compensation, has been determined. Thus, if the market-value of the said profits has been computed at 12 years' purchase, the capitalized value of the revenue deemed payable in respect of the portion of land acquired shall be calculated at not more than 12 years' purchase of the amount of revenue in question.

VII.—When there is any doubt whether the land to be acquired is part of a revenue-paying estate, or is revenue-free, the Collector shall, before making the reference to the Court, which, under the circumstances, he would be required to make by section 15 of the Act, determine the amount of revenue which would be deemed payable in respect of the land acquired, in the event of the land being adjudged by the Court to be a portion of the revenue-paying estate of which it is alleged to form a part.

VIII.—To enable the Collector to calculate accurately the additional compensation to be given under section 42 of the Act, and to enable him to keep up fully and clearly his registers of all lands occupied and the compensation paid for them, the Collector shall invariably record separately his finding under the first head of section 24 of the Act, which concerns the market-value of the land, and also the specific portion of the compensation which he may award for any houses, trees, or crops upon the land.

IX.—The procedure laid down for a reference under section 15 shall be held applicable to a reference under section 43.

X.—The procedure to be followed in the apportionment of the compensation awarded on account of lands taken up for temporary occupation shall be in accordance with the provisions of Part IV of the Act.

XI.—On the date on which payment of compensation in any case may become due under section 41 of the Act, the Collector shall tender the amount to such of the persons entitled to receive it as may be present at his office in person, or by agent duly authorised to receive the same, informing them at the same time that, in the event of their refusal to accept the amount tendered, no claim to interest will be entertained. Should any such person be absent and have no authorized agent at the Collector's Court, the Collector shall serve a notice upon him, calling upon him to attend in person or by agent, within one week of his receipt of the notice, to receive the amount due to him, and warning him that on failure to appear within the period above named, no interest whatever will be paid to him.

The Collector shall satisfy himself of the due service of the notice, and should endeavour, from time to time, to secure the presence of the parties to receive payment so as to avoid, as far as possible, payment into the treasury on deposit.

In the event of the payees not presenting themselves for payment within a year from the date of the award, the amounts due may be paid into the Treasury on revenue deposit and vouched for in the form prescribed by Rule 5 on page 80*a* of the Civil Account Code, Volume I, fourth edition. When the payees ultimately claim payment of sums placed on deposit, the amounts will be paid to them in the same manner as ordinary revenue deposits, under the authority of the Collector.
